

TIMELY NEWS OF CENTRAL PENNSYLVANIA AND CITY'S SUBURBS

Prof. Harry C. Harper Leaves Irving Faculty
Mechanicsburg, Pa., Dec. 7.—Art-er being a member of Irving College faculty for a period of twenty-four years, Professor Harry C. Harper, director of music at this institution, has tendered his resignation to take effect December 31. He has been elected dean of the music college of the State University of South Dakota, located at Vermillion, S. D. Irving College accepts his resignation with great regret, as Professor Harper, who has had entire charge of the music, has established a reputation for thoroughness in his department that has made the college known throughout Pennsylvania and other states. Not only the college, but the town loses an efficient musician, who gave generously of his time and talent in promoting and aiding musical movements. He organized and was director of the Mechanicsburg Choral Society, which has successfully presented several beautiful cantatas. A public spirited citizen, Mr. Harper was a booster of the Chautauqua held annually in this place. On Monday evening, December 17, a Christmas cantata, will be given under the direction of Prof. Harper, and on Wednesday evening, December 19, a farewell reception will be given him at Aryle, the home of the president, Dr. E. E. Campbell, by the students and faculty. SERVICE FLAG AT FRICK'S

Problem of Securing School Teachers Serious at Present

Carlisle, Pa., Dec. 7.—The session of the Cumberland County Teachers' institute closed this morning with the adoption of resolutions endorsing the stand of the government in the war. Yesterday afternoon the teachers and directors had a joint session. A feature of the meeting of the directors' association yesterday was the consideration of the problem of securing teachers which various directors classed as acute because of war conditions and new economic questions.

Hot Wheel Falls on Man's Head, Killing Him Instantly

Lewistown, Pa., Dec. 7.—Caught by a red hot pressed steel wheel and plunging into a pit with the wheel resting on him, George Hopple, of Lockport, a workman employed at the Standard Steel Works, was instantly killed. His body was a charred mass. The wheel was being carried through the shop on an overhead traveling crane, when the clamps lost their hold and the wheel struck Hopple. He was 29 years old and single.

IRON MILLS CLOSE
Duncannon, Pa., Dec. 7.—Yesterday the different departments of the Duncannon Iron and Steel Works were closed down on account of the coal supply being exhausted. Several cars of coal are now on the way to the mills and work will be resumed on its arrival.
