Isacon, a third class officer of Co I, U. S. Naval Reserve Force, Quartermasters' Division, written from the Henry Ford Barn, Camp Wissahickon, Cape May, N. J. This, written to his sister, tells every-one on the face of it that no matter what comes, the American soldier will take it cheerfully and that dowp-hearteeiness has no part in his pres-ent life. "Dear 'Sal:" "Jupiter Pluvius reigns supreme this evening. If it keeps up much longer I will be forced to cry: "My kingdom for a boat.' I guess I would get a dandy looking boat for the kingdom I own—a soapbox telling of war conditions and the sersuperior wearing qualities. They keep their shape and last longer. Misses' Suits With the high waist line tenden-cies in plum, cuban, brown, pekin blue, reindeer and taupe, $35.00, $37.50 to $42.50 Misses' Coats kingdom for a boat.' I guess I would get a dandy looking boat for the kingdom I own—a soaphox would probably be more like it and it would be a poor trade at that. "Tell mother that her oranges were great. They certainly are sweet and juley. The soap is good, too. I ate the cake of Ivory lash night but am keeping the cake of Dalm Olive for a real big feed. Wouldn't that make you foam at the mouth? 'Alas, poor Yorick, I knew him well.' I am afraid that eating the soap made me 'lye.' 'Don't whip that horse.' "A happy idea just struck me—I won't need a boat since I ate the lyory soap—'it floats.' 'Are you ready, Gridley?' I shouldn't have eaten it, though. Soap never agrees with me and i'll taste it for days afterward. I always do. 'Free that man, officer." With the loose lines and high waist-brown, green, taupe, pekin, reindeer, etc., $24.50, $27.50 to $49.75 High Grade Suits In the new shorter coat lengthsplain and handsomely trimmed with fur — in velour, silvertones, and Jean Hummel: "Humoreske," Dvorak, duet, Dorothy LeFour and Miss Hummel: "Sweet Carnation," Lange," Dancing on the Lawn," Reed, duet, Ruth and Irene Arney: "Spring Time," Streabbog, duet, Grace Snyder and Miss Hummel: "Flower Dance," "Chapel in the For-est," Jungman, duet, Louise and De-Witt Balthaser; trombone solo, se-lected, DeWitt Balthaser; "Le Se-cret," Cantier, duet, Earl Grunden and Miss Hummel. velvets. $45.00, $55.00 to $72.50 High Grade Coats With choice fur collar, cuffs and border in plum, pekin, afterward. I always do. Free that man, officer.' "I am awaiting your cake with ex-pectation. I hope the sugar famine will soon be alleviated so that my period of waiting may be abbre-viated. You know full well, sister mine, the susceptibility of my indi-viduality, to gratuities such as your cakes. So please strive to ameliorate, try to abbreviate, haste to alleviate my hunger for cake. I could eat at least dicotilidinously. "I am overcome with the force of my varied feelings. With a parting admonition about your gratuition I bring to your perception the fear-some apparition of my cakeless con-dition, so I close this edition with this fond admission. "GEORGE A. Rugs That Harmonize The BLAKE SHOP is pastmaster

in aiding in the selection of carpets and rugs that harmonize with the color scheme and purpose of a room. The floor coverings carried by the BLAKE SHOP are marvelous in their replica of Oriental patterns.

Original American thought also is expressed in many of the designs.

The first meeting of the season of the Commonweal Club of the Y. W. C. A., which is composed of business girls of the city, was held last even-ing in the John Y. Boyd hall of the association. In the absence of the president, Miss Cella Hinkley, the secretary, Miss Ella Yost, introduced the speaker of the evening, Miss Lil-linan Fitzsimons, who spoke of some of the paintings in the Capitol of Ed-win Austin Abbey and Miss Violet Oakley. Interesting reproductions of various paintings were displayed. The clubs will hold a monthly meet-ing. GHBEIT-SHMUKLER BRIDATI Rabbi L. J.
