

BIG WAR FILM AT COLONIAL

"For the Freedom of the World," to Be Shown as Benefit Picture

"For the Freedom of the World," said to be the greatest war spectacle film ever produced, will be shown Wednesday, Thursday and Friday at the Colonial Theater, as a benefit exhibition for the Harrisburg Chapter, Daughters of 1917, National War Aid. The theater management has arranged to give a percentage of the gross receipts to the chapter.

The story of the film is one of love and deception, cowardice and heroism of the highest order, written by Captain Edwin Bower Hesser, an officer in the American Legion of the Canadian Expeditionary Force, and produced by Ira M. Lowry. Its scenes are laid in Canada, the United States and on the battlefields of Western France.

Members of the organization committee of the Harrisburg Chapter who saw the film at a private exhibition several days ago, are unanimous in their opinion that it is one of the best war dramas ever produced. Committee members are now selling tickets. Admission prices will be twenty-five cents for adults and fifteen cents for children. The film will be shown continuously on the three days from 11 in the morning until 11 o'clock in the evening.

In the cast are such well-known screen stars as Barbara Castleton, E. K. Lincoln, Romaine Fielding, E. K. Adler, Neil Moran and Walter Weems. Probably never before has a war picture been shown in such a more effective manner a pictorial exposition of the reason why the United States has gone into the great world conflict—and gone to win.

In the course of the film story, the actors may see a realistic photographic reproduction of the life of their sons, brothers, fathers and others who are at present living in the training camps throughout the country and the hardships they will later be privileged to undergo in the trenches of the battlefields of Europe.

Twenty-seven motion picture cameras were required to film the battle scenes in "For the Freedom of the World." The action, which took place at night, was registered from every angle so that no part of it could be missed.

Captain Lord Michael Kildare is the hero of the story of "Love o' Mike," the musical comedy which comes to the Regent Wednesday evening and night. Lord Michael is the guest of honor at a house party. As he is such an engaging fellow, all the girls are in love with him, and this leads to a series of comic situations. Beautifully costumed and costumed and splendid electrical effects make this musical comedy a pleasing "sight" to see. Appearing on the same bill are Norris Baboons, a wonderful trained animal offering; the Klein brothers, in some of their most entertaining and one of their Keith act.

The feature at the Colonial Theater for to-night and to-morrow is Metro's "The Square Deceiver," with Harold Lockwood as the star. This is said to be one of those delightful comedies that would meet with the approval of any moving picture audience. The picture holds out an unusually strong appeal to boys and girls in their teens, for the story has to do with a class chauffeur and a pretty girl, and all the other elements of romance. Mr. Lockwood gives an excellent portrayal of the part of the chauffeur who, in reality, is a wealthy society man. Some wonderful scenery is shown in this picture, which is always typical of Lockwood plays. The cast of players chosen to interpret the different characters are all very good.
Wednesday, Thursday and Friday—the Harrisburg Chapter National War Aid will give a benefit performance, and all the money taken in at that time will go to the mothers, wives and sisters to buy comforts for their boys in the front. A grand drama entitled "For the Freedom of the World," will be shown in conjunction with the benefit.

RAILROAD NEWS

RAILROADMEN HEAR FIGURES
Local Trainmen Get Official Demand For Wage Increase at Monthly Meetings

Local trainmen and conductors yesterday, at their semi-monthly lodge meeting, received official communications regarding recent demands for higher wages. No action was taken, as the wage increase is with the national officials. Briefly, the figures submitted to President Wilson and Interstate commissioners are as follows:
Passenger Runs
On runs of 150 miles or less per day: Conductors, not less than 3.5 cents a mile, $5.43 a day, or $162.90 a month; Ticket collectors, not less than 3 cents a mile, $4.52 a day, or $135.50 a month; Baggage electricians, not less than 2.9 cents a mile, $4.50 a day, or $135 a month; Baggage men, not less than 2.5 cents a mile, $3.76 a day, or $112.80 a month; Flagmen and brakemen, not less than 2.33 cents a mile, $3.61 a day, or $108.30 a month.
The schedule contains the usual provisions for short runs, overtime, etc., overtime in all passenger service to be not less per hour than one-eighth of the daily rate.

