GOVERNOR ASKS ARMENIAN AID

People of Pennsylvania Are Urged to Contribute Through Red Cross

Governor Brumbaugh to-day issued an appeal to the people of Pennsylvania in behalf of the people of Armenia and Syria, urging that contributions be sent in care of the American Red Cross at Washington.

The Governor says in his appeal: "The President of the United States has made a direct and earnest appeal for aid to the suffering people of Armenia and Syria. There are 2,500,000 people in these stricken lands who today need food. They face starvation. There are 400,000 orphans. They are in great need, women and dependent children swell this total to upwards of 2,000,000. Old men and cripples constitute the remainder. The entire group is helpless. They are hopeless if we do not speedily aid them. War has caused this calamity. Those that suffer are not to blame. They are victims of the ambition and crime of others. Surely they shall not be left to die. Money to purchase the simple necessities of life is needed. It will not be at once made available through the American Red Cross at Washington, D. C., your contributions for these needy people. Make your own Thanksgiving holy by making these people happy."
