The first time you go up against the stock market, ten to one you'll be lucky. You will probably be taking a flyer in "Phonies Consolidated" on the strength of an uterly worthless tip; but that makes no difference. If necessary a miracle will be performed in order to give that stock a boost.

This phenomenon is one of the strongest arguments for the existence of a personal devil. So invariable a feature is it of any game you may choose to play, that it hardly seems possible Satan is not thus striving to lure the unsophisticated and innocent into his net.

Learn to Play as Hard as You Work.

We must have observed, too, that many people have an entire misapprehension of what the word "work" means. They go at their self-appointed task feverishly, intemperately, and exhaust themselves before they are half through.

Thewhole trick of the thing lies in the conservation of effort rather than in its expenditure. It's getting the last ounce out of yourself, but stopping before you're tired, and so training yourself that you can then forget the work and the worries and play as wholeheartedly as you have toiled.

lorget the work and the worries and play as wholeheartedly as you have toiled.

The periods of reaction and discouragement are the turning points in the life of every worker. They are the supreme tests of our faith and our fitnsess—of our faith in ourselves and the future and of our fitness for promotion.

We succeed on the strength we have acquired during our barren years. They form the line of demarcation between the dilettante and the worker, the amateur and the professional.

In them lies much of the romance of history. Cromwell stood with Hampden gazing at the little craft moored in the Thames which was to bear them to America. His struggle with the king was over; he was baffled and defeated. But the iron which that struggle had developed in him could not so weakly yield. At the last moment he turned back, "I will have one more grapple with the man, Charles Stuart."

So them two turned together; one to die, Fighting for freedom on the bloody field;
The other, far more happy, to become

DESIGNED WITH TASTE AND DIGNITY.

For the busy woman who has not many moments to devote to the adjustment of her frocks, these simple models are especially appropriate. To the left is a jersey cloth in artillery gray. The skirt is gathered and attached to the waist under a suede belt. The notched collar is of dark green panne velvet, but cuffs are of self-material. In medium size the model requires 6 yards 44-inch jersey with 3/8 yard velvet.

Two shades of any one color or two contrasting tones in different materials may be utilized in the development of the second model. The dress closes in front and the sleeveless outer waist has a plait at the center-back. The skirt is lengthened by a straight one-piece flounce and trimmed with a two-piece gathered tunic. Medium size requires 4½ yards 36-inch cashmere, with 1 yard 36-inch material for the flounce and 2½ yards lining for upper part of foundation skirt.

CELEBRATION Starts Wednesday Morning at 9 O'clock

To-morrow (Wednesday) morning, at 9 o'clock our door swings open for our Second Anniversary Celebration. To say that we are proud of our achievement is putting it mildly. When Robinson's Woman Shop was first opened, our competitors gave us but a short time to last, in fact one went so far as to remark, "Another store for me to buy out." To-day it is a different story. Robinson's Woman Shop stands alone in its methods of doing business. Truth always in advertising, honest values, no job lots, no seconds, no surplus stocks, no goods for sale purposes, no trumpt up sales, no sales for every day in the year, no charge for alterations, refunding money at all times without any red tape, always serving you and never urging you.

What has been the result, to-day Robinson's Woman Shop without boasting or bragging is the fastest-growing woman's ready-to-wear store in Harrisburg.

While it is true we are not adding any more space to our present location, it is but another example why, when making your purchases at Robinson's Woman Shop, it means big savings for you, as the foundation has been laid to avoid every unnecessary expense, which enables us to mark all stocks at a close margin of profit and you become the gainer. Hundreds upon hundreds of economical buyers have formed the habit of trading with us, and they in turn have spread the news to their friends and the result is that to-day Robinson's Woman Shop is the most talked of shop in Harrisburg.

Prompted by our success our competitors have become alarmed and are making every effort to learn our system of doing business, such as calling us on the phone to learn our prices, sending their salespeople to shop us and every other method which we consider unbusinesslike. However, we wish to state it is needless for them to shop our store, call us on the phone at a facility to such a state of the control of the phone at a facility to such a state of the control of the phone at a facility to such a state of the control of the phone at a facility to such a state of the control of the phone at a facility to such a state of the control of the phone at a facility to such a state of the phone at a facility to such a state of the phone at a facility to such a state of the phone at a facility to such a state of the phone at a facility to such as a such as calling us on the phone to learn our prices, sending their salespeople to shop us and every other method which we consider unbusinesslike. the phone, etc., for if they too will become their own buyer, manager, window-trimmer, advertising man, have no floor walkers, elevators, automobiles, electrical front, etc., they will also enjoy the unusual confidence of Harrisburg's economical women as Robinson's Woman
