PLAN ANOTHER CONFERENCE ON ASH TROUBLES

Commissioner Dunkle Wants Joint Session of Council and Health Bureau

The city commissioners and health officers are planning to hold another joint session to consider, discuss and debate the ash and garbage collection troubles in Harrisburg.

A regular meeting of the health bureau has been called for Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Commissioners Samuel F. Dunkle, who is planning for the joint session of a conference to decide on what action Council will take, will probably arrange to have the commissioners meet at that time also.

The collection situation in the city is practically the same as earlier in the week. While the Pennsylvania Reduction Company has been notified that the city has called on the bonding company to go on with the contract and get results from the collection firm, no word has been received from the surety company.

The conference on Monday will be for the purpose of reaching a decision as to what action Council can and will take to get collections of ashes and garbage.

If the bonding company agrees to go on with the contract or compel the reduction company to do the work as required, there may not be any need for the services of the city Health Officers. Councilmen Dunkle, preparing for any emergency, has decided it is best to have the contract made at once to bring results.

POLITICS LOOM UP ON HORIZON

Last Week of Campaign; Republicans Confident; Mayoralty Fight Still

The close of the Liberty Loan drive to-day will give more time for politics during the closing week of the campaign. Never has there been such a quiet contest. The thoughts of the people have been so occupied with war work of various sorts that the more or less purely local candidates have had small part in the consideration of the voters.

With respect to the county ticket, there is absolutely no question. The Republicans will win out all along the line by tremendous majorities. Indeed the indications are, if the vote is not returned to the county, the Republicans will win out in years. The Democrats have been making perfunctory efforts to arouse sentiment in the rural districts, but no meetings of Republican workers have been held. This for two reasons—in the first place the farmers are so busy reaping the crop that they have had little time for evening spent at political rallies. In the second place, the county ticket is so strong in such high favor that there is no reason why they need further "boosting" at the hands of spellbinders.

SWISS WATCH MISSEMER FAMILY EIGHT GENERATIONS

Famous Old Timepiece, Brought to America in 1738, Now In Possession of Harrisburg Boy; Presented by Grandfather

Mount Joy, Pa., Oct. 27.—John Michael Missemmer when he came to America in 1738 brought with him a Swiss watch, which is now and has been for more than sixty years in possession of his great-great-great-grandson, J. H. Missemmer, having been handed down from generation to generation for a period of one hundred and eighty years. The watch must be nearly two hundred years old and is yet in good running order.

In 1854 the watch, which had been a heirloom in the Missemmer family so many generations, was the property of J. R. Missemmer's grand-father, Jacob S. Missemmer, the founder of the well-known Missemmer Mills, and when his personal effects were sold the watch was purchased by Mrs. Anna Missemmer Brandt, of Elizabethtown. At that time she presented it to her son, John Michael Missemmer, who then was only 3 years old, for the purpose of continuing the old timepiece in the Missemmer name.

With the same purpose in view, J. R. Missemmer lately presented the historic old watch to his grandson, George H. Missemmer, of Harrisburg, who has the name of the former original owner, George H. Missemmer, the father of J. R. Missemmer.

The boom in shipbuilding along the Delaware and the consequent activity in the various industries of the state which will contribute to the up-building of America are reflected in the demands made in the last few weeks upon the State Bureau of Employment for men. For months the bureau, which is now operating in conjunction with the State Committee of Public Safety a series of zones for listing of persons seeking work or those available for military service, has been subjected to heavy calls from the iron and steel industries of Allegheny, Cambria, Chester, Delaware, Fort St. Vrain, Lehigh, Berks, Dauphin and other counties which have turned the tide of Pennsylvania metal production to war business.

AMERICA TAKES ITS PLACE ON FRONT

Americans Adapting Selves to Work in Satisfactory Manner

With the American Army in France, Oct. 27.—Following is the first official statement issued from the American headquarters: "In continuation of their training in the operation of passenger elevators, in restaurants and in other work for which they are qualified, the men of the 1st Central Postal Directory are constantly on file at the bureau, even for inexperienced men to work temporarily in the various manufacturing plants and supply, clothing, shoe and similar plants. The bulletin of the Department makes a plea for such workers and also for women, saying regarding the employment of women: "Women are being attracted in greater numbers to the textile mills to take the places of men who have left for war or for military or other duties in the production field. Employment of women in offices is increasing and women are also being employed in most of the war plants in the operation of passenger elevators, in restaurants and in other work for which they are qualified. "Security of capable French battalions, are in the first line trenches of a quiet sector on the French front. They are supported by some batteries of French artillery, in association with veteran French batteries. The section remains normal. Our men are certain that they are to actual trench conditions in the most satisfactory manner."

