Independents Work Hard
Independents are holding daily scrimmages in order to make a creditable showing Saturday night. Every player came out of last Saturday night's game in good shape and playing true to form should make the Greystock team hustle to keep on top.

Many sporting writers concede Greystock to be the greatest basket-ball team ever gotten together and this will bring a large crowd out to the game. Everything possible will be done to accomposate a large

Penn State Decides to Drop All Spring Sports

State College, Pa., Dec. 20.—All spring sports will be abandoned this year at Pennsylvania State College as a result of the college authorities iecision to close the institution April 3 in order to release the undergradates for farm and factory work. Tehre will be no lacrose, soccer, tensis or outdoor track meets. Possibly a few intercollegiate baseball games may be played early in April before the college term ends. Announcement to this effect was made to-day by R. H. Smith, graduate manager of athletics. He said

"KRIS KRINGLE" PLANS TO VISIT TECH HIGH SCHOOL; WILL DISTRIBUTE SWEATERS

One of the biggest features of the Christmas celebration at Tech tomorrow will be the awarding of letters, sweaters and football fobs to the members of the first and second teams, gold football first and second football squads.

Because of the victories over the Central first and second teams, gold football fobs will be given to the first team members, while silver fobs go to the second string players. In addition, Captain Lloyd, Brough, Frock, Essig, and Manager Holland, who will graduate, were also presented with sweaters. The offer of football fobs is a standing one and they are given to teams that are

An All-Time All-Star Team NO. 6-THIRD BASE

From the days of Williamson, Jerry Denny and Sutton, over thirty years o, great third basemen have only appeared at widely separated intervals. There have been fewer great third basemen in baseball than at any her position, for there have been periods when five or six years would so without an undoubted star.

THE MAIN COMBATANTS

Williamson, Denny and Sutton were all stars. So was Nash, who was a williams, being and sutton were all stars. So was Nash, who was a brilliant.

But we come to the main battle line when we start with John J. Mc-Graw and range on through the periods of Jimmy Collins, Tommy Leach, Bill Bradley and Arthur Devlin.

The man to be picked should come from this group, for they carried a greater amount of third basing value than any of the others, before or since, although Herzog, played at third regularly, would have soon fought his way into this illustrious group.

Tommy Leach, of Pittsburgh; Bill Bradley, of Cleveland, and Arthur Devlin, of the Giants, were all really great third basemen. They could hit and field, throw and run, block hard smashes, or come in on slow bunts. Bradley was the most spectacular, a third base marvel at fielding, but of no greater club value than Leach or Devlin.

But we doubt—and this doubt was confirmed by others—that any one of the trio quite came up to McGraw or Collins, who legat the parade.

JOHN McGRAW VS. JIMMY COLLINS

McGraw, upon attack, was the greatest of them all around third. As a mber of the old Oriole cast he was a great hitter, a fine bunter and a star base runner.

It is needless to add that he was also a hard fighter. So we won't add it. He was also a first class infielder, but in this department his play fell Collins was something more than the most graceful of all third base-

Claus Spreckles, president of the Federal Sugar Refining Company, and known nationally as an authority on the subject of sugar, told the Senate Committee in Washington he had pronused the Food Administration he would pay a certain price for raw sugar. He had adhered to the agreement, but higher prices were offered by foreign agents and the supply that would have remained in this country normally went to others. He said if he could get sugar he would reopen his refinery.
