

GO-TO-SUNDAY-SCHOOL DAY TO BE OBSERVED

TRAINING CLASS FOR YOUNG MEN

Pine Street Presbyterian Church Plans for Bible Study

The regular services will be held in the Pine Street Presbyterian church to-morrow. The pastor, the Rev. Lewis S. Mudge, will speak in the morning on the subject, "Warnings From Germany," bringing out the contrast between the Germany of Luther's time and the Germany of today presenting such lessons as will enable one to see our position as a nation and as individuals.

The subject for the evening service will be "The Huguenots." This is the third sermon in the current series of patriotic sermons on "Our God in Our History."

Fall and winter activities for the women and girls and the men and boys are in full swing. Sewing, cooking, knitting, Red Cross and gymnasium classes have been organized and are making splendid progress.

Several new courses have been introduced for the men and boys of the church. A teacher training course will be held for the men and boys in turn take the younger boys through graded courses of Bible study. Also courses are open for employed boys. Forty-five men and boys over eighteen, listened Friday evening to the first of eight lectures on the Book of Revelation by William D. B. Aimey.

The Sunday School Bowling Tournament will begin Tuesday evening, Nov. 6, between the Bethany team and the Mrs. Helen Boyd Dull Club.

SUNDAY SCHOOLS TO OBSERVE DAY

City Churches to Take Part Jointly with Twenty-five States

November 4 is "Go-to-Sunday-School" Day. Twenty-five states have agreed on this date. It was announced at the twenty-fifth annual convention of the Philadelphia County Sunday School Association, which met last Thursday and Friday at six churches in the northern part of Philadelphia.

Sunday schools of all denominations are urged to observe this day. The aim is not to pad the rolls temporarily, but to extend so warm a welcome to the casual visitor so he will want to enroll and attend regularly.

The campaign for this state is being waged from headquarters of the Pennsylvania Sabbath School Association, 1511 Arch street, Philadelphia. Posters and other advertising matter are distributed free of charge to all who will aid.

H. J. Heinz, of Pittsburgh, is president of the organization, and John Wanamaker is chairman of the board of directors. Other officers are: H. E. Paisley, treasurer, and W. G. Lewis, general secretary.

Kentucky Began It

The movement was born in Kentucky and first adopted by the association of that state. Since then it has been endorsed by the International Sunday School Association. It is now a nation-wide movement.

The goal for this year is two million men, women and children at Sabbath school next Sunday. Pledges are being signed at many of the schools and missionary work undertaken. Special programs have been arranged, and in some cases the afternoon session will begin at 2 o'clock, instead of 2:30, the regular time.

Preparations are being made to accommodate the extra visitors who are expected. Hand-shaking committees are being appointed. Some schools will be festooned with flowers, palms, flags and other decorations. Plans for follow-up work to conserve the results are under way by teachers and officers in the Sunday schools.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVORS DO THEIR BIT FOR WAR CAUSE

Many Endeavors did their share when they enlisted in the great army of Production and Economy, at the beginning of the planting of crops season, which the President, the governors of many states and many other officials urged upon the people of this nation at that time. That the call of the President of the United States and also of Dr. Francis E. Clark, president of the United Society of Christian Endeavor, to the citizens of this country to cultivate backyard gardens has been heeded there can be no doubt.

In the city of Grand Rapids, Mich., where George Veilman, first vice-president, first district, Michigan C. E. Union, resides, he says, "such an abundance of garden truck has been raised within the city limits that Christian Endeavor leaders have been forced out of business. On the bank next to the sidewalk, in one of the gardens, the gardeners are busy. He is the make the words, 'STAND BY THE PRESIDENT.' To give meaning to these words, he has raised a crop of potatoes, which promises to provide the winter's supply for a large family."

C. E. Notes

The Rev. A. D. Gramley, corresponding secretary of the York County Christian Endeavor Union and president of the Keystone League of C. E. Union, is one of the popular workers in Endeavor work of Central Pennsylvania. He is the successful pastor of Christ United Evangelical Church, of York, and is a well-known platform speaker at conventions and rallies. Two of his interesting addresses recently delivered are on the subjects, "The C. E.—Its Advantages and Possibilities," and "On Some Things About the Bible," which are always interesting.

