PENROSE GOES TO HUNT BEAR

Says Fight Was Won by Town Meeting Party; Battle Has Only Been Inaugurated

"We have been doing some tall hunting in Philadelphia and we are going up to Penn's Creek to hunt bear," said United States Senator Boies Penrose during a brief stop in Harrisburg this afternoon on his way from Philadelphia to Snyder county by automobile. The Senator was accompanied by Auditor General Charles A. Snyder and Prothonotary H. F. Walton.

There's no question who was elected in Philadelphia," said the Senator, when asked about the Philadelphia situation. "The Town Meeting ticket was elected and when the soldiers' votes are in it will be seen that it wins by a handsome majority. I am informed that a contest is to be started to have the votes belonging to the Town Meeting party given to it."

The face of the returns show the desperate methods used to defeat the Town Meeting ticket and I guess by this time everyone knows why the attacks were made on nomination papers in the courts.

Another gratifying feature was the unanimity of the newspapers. I have been in politics in Philadelphia for more than thirty years and never saw them united as they are to-day. And I never saw a greater unanimity of sentiment among all elements in the city.

The fight has just started.
