

STATE POLICE MUST RE-ENLIST

Ruling Issued For Men Desiring to Hold Places

Members of the State Police force whose terms of enlistment in the Pennsylvania police expire while they are in the military service of the United States must re-enlist if they desire to retain their places in the State force and give dependants benefit of the act allowing half pay during service for the nation according to an opinion given by W. H. Keller, first deputy attorney general to George P. Lumb, acting superintendent of State Police.

"If they had not entered the military service of the United States they could continue on the State Police force only by re-enlistment."

"The act of June 7, 1917, does not purport to extend the term of service of any officer and does not constitutionally do so," holds Mr. Keller.

In another opinion given by Mr. Keller it is held that when a man has been given the maximum compensation by the State Compensation authorities for total disability resulting from loss of both eyes he is not entitled to an additional award for other injuries which he suffered besides the loss of his eyes.

Receipts for the State Highway department for automobile licenses rose with a rush this week because of the demand usual in the last fortnight of the year. On one day the total receipts were over $30,000 of which a considerable portion was in cash. The bulk of the money received is in certified checks.

Old Mines Worked—An interesting commentary upon the demand for coal is furnished by the fact that a number of the charters granted for coal companies the last three months have been for concerns which will operate mines not used for years. Most of the coal companies are chartered for the bituminous region and Fayette and Cambria lead the list.

Mr. Houck, Chairman—Secretary of Internal Affairs Paul W. Houck was elected chairman of the State Board of Property at the annual meeting and James H. Craig, Deputy Secretary, was chosen as clerk to the board. Mr. Houck succeeds his father, the late Secretary Henry Houck.

To Meet at Capitol—The State's Meade Monument Commission will meet in Washington tomorrow to discuss details of the memorial to the general. Governor Brumbaugh and other state officials will go from here for the meeting.

Final Session—The Public Service Commission will hold its final executive session for the year here tomorrow. Decisions will be announced in a number of cases.

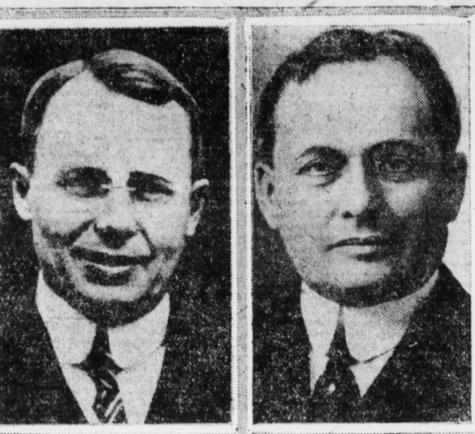

Mr. Kephart III—State Treasurer Harmon M. Kephart is confined to his room by an attack of rheumatism.

White Flies Caught—Thomas Raeburn White, counsel for the Emergency Fleet Corporation, has filed a caveat at the State Board of Property against allowing the claim of F. M. Zeller for an alleged island in the Delaware. It is declared that it is a part of Hog Island and that any patent for it would interfere with the big shipbuilding plans. Zeller claims the island is separate and that it is shown on old maps as New Providence Island.

Some Close To-morrow—Some of the departments of the state government will close to-morrow for the holiday. They will reopen Wednesday.

Campbell Resigns—State Highway Department officials to-day announced the resignation of H. R. Campbell, statistician of the department. Mr. Campbell's resignation, which is due to ill health, will become effective January 1, 1918. H. R. Campbell, of Washington, Pa., was appointed statistician of the State Highway Department on April 2, 1917, by F. B. Black, former

Gov. Cox, of Ohio, and Fuel Administrator Garfield

GOVERNOR JAMES M. COX DR. HARRY GARFIELD.

"The Northwest has profited by preference in shipment because the hired man of the coal operators became a Federal officer by act of Dr. Garfield. This charge was made by Governor Cox, commenting on the statement made in Washington by Dr. Garfield, Fuel Administrator, in regard to coal confiscation orders issued by the Governor. The latter declared his action was in accordance with Dr. Garfield's instructions and that such steps were taken because F. C. Baird, whom Governor Cox referred to as the "hired man" failed to observe the Washington rulings.

State Highway Commissioner, to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of W. R. D. Hall. For a number of years Mr. Campbell has been connected with the County Commissioners' office at Washington, Pa.

Auditor at Work—Auditor General Charles A. Snyder has put a certified accountant to work on the books of the State Insurance Fund to make a special audit for him, as he is not satisfied with the statements made of the cost of administration and prospects that the funds in sight will provide for the overhead until the first of June, 1919. The Auditor General has refused to discuss the proposition beyond saying he wants to be sure that there is enough money in sight and officials of the fund say they are confident that the new audit will show the recently declared dividend will be justified. Mr. Snyder declined to say what he was going to do in regard to other departments of the state government, whose expenditures have been mounting in his opinion.