Freight Service
The proposed rates for freight service are as follows:
Through and local freight, snowplow and circus trains: Conductors, 5.3 cents a mile; flagmen and brakemen, 3.81 cents a mile. For yard work, the rates contain the usual differentials for night work, etc.: Conductors or foremen, $5.39 a day and $5.50 a night; brakemen or helpers, $5 a day and $5.20 a night; and yardmen, $4.50 a day and $4.75 a night. Overtime pro rata actual minutes to be counted.

Railroad Situation May Receive Favorable Action
Washington, Dec. 10.—Interest in the railroad situation involving suggestions of Government operation or repeal of the anti-trust law and a Federal loan as a measure, centered today in a conference between President Wilson and the Interstate Commerce Commission. The chairman of the joint Congressional committee investigating the roads, J. B. Hutchinson, Jr., is expected to report to the president on the situation.

J. B. Hutchinson, Jr., Has Interesting Railroad Life; Superintendent at Tyrone
Referring to the recent promotion of J. B. Hutchinson, Jr., to superintendent of the Tyrone division of the Pennsylvania Railroad, the Railway Gazette in its issue of last week gives the following interesting facts: J. B. Hutchinson was born on March 3, 1876, at Bristol, Pa., and was educated in the University of Pennsylvania. He attended college he worked for the Pennsylvania Railroad during his military service, and on January 1, 1895, was appointed rodman. In April, 1899, he was transferred to the office of assistant superintendent of the Tyrone division, and in 1900 he was transferred to the Pittsburgh division. He was promoted to superintendent of the Tyrone division in 1901, and in 1902 he was transferred to the Middle division in the same capacity. In January, 1910, he was appointed district superintendent of the Reading and Seashore Railroad and three years later was transferred to the Williamsport division. He was appointed division engineer of the Reading and Seashore Railroad in 1914, and in September, 1916, was transferred to the Pittsburgh division. He was promoted to assistant superintendent of the Pittsburgh division in October, 1916, and in January, 1917, he was promoted to superintendent of the Tyrone division, as above noted.

Railroad Notes
William D. Bowers, special duty engineer on the Middle Division, Pennsylvania Railroad, will leave to-morrow for a hunting trip in Huntington county.
The Pennsylvania Railroad Glee Club scored a big hit, Saturday night, at Camp Meade. They gave a concert under the auspices of the M. C. A. An invitation was extended to the local vocalists to return at an early date.
John Dockey has succeeded M. A. Davis as special officer for the Pennsylvania Railroad. He was elected sheriff. The new officer was transferred from Huntington.

BREAD TO SELL HERE AT NINE AND TEN CENTS

CITY BAKERS HAVE DIFFERENT PRICE SCHEDULES FOR NEW SIXTEEN-OUNCE LOAF

The Schmidt Baking Company of this city took the initiative to-day by putting on sale to the consumer bread weighing sixteen ounces for nine cents a loaf. This price was also adopted by the Harrisburg Baking Company and the Pan Dandy Baking Company, affiliated corporations.
Bernard Schmidt was personally responsible for the cutting down of price from ten to nine cents and in accomplishing it he carried his assertion that without a wrapper a loaf of bread can be sold at profit for one cent less than when wrapped. Up until noon most of the other big manufacturers of bread had followed this precedent, the price of ten and fifteen cents continuing to prevail.

The Schmidt firm emphasized that the nine cent loaf has no right to be called "war bread" for it contains the identical ingredients stipulated by the government and is all wheat. Removal of the wrapper alone prevents the sale at nine cents, the identical ingredients stipulated by the government and is all wheat. Whether this system will be generally adopted remains to be seen. Mr. Bricker, of Bricker's New Bakery, said to-day that he carries his bread at less than ten cents. "A big bakery still getting a great number of small merchants would be hard hit. This recalls that some time ago when Philadelphia was paying ten cents for flour, the price here in Harrisburg they were paying but six. I am going to stand by the small dealer and see that he gets what small profit he is entitled to."
The "cash and carry" system which is being adopted in the larger cities is not feasible here said several of the local bakers. Only a comparatively few people could afford the time to travel to a bakery and purchase their bread. The labor involved in handling the product is so expensive that these men, when the baker sells at wholesale for 8 and 12 cents.