C. E. Monthly Service Themes for the month of November are suggested for rallies or study classes as follows: "Flying Squadron," "Graded Christian Endeavor (Junior, Intermediate, Young People's, Senior or Alumni)." Christ Lutheran Society will observe consecration service in the C. E. meeting to-morrow evening. John Reichter will have charge of the service. Special music will be rendered. The attendance during the fall meetings has been encouraging.

Lebanon County C. E. Union is planning for a rousing annual convention to be held Thursday, November 22. The Rev. A. D. Gramley, will be one of the principal speakers.

At St. Matthew's Lutheran Church Samuel Poet will have charge of the meeting to-morrow evening. Endeavors will study the topic, "Perseverance," to-morrow evening throughout the C. E. movement.

The greatest event in the Lehigh County and Allentown C. E. Unions will be the annual convention, to be held November 13 and 14, in St. Paul's Lutheran Church, Allentown. Amos R. Wells, Litt. D., one of the biggest men in Christian Endeavor in the country, will be the principal speaker for the opening evening.

Mrs. C. R. Bartley and Miss Ruth Orner will make the program interesting at the Park Street United Evangelical meeting to-morrow evening.

Mrs. C. R. Bartley and Miss Ruth Orner will make the program interesting at the Park Street United Evangelical meeting to-morrow evening.

Springfield, Mo., people have given 475 copies of the New Testament to soldiers, through the Christian Endeavor Union.

"Willston Hymns," a new, up-to-date song-book for Young People's Societies, was compiled by Homer Redeaver, the world's most noted church leader, connected with the "Billy" Sunday evangelistic campaign, and A. J. Sharitz, treasurer and publication manager of the United Society of C. E.

Miss Annie Hoover will have charge of the Trinity United Brethren Society, New Cumberland, Endeavor services to-morrow evening.

All Endeavors who have been competing for the prizes offered in the spring for vegetables, fruit or produce should send in their returns as early in November as possible to the United Society of C. E., Boston.

Miss Mary Freed will have charge of the services at Otterbein United Brethren Society to-morrow evening.

At Market Square Presbyterian Society Miss Frances Hause will conduct the consecration service to-morrow evening.

The Second Reformed Society is holding interesting meetings on Sunday evening. Howard Selsam will have charge of the services to-morrow evening.

William Esser will have charge of the meeting to-morrow evening at the Zion Evangelical Lutheran Church, Enola.

At St. Paul's Lutheran Church, New Cumberland, the Christian Endeavor services will be in charge of William Baum.

CHURCH OF THE BROTHERS Hummel Street—The Rev. William K. Conner, 11, "Let a Man Examine Himself," 7:30, "The Love Feast," Sunday school, 9:45.

PATRIOTIC RALLY ENDS CONVENTION

Woman's Home Missionary Society Adjourns After Two-Day Session

One hundred and fifty girls in a patriotic mission play featured the concluding session of the Women's Home Missionary Society in Stevens Memorial Methodist Church last evening. Singing, as usual, preceded the "Queen Esther Forward Song," the girls entered the main auditorium and marched to the front of the church, dressed in the patriotic garb. Williamsport, and Mrs. Emerson Karns, Renovo, sang a duet, "Long Live Old Glory." The church was darkened for a moment and when the lights were flashed on again Mrs. Steven Bowers 1952 Bellevue Road, was standing in the midst of the girls, dressed in the patriotic garb of America. American flags were waved while a little tot led the audience in singing "America."

Miss Louise Hunt, York, conducted the evening prayers. Mrs. Ralph Boswell, 30 North Seventeenth street, presided at the evening session, and Dr. George Barger delivered the principal address. She told many pathetic, appealing stories of mission work.

Officers elected before adjournment follow: Mrs. W. Lee Woodcock of Hollidaysburg, president; Mrs. John W. Finton, recording secretary; Mrs. Sara Richardson, Harrisburg, treasurer; Mrs. Byron M. Hadden of Jersey Shore, corresponding secretary; vice-presidents—First, Mrs. J. E. Turner, Williamsport; second, Mrs. J. E.
