

Wreck That Cost Deaths of Two, Fault of Children

Wrecker, Okla., Nov. 28.—The playful throwing of a piece of scrap iron, to which a rope had been attached by three small boys, on the tracks of the St. Louis and San Francisco Railroad, near here, caused the wreck Sunday morning of the fast train known as the Meteor and the death of two members of the train crew, according to a confession made by the boys to their parents yesterday.

Policeman Loses Nose in Fight With Auto Bandits

Philadelphia, Nov. 28.—Four highwaymen in a taxicab who attacked Carl Runkel, 312 Noble street, in front of his home last night, were pelted in a revolver duel with Policeman James Lambert, of the Tenth and Buttonwood streets station. A bullet from a highwayman's gun took off the tip of Lambert's nose. Though wounded, the policeman pursued the automobile as it hurried away, followed by several bullets from Lambert's revolver.

Sound Kidneys Save Suffering

The hustle and bustle of modern life cause weak kidneys. Overwork and worry invariably create poison faster than the weakened kidney can filter it from the blood. Pain in the back, nervousness, and lack of ambition are the first warnings that the kidneys are inflamed and congested, and for these conditions Warner's Safe Kidney and Liver Remedy should be used for beneficial action. For forty years this dependable medicine has proved itself nature's provision for mankind against kidney disease and its oftentimes terrible effects. Here's an instance of its remarkable efficacy:

"Having been afflicted with kidney and liver complaints for a long time, I was induced to try Warner's Safe Kidney and Liver Remedy, and after using it for a time am now well and strong. I can unqualifiedly state that this medicine without any doubt saved my life and I can conscientiously recommend it to others similarly afflicted."—Larence H. White, 3414 Creek Mich., U. S. A.

SEND SMOKES TO MEN FIGHTING IN THE TRENCHES

Battleship Boys Know Value of Tobacco in Time of Danger

"Let George do it!" a good many "stay-at-homes" have said in response to the appeal of the soldiers tobacco fund for money to send smokes to our fighting men in the trenches. Not one ten firemen down in the sweltering heat of the engine room aboard the U. S. S. Rhode Island, Hard as they are working for their country, small as is their pay, they have yet recognized the greater needs of the boys who are facing death to keep the Iron Fist from quenching America's Torch of Liberty, and each has given out of his pay the sum of $1 toward the general tobacco fund. Lewis A. Miller, third-class fireman, who started the collection, forwards the amount contributed with the following letter:

"I saw your advertisement about sending tobacco to the boys in France, and thinking it was a good idea of trying to get the boys together to help me out to send you the small sum of ten dollars ($10) to help our boys in France, and I am also sending you the names of other boys who are sending the tobacco to them, and if you put this in the newspaper you want to send me a copy of the paper I remain, Yours truly, (Signed), 'LEWIS A. MILLER.' The names of other third-class firemen who contributed are: F. J. Murrough, C. J. Molloy, W. Munda, D. L. Perrine, F. T. Treblascky, R. J. Harris, Frank Trisky, T. W. Downs, M. H. Heinrich. With the example of these patriotic sailors before them, what man or woman among us will ignore the appeal to send tobacco comfort to the American soldiers who are dying to preserve for us our comforts?"

WINTER IS LASHING IN SPREADING DISEASE Your Vitality Must Be Kept Unimpaired if You Expect to Resist the Dangers That Are Lurking Everywhere

S. S. S. Will Fortify Your System Against the Severe Weather.

Right now you are on the threshold of the most dangerous season of the year, when your system is called upon to undergo the severest test in resisting disease that is running rampant. For now is the time when every breath of air you inhale is laden with millions upon millions of tiny disease germs that are fighting to find lodgment in your system and set up their campaign of destruction. On every hand you see evidences of Catarrh, with its distasteful and nauseating symptoms, causing its victims to constantly hawk and spit in an effort to prevent the air passages and throat from becoming stopped up entirely. And it is a common thing to see the unfortunate victim of the bronchial germ, whoezing and coughing. It seems a constant fight for the right to live. Those afflicted with colds and grippe are everywhere. Most dangerous of all is the germ of pneumonia, that deadly disease that carries off its victim with startling suddenness. Of course everyone is familiar with the suffering which the rheumatic has to endure as winter comes on, and the intensity and regularity of his pains. The disease seems to take on added severity at this season, and the little pain demons run rampant in their frenzied delight. Why is it that so many people fall victims to these diseases, while others escape unharmed? Isn't it true that everyone is equally exposed to attack? This is a very natural question, and the answer is easily arrived at by a little logical reasoning. It is quite true that practically everyone is equally exposed to the dangers of disease. You are just as liable to be attacked as the man or woman sitting next to you on the street car. It all depends upon the condition of your blood supply. If your blood is thin and impoverished and has been allowed to reach a low state by the accumulation of impurities, you have not sufficient vitality to resist these germ attacks and they find a fertile field in your system to spread disease. Your neighbor will easily resist the identical attack because he believes in precaution, and keeps his blood strong and vigorous and absolutely free from all impurities by the use of a few bottles of S. S. S., the standard old blood purifier and tonic. He knows that the source of all disease is in the blood, and he is wise enough to keep his blood pure at this critical season when disease germs are lurking everywhere. You can enjoy the same immunity as thousands have been doing for years. Simply go to your drug store and ask for a bottle of S. S. S., and take it according to directions. You will notice an immediate tonic effect. For it will improve your vitality, and a few bottles will make you strong and vigorous, and you will enjoy the buoyancy of perfect health. And with your system kept in perfect condition, you will be safe from the dangers now so prevalent in the air. Those who are afflicted with catarrh, rheumatism, eczema, or other blood troubles, or are in a general run-down and debilitated condition, can obtain valuable medical advice from our Chief Medical Adviser without charge. Recout in First Ten Divisions Shows Big Gains For Town Meeting Men

