COLORED MEN ARE ENROLLED IN SERVICE OF U. S.

Will Be Given Rousing Send-off Monday; Names of Those Who Go Nov. 2

One hundred and three colored men of Dauphin county will leave Harrisburg next Monday morning at 11.50 for Camp Meade. Ninety-seven men will represent the Steelton district, five the Paxtang district and one the Elizabethville district.

The men reported this morning at the headquarters of their respective boards and were formally enrolled under military service. They were granted leave of absence until Monday when they will leave. A big demonstration has been planned by various organizations of Harrisburg. A parade will be held in Harrisburg starting at 10.30 Monday morning.

The first division will be led by the Commonwealth band, the second by the Perseverance band. The Steelton band will lead the colored citizens of Steelton who plan to march. The first division will form on Second street with the right resting on North, the second division, on North, right on Third.

The route of parade will be: Third street to State, to Front, to Pine, to Third, to Walnut, to Front, to Market, to the Pennsylvania railroad station, where the men will entrain on the special train. The chief marshal of the parade will be Colonel James A. Atter.

At the Pennsylvania Station W. Justin Carter, the prominent colored lawyer of Harrisburg, will address the men. He will speak for the entire colored community of this vicinity.

Presents For Boys The Colored Ladies' Red Cross Society recently organized in Harrisburg, will be at the station and as the men entrain they will be given a package containing entablatures, cigars, cigarettes and tobacco. The colored Knights of Pythias Society will also present the boys with enough tobacco to last them until they reach camp.

Certified For Service The Paxtang exemption board today officially announced that enough men have been secured to send the required thirty per cent, to Camp Meade on November 2. The certified list of forty-one men was sent to the board by the district board this morning, and this number with the already secured men, makes a total well over sixty, the number necessary. The Paxtang board has not yet secured its full quota of 199 and next week will start examining 200 more men. The names of the young men certified for service to the Paxtang board are:

Rossi Claude, Swatara Station; John L. Ramsey, Pikestown; George E. Schurer, Hershey; Fleck P. Mixell, Linglestown; Joseph I. Meador, Harrisburg; Norman E. Hummelstown; Harry M. Odd Cents in Prices of Cigarets to Go, but Consumer Pays Tax

The one cent extra which many cigar dealers are charging for cigarettes is going to be done away with, because of emphatic objections by dealers and consumers expressed to manufacturers. As a result, within the next few weeks, according to a number of local dealers, new-style packages, containing a lesser number of cigarettes, will make their appearance on the shelves. They will sell at prices in multiples of five, as they did before the war revenue bill was passed.

The consumer, however, will not only pay the tax, but will pass over the counter a neat sum in addition. Brands which have been packed in lots of ten will be sent out in lots of eight. Those which have contained twenty cigarettes will be cut down to sixteen. This will allow the dealer to sell them at the pretax prices of 15, 20, 25 and other "even" figures.

The new arrangements, which the dealers say will affect the majority of good-selling brands, will be a hard blow to a large number of dealers who have advanced their prices beyond the requirements necessary to absorb the tax. Many of these have been charging as high as eighteen cents for fifteen-cent packages of ten cigarettes, whereas the tax, even on goods purchased singly, will be four-fifths of a cent on a package.

For twenty cigarettes the tax, at eighty cents a thousand, is only one and three-fifths cents a package and the dealers who raised their prices to eighteen cents absorbed the difference.

THE CAMERA TELLS THE TRUTH Will be sold at a figure much less than its value on attractive terms. Will consider exchange on smaller property. See the property if it appeals, sell lively. Talk it over with the owner, A. C. Young, or Miles Fosh, 27 North street.

Red Cross Nurse From Here Lands Safely in France, Cablegram Says

MISS FLORENCE A. MILLER A cablegram just received from Miss Florence A. Miller, Riverview, says that she arrived safely in France, Thursday, and will take up her work there soon. Miss Miller is the daughter of Isaac Miller, and is a graduate of the Presbyterian Hospital at Philadelphia.

She passed the Red Cross State Board examination and became a member of the National Red Cross in May, 1917. She entered her name on the Navy list, and on October 5, to become a member of the Presbyterian Hospital unit of the Red Cross hospital, but she was unable to become identified with this unit. She immediately made application to become a member of the Methodist Hospital unit and was accepted. Miss Miller sailed for France, October 15.

