

LINCOLN'S LIFE
FLAMING TORCH,
SAYS O'CONNOR

Inspiration of Great Emancipator's Life Needed Today,
Declares British Leader

Springfield, Ill., Dec. 6.—Standing at the Tomb of Abraham Lincoln today, T. P. O'Connor, member of the British parliament, declared in an address that "there never was a moment in the history of this country since the death of the illustrious man by whose ashes we stand to-day when the inspiration and lessons of his life were more needed by his people and his country."

does in the plains and mountains of Austria? "To-day, as Lincoln said, two principles stand face to face and will ever continue to struggle, the common right of humanity and the divine right of kings, or, as we would say, the Kaiser and the liberty of the world. To-day as Lincoln said, "there is but one duty—to fight." It is true to-day, as it was in Lincoln's day, that though hitherto in the world's history, "might made right," it is for us and for our times to reverse the maximum and to show that right makes might.

Ambassador Returns
U. S. Loan to Treasury

Washington, Dec. 6.—The Russian ambassador has returned to the Treasury the $5,000,000 given to him for advance to Rumania. It was explained at the Russian embassy to-day that it was impossible to have the money changed into rubles by the Russian State Bank at Petrograd. The original plan was to have the Russian ambassador here receive the funds in dollars and then to issue an order on the Petrograd State Bank to transfer to the Rumanian account the value in rubles.

under a Canadian major and an American captain. The area was three miles in the rear of the line and none of the troops were armed. At 7:15 German batteries fired moved on Gouzeacourt after heavy shelling to the east. At 7:30 a general retirement was ordered and it was effected with some difficulty due to the artillery, machine gun and airplane fire. A number of losses were sustained at this time and also among the troops who cut off by the German advance had taken refuge in dugouts. Some of these men who had been cut off succeeded in joining the British combatant units and fought with them during the day. Meantime there was active shelling against the men there were ordered to scatter over the fields. "As the men returned to camp they were assembled under arms and instructions were asked from British headquarters. At 3 o'clock they were instructed to dig and hold the trenches and the men moved up and started work shortly afterward. At six the trenches were finished sufficiently for the entire command and division headquarters directed a withdrawal to camp and that the men be held in readiness to man the trenches. Under fire and the ability of the men to work without interruption is regarded as most commendable.

New Union Station at Chicago to Be Delayed

Chicago, Dec. 6.—Work on the proposed $50,000,000 union railroad station here probably will be relinquished until after the war on record until after the war on record. The Illinois State Council of Defense because of the present shortage of steel and building materials. There has already been delay in starting construction of the station, which is to be the terminal of the Pennsylvania and other lines. The council to-day announced negotiations looking to the postponement of the work would be begun with the railroad companies interested.
