CHRISTIAN ENDEAVORS SENDING THOUSANDS OF COMFORT KITS

Floating Christian Endeavor work is carrying the gospel to many of the 200,000 men who come annually to the port of Philadelphia. Hundreds of Endeavorers are able to reach them with addresses and singing on board of their ships as they are tied up at the docks, loading or discharging cargoes. The Endeavor Society meets men socially and provides innocent pleasures to win them from the saloon, cheap theaters, immoral moving picture shows or other places of evil resort, and introduce them at nearby churches. Endeavorers give them many copies of the Bible, tracts, good reading matter and follow them to hospitals in case of sickness.

Thousands of comfort bags are distributed to sailors and soldiers. The Endeavorers place in the bag the following articles: A Testament, or a Bible, a small pocketbook filled with pins, a needle, a pair of six large-eyed needles and twoarning needles, darning yarn, a small emery, a small piece of wax, a large open tin, a spoon, No. 30 black thread, a spool of No. 20 white thread, a small bag of buttons suitable for men, a pair of scissors, a bottle of vaseline, a roll of rags for bandages when convenient, and, if at all possible, a personal letter written to our "sailor brother," for this letter is more highly prized by the men than any of the other contents.

Many comfort bags will be distributed this week and beginning of next, which is appropriate for the Christmas season.

C. E. Notes Endeavorers are planning for a great Christian Endeavor Week, January 27 to February 3, 1918. The object is to recall the origin and history of the C. E. movement. A number of societies will observe the following program: Sunday, January 27, C. E. Day. January 28, Increase and Enlightenment Day. January 29, Local Union and Extension Day. January 30, Church Loyalty Day. January 31, Intercession and Fellowship Day. February 1, Pennsylvania Day. February 2, Junior and Intermediate Day. February 3, Decision Day. Charles C. Culp, of Gettysburg, superintendent of the junior department of the Pennsylvania C. E. Un- Presbyterian Society and sent to the States Army some time ago, was agreeably surprised recently by receiving many letters and cards from the Juniors of the Keystone State. A packet of letters was sent to him by St. Matthew's Lutheran Society, Harrisburg. St. James' Lutheran Society, of Gettysburg, his home church, remembered him with postals on his highday.

Endeavor societies are urged to send a list of the new officers to Secretary Miss Minnie Tittle, 200 Calder street, city.

"Christmas Giving" will be the topic for discussion in the various C. E. societies on Sunday evening. At the Market Square Presbyterian Society to-morrow evening the meeting will be in charge of Joseph Montgomery.

A dozen comfort bags were made by the Endeavorers of the Bethany Philadelphia for the sailors and soldiers floating Endeavor Work. Marion Zimmerman will have charge of the Endeavor meeting at St. Matthew's Lutheran Society on Sunday evening.

Mrs. Kate Tressler, 2224 South Fifteenth street, Philadelphia, is the custodian of comfort bags and literature. The Trinity United Brethren Society, New Cumberland, will hold an interesting meeting to-morrow evening. George Haverstock will be the leader of the service.

In the "Missing C. E. Society Contest" the winners of $1 each for the first correct answers are as follows: Dauphin county list, O. E. Enders, of Elizabethville, winner, answer, No. 8, Salem Reformed, Elizabethville; president, C. E. Delbert, of Gettysburg; Mrs. Mildred Gotts City list, Mrs. Miller, Enola, winner; answer, No. 58, First United Brethren, Enola; president, H. A. Zeiders; secretary, Miss Viola Kocum.

State United Brethren Endeavorers enjoyed an interesting program at the C. E. meeting last Sunday. Special features will be arranged for to-morrow evening's service. Mildred Crane will have charge of the C. E. service at the St. Paul's Lutheran Church, New Cumberland, on Sunday evening.

Many activities are keeping the Endeavorers of Christ Lutheran Society busy. Miss Gertrude Heffner will lead the meeting to-morrow evening. At the business meeting held recently new officers were elected. The following committee was appointed to canvass for the Red Cross campaign: Misses Edith Walters, chairman; Marie Nell, Ruth Swengel, and Frances Todd. The Endeavorers will bring Christmas carols to the sick people on Christmas Eve. Friends are invited to join the jolly crowd.

Miss Sadie M. Virgins, of Ben Avon, Allegheny county, has been elected assistant superintendent of the Junior department of the State C. E. Union. Under her leadership Allegheny county was able to win the banner at the Harrisburg convention for the largest percentage of increase for the previous two years.

Bruce Wiley will lead at the Harris Street United Keystone League of C. E. on Sunday evening. The Eagle Street Church of God Society has an unique work. The official list is composed mostly of women, as follows: President, Miss Ann Dickey; vice-president, William Bumbaugh; secretary, Miss Marie Smith; corresponding secretary, Miss Anna Dickey; treasurer, Miss Joshua Charles; organist, Miss Elsie Rhinehart; assistant organist, Miss Mary Rhinehart; reporter, Miss Anna Dickey; usher, Miss Mildred Smith; Ethel Dickey, Mildred Saunders and Marie Pease.
