The Victor's service to the Nation at war. Music - a war-time necessity. A famous general once said that the only enemies he ever feared entered the battle with a song on their lips. Patriotism is three parts emotion and music is the language of the emotions. Courage is born of the heart and music speaks straight to the heart. In times that try men's souls, every force which keeps the nation's spirit bright is a great and positive asset. Every means of combating trial with happiness must be carefully conserved and fostered. A nation at war requires food for its soul as well as for its body. The morale of the fighting forces must be maintained. The mental and moral resources of the people must be preserved at their full vigor. Recreational and cultural activities must provide the needed relaxation, revive the drooping spirits, soften the sting of sorrow instill new ardors of bravery and determination. The sound of laughter must be heard in the land. Instinctively men turn to music for entertainment and inspirations. Music speaks a tongue that all can understand, that nothing else can speak. It reaches down to the hidden springs of feeling, replenishes and refreshes them. To the mysterious power of music, the pulse responds and hopes run high. Under its healing influence, gloom and despair lose their evil grip. Imagine, if you can, a nation going into war without the thrill of music! Imagine, if you can, a nation battling through the dark days of a prolonged struggle without the heartening comfort of music! The Victrola is literally the nation's chief source of music. More Americans—and Americans in the making—have learned "The Star-Spangled Banner" from the Victrola than from any other one source. The Victrola is in millions of homes. It is in camp, on shipboard, in the trenches, the hospitals, the schools, and the churches. It is the principal source of cheerfulness and entertainment to the soldiers and sailors of Uncle Sam. "Back home" among the folks behind the army—the farmers, the men and women in the fields and the factories, in city and in country, the Victrola is one of the greatest—if not the greatest—means of diversion. It is the mission of the artist to create beauty and pleasure. It is the mission of the Victrola to carry them directly to the people, to plant them in their homes and thus to contribute to their mental and spiritual well-being. The tremendous popularity and use of the Victrola and Victor Records indicate how strongly established they are in the affections of the people; how completely they are fulfilling a national need. The Victrola performs no mean service to the nation. Victor Talking Machine Company, Camden, N. J., U. S. A.
