

COMPENSATION RULINGS GIVEN

Precedents Established by the Commission in Passing Upon Recent Claims plated in the clause of the section under consideration," rules Compensation Commissioner John A. Scott in passing upon a Pittsburgh compensation claim in which questions of posting notices and subcontractors' liability were raised.

In the case of Galbraith vs. Pennsylvania Railroad Mr. Scott makes the ruling that "The right to installments of compensation on account of an injury suffered in the lifetime of the injured employe and not collected by him are extinguished and that there is no right in his dependants to collect the same."

In the case of Chisler vs. Evans Coal and Coke Co., Uniontown, it is held that dependants of a man killed while crossing a railroad track necessary to cross when told to get his dinner bucket by his foreman are entitled to compensation, but that in Blouse vs. Lackawanna Railroad, Scranton, the claimant is not entitled to compensation when he rode on cars of the railroad to reach a place where his dinner bucket had been left. It is held that the riding tract is a matter of his own choice.

This observation is made in Black vs. Valley Camp Coal Co., Luzerne county: "While the living expenses of this family are considerable, we think that under the act we have no right to pass upon the private economies of claimants, but are to accept the living conditions of the family as presented in the evidence."

A new hearing is granted in the case of Ury vs. Mason & Hangar, Newville.

Women Asked to Help.—An appeal to the women of Pennsylvania is made to be as industrious in gardening and in support of food production campaigns next spring and summer as they are in their knitting this winter and fall is made by Secretary of Agriculture Charles E. Patton in a department bulletin issued to-day. "War garden and general farm crop campaigns can not be started too soon. All the preliminaries should be worked out at once so that work can be started promptly. There should be a popular movement among the women in the cities to secure land in order to aid garden food production next summer," he writes. The Secretary also makes a plea for chambers of commerce and boards of trade to secure farm tractors for the use of farmers in their districts in order to overcome the shortage of labor, saying, "I believe farm tractors could be kept busy all summer on a fixed schedule."

The department has announced that Lancaster, Clarion, Montgomery, Chester and Lycoming have extensively taken up the farm tractor plan and that more are being bought.

The "apple belt" production in Adams, Franklin and Cumberland counties is given as eighty-five per cent of the normal crops this year by department experts.

Receipts Away Up.—The increased demand for oleomargarine licenses has already sent the receipts of the State Dairy and Food Division for 1917 over $855,000, which is $50,000 ahead of the record for any year.

To Help Sheep Sales.—Plans are being made by the State Department of Agriculture to extend its system of farming items to the sale of sheep for whose increase a drive is being made in Pennsylvania. To-day the department announces that it has listed forty-seven places where sheep can be bought. The Bureau of Markets will furnish information free of charge.

Going Into Details.—Insurance Commissioner Ambler is going into the details of the reply made to him by the Philadelphia Fire Underwriters to his inquiry as to necessity of increasing fire insurance rates. He will observe the way its works out in other states.

New Bridge.—The Philadelphia and Reading was granted permission by the Water Supply Commission last night to construct a bridge over Mahanoy creek near Ashland.

Ainey at Pittsburgh.—While in Pittsburgh this week holding hearings, Commissioner Ainey is making observations in regard to the threatened trolley strike.

Fighting the Snow.—Every man on the State Highway Department force has been mobilized to fight the snow on the main highways. The task of keeping open the Lincoln highway is a big one, but the department is getting results.

To Ask New Bids.—New bids for the repairs to the Pottstown Armory will be asked at once.

Fish Sales Large.—According to reports received here, the sales of fish under the carload plan have been successful in cities where tried this week. The state is inspecting the fish as to wholesomeness, but doing nothing else, local food administrators being in charge.

Local Charter.—The Wholesale Automobile and Supply Company, of Harrisburg, was chartered to-day, with $5,000 capital. The incorporators are C. L. Conover, W. N. Miller and H. W. Sallade, of this city.

LITZ MINISTER RESIGNS
Marietta, Pa., Dec. 19.—The Rev. George D. Clarke, pastor of the Little Kissel Hill and Neffsville Lutheran Churches, has resigned to accept a call to Georgetown, near Washington, and will preach his farewell sermon the last of the month. Eight years ago he came to Lititz, and has built up a large congregation.

Old Santa Says---Confidence

Is the "big" thing and "it" goes a long way in relieving your mind—for at this season of the year, everybody has enough care and worry without shopping around so much—It's a very happy thought to ME as well as to most people in Harrisburg to know that there is a dependable store in "town" where every effort is made to have their customers feel satisfied—It doesn't pay to say one thing and do another and I can easily see why most people prefer DOUTRICHS—It's because they are "Always Reliable."

Last year I found such an abundance of merchandise at DOUTRICHS that I resolved to do all my buying there so when the time came "this year" I went through their stocks again—And really, I couldn't believe my own eyes when I looked at the enormous quantities of "useful gifts" they have reserved for ME—for I always like to look around before I decide on MY store and it makes me feel glad when I find things just as "the papers" have represented them.

Tomorrow I must spend most of my time at Doutrichs—Those "Silk Shirts" have taken my eye and the way the people have been buying them convinces me that they are the right styles—and prices. They have thousands of "SILK SHIRTS" in every color and quality --
