PREMIER FLEES WHEN DESERTED BY HIS ARMY

Kerensky, Head of Russia's Provisional Government, Reported to Be in Flight; Whereabouts Unknown in Petrograd; Bolsheviki Control Moscow; Cossack Leader Approaches City With Relief For Premier's Forces; Thousands Killed

Defeated in battle by the Bolsheviki and deserted by most of his own officers and men, Premier Kerensky is in flight and his whereabouts is unknown in Petrograd. The head of Russia's provisional government was about to surrender to the Maximalists under coercion when he disappeared.

In Moscow the tide apparently has turned and the Bolsheviki are in control of the ancient Russian capital with the forces of the provisional government besieged in the Kremlin. Heavy artillery is being used against the historic walls. Between 2,000 and 5,000 persons have been killed in Moscow since the outbreak of the revolt. General Kaledines, leader of the Cossacks, is reported approaching the city with relief for the Kerensky forces. Previous to his sudden flight Premier Kerensky had seen his force, mostly Cossacks, defeated by the Bolsheviki near Tsarskoe Selo, which is now in the hands of the revolutionists. The Bolsheviki troops were commanded by members of the old aristocracy and former army officers.

Dr. Raunick, who has been author-ized by Council to straighten out the collection muddle, is doing his level best to bring order out of chaos, but he didn't hesitate to say to-day that the tipping must stop. The Telegraph printed a story this week of how many of those em-ployes are holding the people up for extra compensation, positively refus-ing to remove their ashes and gar-bage unless they are paid extra to do so.