Philadelphia, Nov. 28.—Recout of the vote cast on November 6, started yesterday by Judges Martin and Finletter in the election court, indicates the election of the entire Town Meeting county ticket by a majority estimated at from 5,000 to 10,000 votes, according to attorneys for the independents.

When court adjourned last night forty-two ballots had been ordered opened, twenty-five on petition of the Yare lawyers and seventeen on petitions filed by the Town Meeting party. Election officers had completed the recout in only ten divisions at that time.

In nearly every instance the recouts showed substantial net gains for all the Town Meeting candidates, made up of votes illegally thrown out by electing boards and of votes counted illegally by the boards and now ordered invalidated by the court.

SCENE FROM "THE HUNGRY HEART" AT THE REGENT THEATRE. David Graham Phillips was one of the foremost American novelists, and at the same time the possessor of more than ordinary ability to search out the depths and shallows of human emotions. "The Hungry Heart," which tells the story of a young man who, bested by the force of nature and the cruel competition of the world, meets with frequently in the lives of those about us. This production comes to the Regent Theater to-morrow, Friday and Saturday, and has Pauline Frederick as the star. The solution is as unexpected as it is wholesome and delightful, and the photoplay, besides furnishing a splendid vehicle for Miss Frederick, provides humor, pathos, and a deal of just human happiness gained through the bitter school of experience. Come early, as there will be a great demand for seats.

SCENE FROM "MARY'S ANKLE," WITH WINIFRED ST. CLAIRE, AT ORPHEUM FRIDAY AND SATURDAY

A promise of unusual entertainment is offered in A. H. Woods' forthcoming production of "Mary's Ankle." May Tully's clever farce, which comes to the Orpheum, Friday and Saturday, matinee and night, for an engagement of two days, direct from the Bijou Theater, New York. "Mary's Ankle" was the first hit of the current metropolitan season. The New York Globe said of it that it was as good farce as "The Boomerang" or "Turn to the Right" was comedy. Designed solely to amuse, "Mary's Ankle" achieves its purpose by its novelty, its variety of droll situations and its witty dialogue. A New York company includes Winifred St. Claire, Robert Lussner, Fred Houde, Jack Lewis, Nola Mercer, Zelda DeWiel, Roxaine Lansing, Charles Lindholm, Sam Carlton and George Clark.

by that name written by David Graham Phillips. The problem in the book, as everyone who has read it knows, is: "Can a man be true to his science and at the same time give to the world the undiluted affection she necessarily craves?" The question may come home to many of you, but if it does after you see the thinking mighty art. Miss Frederick takes the part of Courtney Vaughan and the development of the wife's efforts to win and maintain her husband's respect and love during a series of unfortunate misunderstandings cause the photoplay to show some of the best work of Miss Frederick's already remarkable career.

The several thousand persons who have witnessed the presentation of the timely photoplay "The Spy" now have a much better idea of the German spy system than they ever had before. This remarkable picture is a thrilling expose of the machinery of the German Foreign office, who have laid plans for a world conquest and German mastery. "The Spy" shows just how the "faithful" carry out the instructions of their superiors who stop at nothing to attain their own insanely selfish ends. That American has been infested with German spies is no longer doubted. That strikes were fomented and plans laid to destroy bridges and the Panama Canal is also known. In short, plots that for wanton wickedness are without parallel in the world's history have been uncovered since America has entered the war to "make the world safe for democracy." "The Spy" will do more than give you an idea of how it is accomplished and of how careful every man and woman must be right now. For to-morrow, "The Sirens of the Sea," together with "The Stars and Stripes in France," as a special Thanksgiving attraction.

