The truly artistic successes of the past season in New York have been few, but chief among them is the remarkable entertainment known as "Roshanara's Danse Divertissements."
Roshanara, a Japanese dancer, whose reputation is known all over the world, is touring the Pacific coast and will be seen at the Orpheum Xmas, matinee and night.

The announcement of Manager James George, of the popular Victoria motion picture theatre, that he has secured the second instalment of the Century pictures called "The Retreat of the Germans at the Battle of Arras," was received with a great deal of interest by all the people who had seen the first part of these wonderful pictures.
In these pictures, which are being shown at the Victoria, the Germans are shown as they are, and are then driven out of the country by the British and Canadian troops.

"The Red Heads," a miniature musical comedy with ten clever comedians, is the headline attraction at the Majestic theatre.
The story is a comedy that is bright and snappy, that particular brand which makes the audience long for just a little bit more of it.
A number of songs and dance specialties are introduced, all of which are diverting and amusing.
The bill is Inness and Ryan, young couple presenting a lively song and dance act.
The comedy is an exceptionally clever "musical comedy" and is a most interesting and entertaining production.

Remove Icicles From Buildings Is Suggested

As a "safest first" measure, a businessman today suggested that every person remove icicles from the buildings before they are thawed loose by warmer weather and fall on pedestrians.
On some of the larger buildings in the downtown districts the icicles are very large and heavy. Pedestrians are in danger of their lives walking beneath these buildings.