No Date Set—No date has been fixed for the State Commission of Agriculture meeting to talk over appointments.

May Visit Soon—There is a probability that the state commission to select the site for the new State Insane Hospital, will go to some of the southern counties in the next few months. A selection will be made during the summer, although some winter visits are suggested.

Portrait Admired—The portrait of the late Secretary of Internal Affairs Henry Houck, which was placed in the departmental office yesterday, was much admired by friends of the late secretary.

Still Very Ill—Dr. M. D. Lichteiter, chief clerk of the Department of Agriculture, is still in a serious condition.

DENTAL AMBULANCE At the beginning of the war, the dental surgeon, so far as the Allies were concerned, was not officially recognized in Army circles. Indeed, it was not until the Germans marched into Brussels, with a dental post every ten kilometers, that the Allies appreciated the importance of oral hygiene.

To-day there are eleven American dental field ambulances in France alone. Men, who were formerly sent home on sick leave, whose only trouble was their molars, are now kept at the front. Soldiers, to the number of a division and a half, have thus been spared to the army. Furthermore, the surgeons insist that a wounded man with bad teeth makes a slow recovery. And then, too, ariest clerk on sick leave, whose only trouble was their molars, are now kept at the front. Soldiers, to the number of a division and a half, have thus been spared to the army. MRS. JOHN J. LONG BURIED Wisconsin, Pa., Dec. 20.—Funeral services of Mrs. John J. Long, who died at her home after a short illness of pneumonia were held yesterday, conducted by the Rev. A. W. Warrel. Burial in the Evangelical Association Cemetery.

WONDER OF THE AGE About the hottest thing this side of Old Sol is an oxyacetylene torch. The little blue flame ejected by one of these looks the picture of innocence, but it has the power of a dozen giants. It can bite through armor plate as easily as boring a hole in a plank. It has become a valuable aid in shipbuilding. Under the old method, ship plate was cut with saws, but by the new method an oxyacetylene torch is attached to a small motor-driven car which travels along a marked line and cuts any thickness of steel plate at a much more rapid rate. It is also valuable in tearing down buildings, where it is used to cut through steel beams, and as for rivets, it is only a matter of a few seconds to bite off the head of the largest.—Wall Street Journal. NEW MAILBOX PLACED Newport, Pa., Dec. 20.—A new and larger mailbox has been placed in front of the local post office for the reception of evening and Sunday mail. One compartment is for letters and a second for parcels and papers.

MIDDLEBURG BOYS ENLIST Middleburg, Pa., Dec. 20.—Bruce Wagenseller, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ammon Wagenseller, left for Fort Slocum, N. Y., where he has enlisted in the United States Army. Three other Middleburg boys enlisted in the Army last week.

MRS. ANNA WEAVER DIES Marietta, Pa., Dec. 20.—Mrs. Anna Weaver, of New Holland, aged 80, died yesterday. She was the oldest member of the Marietta Mennonite Church, and is survived by seven children, ten grandchildren, three brothers and a sister. Use McNeil's Pain Exterminator—AD

Hello, Santa Claus---I Called You Up to Tell You That You Can Get All My Gifts at The Globe

Yes sir---everything I want is there. I've been after dad for a long time to buy me a Mackinaw and he says maybe Santa Claus would bring me one. So I just wanted you to be sure to get one of those dandy plaids at THE GLOBE for only $8.50.

I need a new school suit, too, and I wish you'd get me a GLOBE Corduroy 2 Pants Suit. You know they always wear like iron and keep you warm in the coldest kind of weather, too. They're only $6.50.

A Raincoat Set would surely make me happy on Christmas -- you know the hat matches the coat---only $5.00.

And say, Santa, don't forget that I need a new Cap---a Fur Cap at $3.00 if you like---but another kind at 75c will do.

Of course a new Bathrobe at $3.95 would come in mighty good these chilly mornings.

Oh, yes---for Sunday I want one of the new Trench Overcoats with belt all around and buckle in front---you can get one for $12.50.

But please Santa don't forget my little Chum next door, his daddy has gone to war and maybe he's too busy to call you up. But I know he wants a Sweater---and a "GLOBE DUBBLE-HEDDER" 2 Pants Suit and some Blouse Waists and a Mackinaw too. So please, dear Old St. Nick don't forget my chum and me and remember that you can get all our gifts at