The screen production of "Magda," Herman Burman's drama, appearing at the Colonial Theater for the last time to-day, is a red letter event in motion picture history. The direction and photography of the play is excellent; the title role sets her among a notable company of world-famed tragediennes. It is, perhaps, the most beautiful and at all times is pleasing in manner and looks. To-morrow and Friday, "Emily Stevens," star of the "Outwitted," in her latest Metro release, "Outwitted."

To-day is the last opportunity to see Elsie Ferguson, the noted stage star and beauty, in "The Rise of Jennie Cushing," at the Regent Theater. The struggle of this girl, born in the slums, of unknown parentage, presents an arraignment of modern society. Jennie Cushing commanded admiration, appealing to the sympathies not by her helplessness, but through her grit and determination to rise from her lowly surroundings. As played by Miss Ferguson, the role receives added virility, and the play will long be remembered by those who see it. A special show has been secured for Thanksgiving Day, also the following two days. "The Hungry Heart" will appear in her latest Paramount Picture, "The Hungry Heart," from the novel

WIGGIN COMEDY IS WELL PLAYED

"Mother Carey's Chickens" Presented at Orpheum Last Night

One of the most enjoyable comedies in months was presented at the Orpheum Theater last night with pretty Miss Antoinette Walker in the leading role in "Mother Carey's Chickens" the stage adaptation of the book of Kate Douglass Wiggin.

If ever there was a fascinating story filled with romance and laughter, it is "Mother Carey's Chickens." It can be truly said of it that there is a human appeal so big that some can not fully appreciate it. "Mother Carey" seemed to be an old friend and won the affections of the audience, surrounding her are the children, Gilbert, Nancy and the other smaller ones, and then some other young folks. Anyone who can appreciate and love the enthusiasm of youth and who can feel the same joy over pleasures and the same sad over disappointment as these little persons will certainly enjoy their story.

A play such as this one appeals to it has the refreshing laughter induced by nature comedy, not by a farcical situation; and is far more entertaining than those which force mirth by ludicrous plots. Miss Walker, as Mother Carey, was as delightful as ever and is certainly one of the reasons for the success of the production of this play. Adele Keim, as Mother Carey, is another who contributes more than her share in adding to the appeal of the story. Much of the fun is caused by the droll originality of Ossian Popham, a neighbor to the Carey's, and Wallace Owen in this role is no disappointment. Ursula Elsworth as his wife, and Helen Marqua, as Lallie Joy, their daughter, are equally as enjoyable and capable. Others in the cast all add to the success of the comedy.

Washington, Nov. 28.—All militants of the Woman's party, who remained in jail after yesterday's release of the hunger-striking twenty-two, were released to-day. This entirely cleared the jail and workhouse, the women imprisoned for picketing the White House.

AMBLER HOME DAMAGED—Philadelphia, Nov. 28.—Fire badly damaged the residence at Abington, Pa., of Charles A. Ambler, State insurance Commissioner. Mr. Ambler returned from his Harrisburg office and was at dinner last night with his wife and four children when smoke surged into the dining room from flames in the kitchen. Neighbors rushed in and aided in carrying the furniture from the burning structure. The loss is about $10,000.

OPPOSES DECORATIONS—Washington, Nov. 28.—Decorations of any officer or man of the American Navy by foreign governments for war services will be opposed by Secretary Daniels. NOVELTY BILL AT MAJESTIC

Vaudeville Program Includes Two Unique Offerings With Clever Dancing

Two unique vaudeville acts are included in the bill for the first half of the week at the Majestic, both proving a success because of the novelty offerings of the entertainers. One of these turns starts the program and the other is a closing feature.

The audiences did not seem to appreciate the novelty end of the bill, but applauded heartily two of the comedy and musical acts. This may have been because the last number was entirely a dance offering and seemed a bit long, becoming tiresome. Keno and Wagner, listed as novelty acrobats, as an opener, have no tumbling tricks but entertain with clever dance and musical numbers. Their first one was a "toyland" dance, as a doll and a wooden soldier, and was exceptionally good. William Dick is next, giving four songs and accompanying himself with a guitar. He received a hearty welcome and with the addition of an instrumental solo might possibly make a bigger hit. Arthur Sullivan and Company have a fair comedy skit, "A Drawing From Life," which amuses because of the ludicrous situation developed in the little plot. The Greater City Four made the biggest hit of the evening and have a fine offering of fun and song. The audience applauded for several minutes after they left the stage the last time, but could not get an encore. "Dream-Fantasies" closes the list with a novel dance list, many of the numbers being arranged to variations of such popular compositions as "Poet and Peasant Overture," by Suppe; Lebachy "Fifth Nocturne," and similar selections.

OPPOSES DECORATIONS—Washington, Nov. 28.—Decorations of any officer or man of the American Navy by foreign governments for war services will be opposed by Secretary Daniels.
