FARM BUREAU TO GIVE COURSE

Miss Mary Ruth Fisher is the home economic extension representative, and has her headquarters at the office of the farm bureau in the Dauphin bureau.

Miss Fisher was born and reared in Kansas where she pursued studies along the home-making line. She later came to Columbia University for advanced work along these lines, after completing her work there, she came to State College as a home economic extension representative. The work as presented by Miss Fisher consists of a two-day series of four demonstrations and lectures. These are generally given in the afternoon and evening of each day.

The subject of these lectures are as follows: "First, "Grain and Grain Products"; second, "Meats and Meat Substitutes"; third, "Use of Fats and Sweets and Garment Pattern Making"; fourth, "The Selection of Food and Planning of Meals."

This above is really a part of the farm bureau work and is just as important to the women of Dauphin county as agriculture is to the men.

About twenty-one different meetings have been scheduled over the county.

The following is a list of dates and places for the month of December; the rest will be announced later.

December 7, Killinger; December 8, Berrysburg; December 12, Ebene-

December 7, Killinger; December 8, Berrysburg; December 12, Ebenezer school, Lower Swatara township; December 13, Ebenezer school, Lower Swatara township; December 17, Gratz; December 22, Gratz.
When an additional room can be secured a special agricultural session will be held which should be of interest to all the farmers of the community.

community.

Lectures on the following subjects have been prepared by Farm Agent Niesley and may be given at this time:

First, "The Farm Bureau, What It Is and How It Can Help a Community."

Second "Limp and Liming"

Fourth, "Feeding the Dairy Cow, Economically."

Ambassador Gerard's Diary Made His Book Possible

To be indefinite is to be misjudged. If you cannot be certain of date, place or persons present at an event your account thereof is not accepted as authoritative. A diary in which occurrences are recorded establishes with specific evidence the circumstances under which agreements were made or important events transpired.

These statements were never more emphatically upheld than in the ex-

These statements were never more emphatically upheld than in the experience of Ambassador Gerard related in his book, "My Four Years in Germany." He could not have written his book except for his carefully kept diary. As it was the ambassador was able to write accurately the conversations held with the Kaiser and his ministers through a most intensely dramatic and historical period. Not every person connected with this war can keep a diary as nationally important as Mr. Gerard's; but everybody can keep one as personally important.

The two most necessary books in this interesting period are a diary and an English-French dictionary. The newspapers of Canada and the United States are supplying to readers a combination of the two: The Soldiers-Sallors Diary and English-French Dictionary, in this city it is being distributed exclusively on a simple coupon plan explained in this paper elsewhere.

U. S. Dyemakers Meet All Home and Foreign Demands

Washington, Dec. 6.—American reanufacturers not only have met the domestic demands for aniline dyes bitherto supplied exclusively by Germany, but are building up a rapidly growing export trade.

A statement yesterday by the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce says the United States,

Commerce says the United States, the only country to accomplish the feat, has succeeded in establishing since the war began a successful industry capable of meeting the color requirements of its own manufacturers of textiles, paper, paints, leather, straw, inks, stains, varnishes and waxes, and of handling orders from abroad.

The Christmas Store-and Its Readiness

There are only fifteen actual Christmas shopping days left-a very short time, indeed, unless you have already begun and are well under way in the checking of your lists.

Shop early in the day whenever it is possible for you to do so. By doing this, you will not only make better selections, but they will be more leisurely made.

We have a great task before us this Christmas to distribute the gifts scheduled to go through our Delivery Service. It is not an unsurmount able task if you will lend your help by shopping in the morning an carrying as many small parcels as possible.

The store will be open only four evenings before Christmas
