We love thy charming walks and rills, Thy shaded woods and templed hills, While balmy breezes fill the air With accents loud our voices raise. In summer, winter, spring and fall, The young and old both hear thy call. And countless throngs with measured tread Proclaim thy joys where they are led.

Then why not come and join our throng With rapture free sing Bellevue's song. For living here with those we love Remind us of that home above. Oh, Bellevue Park, dear Bellevue Park, We love you true with all our heart. With accents loud our voices raise To laud thy charms and sing thy praise.

HARRISBURG BOY COVETS TOBACCO AT THE FRONT

B. Franklin Etter Writes That Smokes Are Most Acceptable Gifts

If you fellows who can get all the tobacco you want, think tobacco is not appreciated by the boys "over there," just read this extract from a letter from B. Franklin Etter, of this city, who is doing more than his bit in the Ambulance Corps in France.

"I certainly do appreciate the sending of that most coveted article, tobacco, over here. I can't begin to tell you the various foreign substances included in the French brand which go to make up tobacco here, but it is sufficient to say that tobacco is one of the most acceptable gifts one can send over here."

Mr. Etter also says in his letter: "Our service has just been taken over by the American government, and now I am a private in the United States Army and am here to the end of the war."

His letter is dated October 8, and he adds: "Since the 1st of October it has been almost freezing cold and we are all huddled around one small stove, in one end of a half-demolished barn, trying to keep warm."
