If we could only stand and take The game as it may chance to break. Or know that trouble, dark and drear, Is mixed in with the ringing cheer; If we could know that ways aloft Are very far from being soft;

That only those who drive through pain. If we could learn, bereft of pull, That each must pay the price in full For all we gather from the game, In sacrifice—or else in shame— W'd see the shadows drifting by And once more view the open sky, Content to know that each must take The game as it may chance to break

AN ALL-TIME ALL-STAR TEAM

More than once keen discussion and spirited chit-chat has arisen con-cerning the star performer baseball has produced in each department through its forty or fifty years span. Any result obtained must be mythical and slightly out of focus. But with this purpose in view we put in several weeks obtaining opinions to speak.

The initial outburst comes to-morrow.

BASEBALL'S MAIN PROBLEM

The main problem which major league baseball will face next spring is to maintain a fair balance. If certain clubs are riddled and certain others are untouched, competi-tion will be too loop-sided to maintain interest. This means that clubs which have been shot to pieces by the draft must be given the chance to purchase needed material from their luckier rivals. The main interest in baseball is the interest built around the fight for a pennant. But there is no impossible reason why this balance shouldn't be fairly maintained by purchase or trade.

WHY NOT?

When fate has knocked you flat,

Get up and grin; The next round may be that In which you win.

Remembering, at bay, Before you curse, The other fellow may Be feeling worse.

selected as the 1918 gridiron leader, and Roy Easterday was given the basketball captaincy. McLaren is a Pittsburgh High school boy and Eas-terday hails from Lisbon, Ohio. Both graduate next year. McLaren has won his letter in football, basket-ball and track and Easterday has duplicated the feat. Both are popu-lar with the Pitt students, McLaren being president of the junior class. Dr. George M. Flint, former Penn-sylvania captain, who has coached the basketball 'varsity for five years and always produced a winner, will again be in charge. The team is practicing now. Hastings, Dehart, Lubic, Hammer and McNulty are missing from last year's fire, the first four of them being in the na-tion's service. Hastings is in France, Dehart is with the Aviation Corps in Texas, Lubic is in the Navy and Hamsmer is at Camp Lee. J. R. Balridge, of Latrobe, Pa., is the man-ager. Dr. N. C. Ochsenhirt, a former 'varsity captain, is again coach of the freshman five. The basketball schedule includes the following games: January 19, Westinghouse Club, at Pittsburgh; Jan-uary 10, West Virginia University at Pittsburgh; January 18, Carnegie Tech., at Pittsburgh; 'January 18, Carnegie Tech., at Pittsburgh; 'January 19, Westinghouse Club, at Pittsburgh; January 25, West Virginia University at Morgantown, W. Chicago, Dec. 13.—A campaign to naise funds to erect buildings for in-door sports at various Army canton-ments was started yesterday by the National Amateur Athletic Union, Charles A. Dean, president, announc-ed. The money will be raised by di-rom various athletic events. The decision to start the campaign at once was made after a conference between Mr. Dean and Dr. J. E. Raycroft, chairman of the commit-tee on recreation at training camps. Dr. Raycroft visited Camp Grant, at Rockford, this week and yesterday went to Camp Taylor, at Louisville. Mulding suitable for a cantonment would have to be about 75 by 200 feet and could cost approximately $25,000. The said that the war would not indeor track championships and that the events probably would take place at Philadelphia.

As we are on the Western front where there are no canteens that sell "good old Bull," we are writing to ask you if you can introduce your tobacco into the English canteens where we have to go to get our smokes. This foreign tobacco has no kick in it at all after you have smoked the genuine home article.

Hoping that you will be able to send us some of the real stuff, we are, with thanks in advance, Yours truly.

"Why," queries L. K. H., "don't you write an article naming the greatest football coach of all time?" The main reason is that we don't know what his name is. Walter Camp wasn't bad. Haughton was pretty fair. Yost and Stagg have won a game or two. Glen Warner hasn't been completely swamped. Sanford has been known to achieve a turn or two. So has Kavanaugh, but the list is already expanding beyond the confines of ordiary debate

The job of naming the greatest football coach that ever lived would be fully as easy as the job of naming the greatest baseball manager. Proof that might stand up in one town would be utterly demolished in another.

Boy Shot by His Cousin Dies in Frederick Hospital

Hagerstown, Md., Dec. 12 .-- Abner B. Thompson, aged 13, son of John W. Thompson, of near Weverton, died to-day in the hospital at Frederick from a bullet wound in his neck. The boy was shot by his cousin, Melvin Moriarity, aged 15, of Washington, with a rifle several days ago. The boys are cousins. Moriar-ity, it is alleged, shot Thompson af-ter he had refused to go to the home of Moriarity's aunt to get him some clothing. Moriarity escaped and went back to Washington, where he was arrested. He is being held here pending an investigation.