Major Groome Goes Into Regular Army

A commission as a lieutenant-colonel in the Regular United States Army was received yesterday by Major Groome, superintendent and organizer of the State Police, left Philadelphia immediately for Washington, where he will open an intelligence office of the Signal Corps, to which he has been assigned. He could say nothing of his new duties except that he will have charge of the intelligence bureau. Colonel Groome will be given leave of absence by the Governor under the act of 1917, and the office filled temporarily by executive order. Recognition of the fitness of Colonel Groome by the War Department of Theodore Roosevelt. When Colonel Roosevelt was placed in the Signal Division to go to France, he named Groome as one he would appoint lieutenant-colonel in the Regular Army. Colonel Groome has been active in military affairs since 1882, when he joined the 1st Cavalry at Fort Mifflin, Pa., as a private. He rose rapidly from the ranks, and in 1886 was chosen captain for the year later he was re-elected for two additional terms. In the Spanish-American war he was promoted to lieutenant-colonel in the United States service as a captain and served in Porto Rico. The 1st Cavalry was placed on the retired list of the organization with the rank of lieutenant-colonel. Governor Pennypacker appointed him, in 1905, superintendent of the State Police, a post he still holds. It is likely that Governor Brumbaugh will grant him a furlough from the office for the duration of the war.

Major Groome Goes Into Regular Army

Every American taken by the hand, some were hugged and even kissed on both cheeks in the French custom. Some of the French troops were taken by the hand and some by the Americans. The trenches were found to be muddy, but nevertheless in a condition of excellent construction. Greetings being over the Americans settled down and a daylight, under long hung dripping clouds, they got their first view of the German lines stretching away in the rolling terrain.

Trench Work Preparatory to Opening of Main Drive, Is Unofficial Opinion

Washington, Oct. 27.—Announcement from General Pershing's headquarters that American troops were in the front-line trenches in France marks the beginning of the culminating phase of the training of the American war army. Neither Secretary Baker nor any War Department official would comment on the move from abroad. It was plainly indicated, however, that the movement was regarded simply as the final course in instruction and not the real initiation of participation by the United States troops in the war.

LIGHTS WENT AWAY TROUBLE HUNT

One Bad Lamp Puts Whole System Out of Commission at Mount Wolf

CHURCH CHOIR CONCERT

Enjoyable Program Includes 'The Earth Is the Lord's' and 'My God and King'

Mount Wolf, Pa., Oct. 27.—The borough electric lighting system, which had been knocked out of service Monday and Tuesday evenings, has been placed in use again. It required considerable "trouble hunting" before the cause was found. After going over the lines, the linemen discovered that one of the lights had been burned out, leaving the circuit open. The burner on the light which automatically closes the circuit when a light burns out failed to work on this occasion. Unless the burner were replaced, the light is located, there is nothing left for the linemen to do but to make a search of the entire system until the cause is found.—The choir of St. John's Lutheran Church gave a pleasing concert before a large audience in the church edifice under the direction of Prof. W. Whistler. There were choruses as well as solos, readings, duets and quartet selections. Each was rendered in a pleasing manner, and the program was enjoyed by the audience.

The program was rendered by the choir, entitled, "The Earth Is the Lord's" and "My God and King." The speaker was the Rev. W. H. Whistler, G. A. Livingston; solo, Mrs. Park Wogan; reading, Mrs. J. E. Whistler; solo, Mrs. John Kinnipors; reading, Mrs. J. E. Whistler; trio, Misses Neita, Anna and Mary Arnold, a solo by Mrs. Livingston. Interspersed with the above were several choruses, duets and quartet selections. The affair was for the benefit of the Rev. Mr. Gohn, pastor of the York Haven charge of the United Brethren Church, who was the speaker on Sunday evening at the United Brethren Church, where Woman's program of the week was rendered. One of these was the "Mite Box Convention," by Florence Rodes, Adelaide Zuse, Gladys Knab, Mrs. Sarah Dietz, Mrs. Gladfield, Zuse and Earl Kauffman, a duet by Miriam Bailey and Mayme Wright.—Miss Ruth Prowell, who has been suffering from an attack of typhoid fever at the Polk Hospital at York, is reported to be improving.—The Rev. W. H. Kettering, of York, was a guest at the home of Mrs. J. E. Whistler, of Williams.—Five thousand pennies were shipped by express to the Corn Exchange Bank, at New York, during the week.
