TWELVE LOST WHEN BOAT FOUNDERS

James C. Flow, Mathews, Mecklenburg county, N. C. Andrew F. Meiser, gunner's mate, mother, Mrs. Anna Klose, 57 Columbia street, Wilkes-Barre, Pa. Walter H. Fischer, coxswain, father, Henry F. Fischer, Chicago. Clarence L. Jones, seaman, mother, Mrs. Aura F. Jones, Bucksport, Maine. Ednaud L. Tamillo, coxswain, mother, Mrs. Bessie Tamillo, Chicago. George M. Hildmarch, Jr., seaman, national naval volunteer. (No detailed information regarding enlistment.)

A violent storm had swept the coast where the accident occurred on the day previous to the finding of Tamillo's body. It is believed by the fishermen that Tamillo when his boat foundered had endeavored to save himself and may have swam some distance when he found the net. His hands were tightly clasped around the lines of the net as if in a death grip, and it was necessary to cut the ropes to untangle the body and loosen the hands of the drowned man.

ROSS A. HICKOK TO ADMINISTER FUEL

Future supplies will be carefully calculated in an effort to regulate the supply of the commodity to the dealers and the individual customers. The appointment of the fuel administrator is said to come at an opportune time, as the dealers had already announced their inability to fully cope with the coal situation in view of the approaching great demand for coal. Some of the yards in the city are practically empty and the dealers have stated their inability to get more coal. The fuel administrator, it is thought, will prevent the hoarding of coal by consumers.

Temperance Service For Park Street Sunday School Sunday being World's Temperance Sunday in the Sunday schools of the world, the regular session of Park Street United Evangelical Sunday School at 9.30 Sunday morning will be followed immediately by a meeting of the whole school in the church auditorium, when the "Lincoln-Lee pledge signing service will be held, with an interesting program of temperance recitations and songs. The pledge every member of the school takes is the same as the one Abraham Lincoln, before he was president, drew up for the lad Silas Breckenridge to sign. It is known that General Lee was also a strong temperance man and for this reason the pledge bears his name as well as that of Lincoln. Every member of the Sunday school and church has received an urgent printed notice to be present to-morrow on Every-Member-Present Sunday. At 7.30 o'clock the pastor will preach on "When Jesus Called a Man a Fool."

Harrisburg Man Tells Red Cross of Real Need in Camps

"I have just come from a three-day trip to Augusta, Ga., and the Pennsylvania boys at Camp Hancock. I spoke to a number of Harrisburg boys and found them well satisfied and well taken care of, with one exception. They are all happy, but hungry for the sight of THE Harrisburg newspaper and one of them said he would swap his wrist watch for a Telegraph."—From a letter to the Local Red Cross by a Harrisburg man just back from the training camps. Your soldier friend wants your letters, "goodies" and "smokes," your knit sweaters, gloves and comfort kits—he needs them all. But, most of all, he wants the news from home. He wants to know of the weddings, parties, births, deaths, accidents, improvements, political developments and all those other thousand-and-one things that go to make up the Day's News. Your letters tell him some of these, and surely he enjoys your brief sketches of home life as he reads them in some far-away training camp or European trench—but not all. Only his favorite daily newspaper can do that. So, why not mail to your boy or friend the Telegraph every day? You may do so at the very special rate to soldiers only of one dollar for a full three-month subscription. Forward to the Circulation Department the name, company and regiment, and he'll get the Telegraph—the paper he wants—regularly.

An Object Lesson

The plates are the first parts of your battery to be affected by abuse or negligence. Starving and lack of water hardens them, overheating buckles them. In either case, the battery is ultimately made inefficient, or even useless—ruined. Of course any battery will wear out in time, but 90% of all battery troubles might have been avoided by regular care, or prompt attention when the first symptoms of trouble appeared. Keep in touch with us and you'll be dollars ahead—the good money you're spending on avoidable repairs, the price of a new battery even—for regular care means longer battery life.