"Melting Pot" Will Receive Jewels For Work of Red Cross The plan used by Mrs. Woodrow Wilson in raising funds for the American Red Cross, will be adopted by the local work, beginning with Monday morning. A copper "Melting Pot" will be placed on a tripod, and will be displayed in the big window at Red Cross headquarters, old gold, platinum, silver, and fillings from gold teeth, which are of no use to their owners, will be welcomed by the workers. The melting pot will be filled with these and under the personal supervision of jeweler, E. G. Hoover, they will be melted and disposed of the proceeds to be given to the local chapter.

Articles, such as candleabra and antiques, which can be polished will be cleaned and sold as souvenirs. Tinfoil from packets of cigarettes and chewing gum is being gathered by children, as well as men and women, and this will be sold to raise funds for the association.

The melting pot was first used by Mrs. Woodrow Wilson in her jewelry store at Washington, D. C. Since that time, this novel idea has been used in many cities throughout the entire country.

Shippings Lead List With Maximum Gain of 6 Points; Steels, Coppers and Related Equipment on Upward Swing

New York, Oct. 27.—(Wall Street)—Trading in stocks during today's short session was attended by many substantial advances. Shippings led the entire list, Marine preferred gaining over six points. Prominent railroads rose 1 to 2 points, steels, coppers and related equipments 1 to 3, and oils and stibars about as much. The few weak issues included Brooklyn Transit, which dropped 2 1/2 points to the new minimum of 50 1/2 and Pittsburgh, Cincinnati, Chicago and St. Louis which lost 7 1/2 points on a single sale.

The closing was strong. Sales approximated 250,000 shares. Liberty Bonds were firm at 99.92 to 99.94.

MORE YOUNG MEN RALLY TO COLORS

Record as Recruiting Center Is Growing With Each Report

Harrisburg's record as a recruiting center is gaining with each report from the War Department. While official figures are unobtainable, this district recruited over one-third of the entire number of recruits in Pennsylvania. This state has recruited more than any other state in the Union. New York state is second, 1,015 behind Pennsylvania. Since last June there has been 940 young men signed for service at the local recruiting station. This includes all of the Harrisburg district.

The figures for Harrisburg are still unofficial, although the number of enlistments is known to be well over 300. This remarkable record is due to the excellent work on the part of the local recruiting officers. Lieutenant Robert W. Leshar, who is now in charge of the station, is very much elated over the success that has been made and is working hard to free the city of Harrisburg from the second draft.

Yesterday thirty-two young men enlisted at the local station. This is the smallest total of any day during the week. However as the local officers lent their aid to the successful Liberty Bond campaign during this week, the total enlistments are gratifying. The young men from Harrisburg and vicinity who enlisted yesterday are as follows: Robert C. Murphy, 2100 State street, Aviation section; Jesse S. St. Clair, 3040 North Fourth street, Medical Department; Max B. Herman, Harrisburg, Medical Department; Page Gillis, Spenser White and Belton A. Coleman, Arthur E. Snapp, Steelton; Julius Miller, James Mason and Charles Robinson, Harrisburg; Strothen Crystal, Steelton, all stevedores; Cameron K. McCormack, 2346 North Sixth street, Twenty-fifth Engineer Regiment.

J. Richard Hancock, the postmaster at Williamstown, who recently returned a check to the local recruiting station stating that he did not wish to be paid for his work as a recruiter, was obliged to accept the check, but has turned it over to the entertainment committee to boost Liberty Bonds.

