This is thirty-six per cent. of all merchant vessels being built in the United States, he said, and is three times as much tonnage as was turned out in this country in 1916. Mr. Ferguson announced the fig-ures in an address yesterday to the employees of the American Interna-tional Shipbuilding Corporation, which is operating the Hog Island shipyard for the government. In the twelve yards on the Delaware river, he said, approximately 44,000 men are employed and estimated that 84,000 will be at work before the big program is completed. leave for Columbus, Ohio. The local shoe factory, of town, made a shipment of thirty-seven cases of shoes last July, to the Kreider Shoe Company, at Chicago. The shoes did not arrive there as they were stolen from a car on their route and the shoe company brought action against the Pennsylvania Rall-road Company, claiming $2,000. The company put detectives on the case and located five cases of them. One of the detectives was in town re-cently and went to the shoe factory, where he found that the shipping clerk, H. A. McKee, had records to show that they were shipped from the factory. The drayman, William Landis, who hauled them to the freight depot of the company, also had a record of hauling them. Chief Clerk William Reel, at the freight station also showed records of same on his file, and Leonard Boy-gr, who loaded same in car.