Boroughs Will Be Invited Once More
Boroughs and counties which have not responded to Highway Commissioner O'Neill's invitation to unite with the State in improvement of highways will be asked again, according to a statement by Mr. O'Neill to-day. Thirty boroughs and twenty counties have been included in the second invitation.
Over 200 municipalities and public safety committees have responded to a request of Adjutant General Beary for information as to police forces and home defense organizations. In a number of instances it has been found that boroughs have formed volunteer police forces.

Fire in Hazleton Factory Results in $100,000 Loss
Hazleton, Pa., Dec. 10.—Shortly before work was started at the shirt factory of J. Gerhardt & Company to-day fire broke out in one section of the plant and spread so rapidly that the entire building was burned. The estimated loss was $100,000. The fire occurred in the rear of the opposite side of the street was saved. The company has been making shirts for the War Department and a big contract of freshly arrived material had been placed in the destroyed building yesterday. The manufacturing of the shirts is done in the section that escaped the flames. The cause of the fire is not known.
Five minutes before the blaze was discovered the night watchman had completed his rounds and reported everything all right.
A block of four houses was burned with a loss of about $8,000. Several months ago a fire of mysterious origin occurred in part of the Gerhardt factory where army shirts are being turned out, but only slight damage resulted.
According to those on the scene early, a series of explosions were heard, leading to the suspicion that the fire was the work of incendiaries.

TOO COLD FOR COURT TO SIT

HARDSCRABBLE CASES TO BE HEARD WEDNESDAY IF WEATHER PERMITS

Because of the low temperature due to cold weather and lack of heat in Courtroom No. 1 this morning President Judge George Kunkel postponed starting the trial of the Hardscrabble appeals cases until Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock and adjourned court until that time, after several motions were made and a jury called to try the first case.
Jurors from the November term of common pleas court were present to-day for duty. Several did not answer when called while others were excused. In requesting the court to excuse one of the jurors, counsel explained that he was needed in a store where he is employed.
"A juror serves in his country's duty in times of peace the same as a soldier in time of war; he is drafted for service as a juror the same as another man is selected for military service. It is a great honor to be a member of the bar to make excuses for a man to be relieved from this duty when there is no legal ground," was Judge Kunkel's terse remark. He decided, however, to excuse the juror provided he was not called for the first case.
Jurors not appearing or excused were E. Isaac Deimler, Lower Swatara township; Adam Etzweiler, Jackson township; John K. Henry, Royalton; William F. Hess, Halfax; David H. Hoover, East Hanover township; Samuel G. Ludlow, city; Harry McClure, city; Charles R. Webb, Susquehanna township.

The first of the Hardscrabble appeals cases to be called for trial this morning was the suit by Mrs. Elizabeth S. Heister and Caroline S. Baldwin, owners of the properties from 1100 to 1106 North Front street.
After the jury had been called City Solicitor John E. Fox asked the permission of the court to permit if any of the jurors were interested in the settlement of the cases. All answered they were not. After the jury was sworn Judge S. M. McCarrell explained in part the cases which were to be heard and advised them not to discuss the pending litigation with any one; then discharged them until Wednesday.

Asks to Have Election Protest Discharged
Because only one of the petitioners contesting the councilmanic election in Lykens asked for the bond which must be filed as surety for costs of the proceedings, Jackson & Jackson and Paul A. Kunkel, counsel for A. F. Hanna, whose election is contested, to-day asked the county court to dispose of the case by discharging it. According to the petition filed to-day, it is contended the law requires a bond to be filed within ten days after the election is contested, and that the bond must be signed by at least five of the original petitioners who contest the election. Several other alleged deficiencies in the papers contesting the election were cited by Hanna's attorneys. The court took the petition asking to have the proceedings discharged but reserved decision.