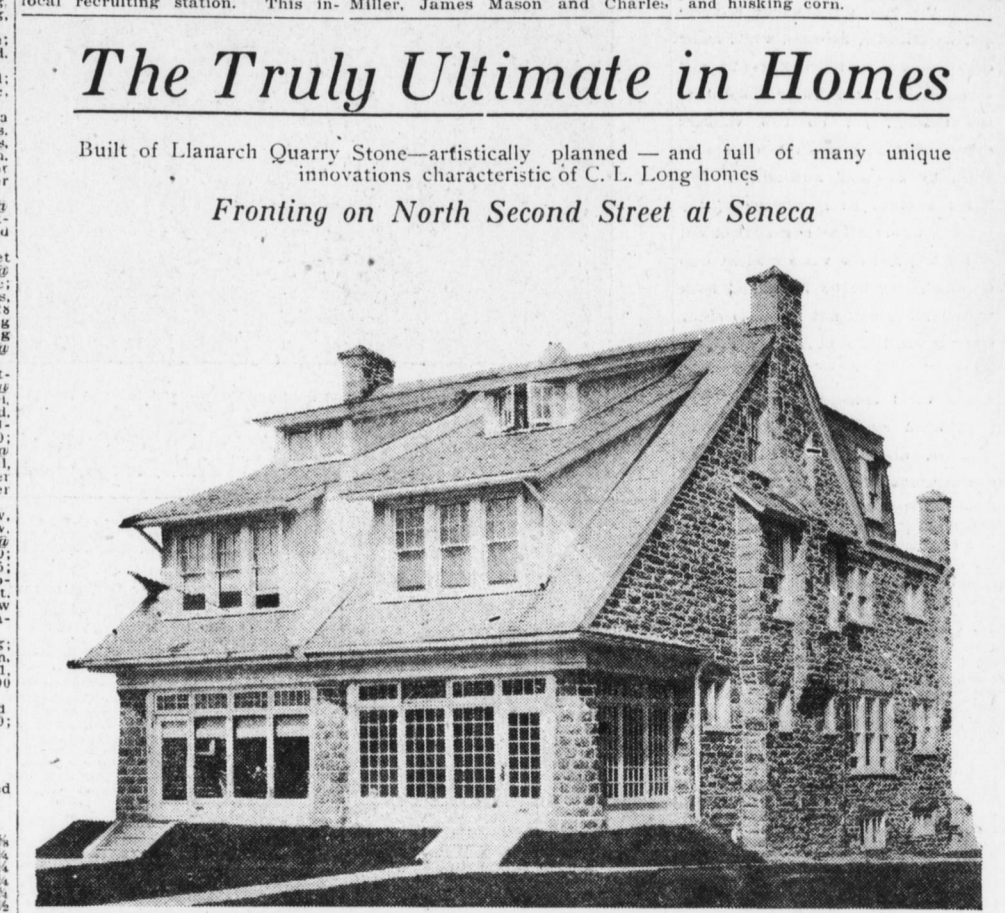

Octogenarian Is Doing His Bit in Cornfield

Lebanon, Oct. 27.—Rudolph Saunders, a Fontana farmer although an ardent hunter, believes that in these war times he can better do his bit toward helping the United States triumph over Germany by sticking to his corn husking, consequently at the age of 80 years he continues daily in the cold cutting, shocking and husking corn.

Kline and Gray, Builders

Madame Schumann-Heink, who gave one of her matchless concerts in this city last night, set an example for persons who have been lax in contributing to our Smoke For Soldiers Fund.

While filling engagements in the east last month, the great contralto received a telegram asking her to come to San Francisco and sing at a benefit for the Soldiers' Tobacco Fund. Accepting the invitation, Mme. Schumann-Heink journeyed clear across the continent to give her services to a cause which is near her heart. The concert was a great success. Forgetting herself, as always, in the service of others, Mme. Schumann-Heink not only sang many of her favorite selections, but raised hundreds of dollars by offering at auction autographed souvenirs.

More than $5,000 was realized as the results of the famous singer's efforts—enough, it is estimated, to supply 20,000 men with tobacco for one week.

Mme. Schumann-Heink has four sons in the service of the United States—and one on the "other side." She realizes as do few persons in this country the imperative necessity for the cooling, soothing influence of tobacco during the days and nights of nameless suspense in the narrow confines of a shell-swept trench. The soldiers have many needs, but none, perhaps, is more pressing than the need of tobacco. Hundreds of Harrisburg people should profit by the example of Mme. Schumann-Heink. One dollar will supply four American boys with tobacco for a week. It is doubtful if a dollar could be invested to better advantage. Many persons who do not approve of smoking have realized that the conditions in France make this plea one of first importance, and have heartily endorsed the project.

In each package of tobacco sent to the boys in France goes a postal card, stamped and addressed to yourself. For every packet you send through the Telegram you will receive a personal message from the boy himself. Surely, this investment deserves the hearty approval of Harrisburg people. Send your contribution to The Telegram. All amounts will be acknowledged. Previously acknowledged: $362.93. RE: K. Thomas, 1.00. Employes No. 2 Mill, Central Iron and Steel Co., 4.00. B. C.
