

CHRISTMAS OPPORTUNITIES FOR TELEGRAPH READERS

THE Christmas spirit may be shown in no better way than by gifts, large or small to those less fortunate than ourselves, and with whom we may not even be acquainted.

1. Incubable The father has an incubable disease. The wife, although not strong is bravely trying to keep a little brood of three together by what she can earn at days work.

2. Grandmother and Children An aged grandmother and three children, made up this family, and parents are dead. The grandmother does day work although not physically able, and the children do many small jobs which help to eke out the family income.

3. Widow and Four Children Tuberculosis keeps this widow from doing very much, and she should be given a rest of several months, but she cannot get it unless a sum of about $8.00 a week is provided for about three months or more.

4. Six Children—No Father All the children are under 16 years of age. The oldest boy is doing nicely in school, and earns a great deal in the morning before school and in the evening after school.

5. Invalid Husband The wife is working hard to support herself and invalid husband. But as in so many cases she can not work hard all day and then come home to a sick man, she has to rest of the time without feeling the strain.

6. Homeless Two bright children, father described as a workaholic and incapable of properly caring for them. She works in a laundry in the city, and is able to pay fifty cents a week for the children in the country, where the children are getting excellent care.

TIME HAS COME TO FIGURE INCOME TAX RETURNS

Collector to Be Here January 2 to See That Nothing Is Missing

The assessing of the Government income tax, which thus far has been a rather vague and far-away proposition for most persons, will be brought to Harrisburg in prompt, vivid fashion on the morning of January 2.

Because many people do not understand the law and will not know how to make out their returns, the Government is sending this expert, but the duty is on the taxpayer to make himself known.

Only those who make $1,000 a year or less are exempted, providing they are not married. If a man's income is $1,020, he must pay 2 per cent. on that $20.

Two bright children, father described as a workaholic and incapable of properly caring for them. She works in a laundry in the city, and is able to pay fifty cents a week for the children in the country.

One of the most successful patriotic-social affairs of the season was held last night at Winterdale, where the ball for the National Jewish War Relief attracted more than 300 persons.

At the same time Frank S. Davenport reported that in the restaurants of Harrisburg he had secured sixty-six Red Cross members. He gave the money to Mr. Reinebold.

One well-known Harrisburg man has taken to heart the suggestion of a coupon dated December 15 on his numerous Liberty bonds.

Here's the way I look at it," he told William Reinebold, the money being paid me by the Government. I owe it to the Government to help win this war.
