DEATH CLAIMS FIGHTING BOB; KICKS FIVE DAYS

Chicago, Oct. 22.—Robert Fitzsimmons, former champion heavyweight pugilist of the world, died at a hospital here early to-day after an illness of five days of pneumonia.

The former champion was taken sick last Tuesday while appearing in a vaudeville theater and his illness was diagnosed as pneumonia. Later it was discovered that he was suffering from double pneumonia and physicians declared that he could not live. His remarkable vitality sustained him until Saturday, when he lapsed into unconsciousness, from which he did not rally except at rare intervals.

Fought Until Finish
Fitzsimmons, until he sank into his stupor, fought his ring career, but he had fought for victory in the ring. Physicians declared life was prolonged several days by the grim determination of the man.

Loses to Jeffries
For two years Fitzsimmons clung to the honor, losing it to James J. Jeffries when he was knocked out in the eleventh round, June 8, 1899, at Coney Island, N. Y. In 1902 he met Jeffries again, hoping to regain the crown, but after having the better of the California giant on points, Fitzsimmons went down to defeat in the eighth round.

Always Ready to Fight
Fitzsimmons continued at the forge for the next six or seven years, but was always ready to fight. After fighting three battles with Jim Hall, then regarded as the middleweight champion of Australia, Fitzsimmons came to America in 1896. He was one of the lightest men to win the heavyweight championship. He rarely weighed more than 165 pounds when in condition and gave away as much as fifty pounds to some opponents.

The shades of night were falling fast As through this roused up land there passed A youth who bore in sight of all A banner with this stirring call—"Go buy a Bond!"

THE SHIFTING TIDES
According to Al Munro Elias, the Demon and Spectacular Statistician, 59 ball players in the American League hit better through 1917 than a year before, while no less than 115 slumped away from their 1916 mark. In the National League there were 63 who improved and 61 who fell away.

ACADEMY WINS CLOSE ONTEST Show Superiority Over Lykens High; Visitors Score First; Moore Stars

Harrisburg Academy on Saturday defeated Lykens High to a tune of 13-7. Lykens put up a good fight and the game was not over till the whistle blew.

Second Half
Lykens again kicked off at the beginning of the second half. In a series of plays, Academy got the ball and took it down the field with end runs and a thirty-yard forward pass to Moore. Moore attempted to kick the goal and failed. Lykens was held to their ten-yard line and lost the ball on a fumble. In the last quarter in a series of end runs, Lykens' Wren scored the second touchdown for Academy. The goal was not kicked. The quarter finished with the ball in Lykens' possession on Lykens' thirty-yard line, Academy winning 13 to 7.

Speakers Start Trouble
Two of the Central players who cheered their teammates after good plays were taken into custody but later released. Local enthusiasts who attended the game as spectators criticized the actions of the Steelton police. The trouble, it is said, was started by Steelton spectators. It was said that those opposed to rowdiness to prevent trouble.

IMPERSONATED OFFICER
Impersonating an officer proed unfortunate Sunday evening to boys of the Tenth Infantry, New York. Benanger was brought to the Dauphin county jail by a constable from Tyrone. He had been hanging around Tyrone for some time, and was a commissioned officer. Investigation proved that instead of being an officer Benanger was a deserter.

WELLY'S CORNER

In spite of the big score on Saturday the game between Tech and Altoona High was interesting. As to the mountaineers it must be said they are the pickiest lot of players ever seen in Harrisburg. It is their first season in football and they will learn a few things that means better results next year.

That there was trouble at the game at Steelton Saturday is the truth. That the Steelton police overstepped their authority is also reported. When there is intense rivalry as exists between Steelton and Harrisburg in all sports, things that are not pleasant happen frequently. Steelton High won the game because of superiority over Central. The victory was not helped by the rowdiness of the Steelton crowd.
