George Tebeau Is After Major League Leadership

Major League Leadership

Milwaukee, Jan. 1.—George Tebeau, former czar of the Kansas City Club, is determined to get back in the American Association. He has offered James McGill, owner of the Indianapolis franchise, $$5,000 for Especial former for the Club, according to a statement by President A. F. Timme of the Milwaukee club. Contrary to reports that the former Blue boss was a detriment to the league, Mr. Timme asserts that the experience of the Western magnate has reformed him and to-day, realizing his errors, he undoubtedly would try his best to work for the success of the other club owners.

In the event that Tebeau re-enters the association as president of a club, Tom Chivington, former president of the league, probably will be made business manager of the club, Timme added.

There is still a chance, according to Timme, that Chivington will be made business manager of the Boston Ded Sey Chiving.

Timme, that Chivington will be de business manager of the Bos-Red Sox, Timme says Chiving-is better qualified for the job n Ed Barrow, who is a candidate the Boston position.

Chicago, Jan. 1.—Packey McFarland is in Washington to place his plans for raising money for the atheletic equipment funds at the various Army cantonnents before the War Department.

McFarland wants Charlie White, Benny Leonard, Richie Mitchell, Joe Welling and other top notchers in government service to tour the camps with him and take on all comers.

McFarland believes that every soldier in a camp would be willing to pay a small admission fee to such matches, and plans to turn over all the gate receipts to the athletic fund of the camp at which the match is staged.

EIGHT CLUBS TO SHARE IN WORLD'S SERIES MONEY; SHOULD HELP BASEBALL

(SOMEWHERE IN THE U. S. A.) 1918—THE SOLDIER

Since no man knows where he will be
A year from now, as time drifts by;
Since no man knows that he will see
Another old year fade and die—
We'll take each day just as it comes
Still shrouded in the mists of Fate,
And move on with calling drums
Without a thought of what may wait.

Of course each knows deep in his soul,
That all who leave will not come back—
That some must pay the closing toll
And "go West" on the twilight track:
That Fate has marked, from pawn to king,
The name of each who has been drawn
To look upon his final spring
When April's sky rides out from dawn.

But what of that, where, down the roll

Each has the chance to prove, at par,
The steel-shod manhood of his soul
Against whatever odds there are;
The chance to suffer—and to grow—
That some day, when the flags are furled,
The children of to-day may know
A finer and a better world.

And so—here's to the mists that wait;
To what they blur from eager eyes—
A sprig of laurel tossed from Fate—
A cross beneath mid-summer skies;
Here's to the chance to prove that men
Still set their dreams beyond the grave;
Here's to the chance to prove again
The Flag still waves above the brave!

, This is the challenge from Germany and Hindenburg that the Western front cant' be broken.

A direct statement of this sort is a definitet issue. It may not carry the idealism of other things, but it is the challenge of one strong man to another and that always brings something akin to a thrill, especially when those who leave to accept the challenge know the battle is for everything worth while.

SPEAKING OF SNAP

A certain sergeant of a colored company was giving his command.
"First," he said, "when I says 'right dress' I'm going to shoot down the line, and I wan't you to dress on the smoke."
"Then, when I says 'eyes right,' I wanta hear them eyes click."

But up to the festive moment of dashing to press Jess Willard's contribution to the stir hasn't shaken the nation off its feet. LEONARD MAY Manager Billy Gibson Is Willing to Meet Chicago Lightweight New York, Jan. 1 .- Charley White

Chicago lightweight, who has had everal cracks at the 133-pound title and thinks he should be the cham-pion to-day instead of Benny Leonpion to-day instead of Benny Leonard, may have a chance to prove his claims before long. Billy Gibson, Leonard's manager, has expressed a willingness to give White a chance to meet the champion, and, in an indefinite way, has intimated that he should not be surprised to see the bout staged within the next few months.

months.

"Those boys are bound to meet, that's sure," said Gibson. "White seems to be the only lightweight of real class left for Benny to battle. It is only natural that they should get together before long, and it will all depend on war conditions for the next five or six months."

New Haven Good Place

Although he refused to discuss the matter openly, Gibson intimated that New Haven, Conn., is one of the most promising spots in the country as a boxing center, now that New York is closed up, and this gives rise to a "hunch" that the Leonard-White scrap, if it is arranged, may be staged over the twenty-round route at New Haven.

White has been knocking at the door of the lightweight championship for several years. He battled Freddy Welsh for the title at Colorado Springs a little more than a year ago and Charley still thinks he won that battle. Welsh was in his usual excellent form for that contest, however, and White failed to catch up to him long enough to win. Since Leonard relieved Welsh of the crown White has been asking for a chance to meet Benny, and it may be that he will be given the opportunity he has long sought.

An address will be made by the Rey. J. Harry Dan. THROUGH 1918

The British and French lists of famous athletes who have left for the game's Valhalla has, in part, already been listed on the scroll.

To-day America is facing the same reading, and it will not be until this reading begins to expand, week after week, that all of America will at last rise to meet the supreme test.

Sporting names, through constant appearance in print, are always well known. The life of a star athlete will not mean more than the life of an unknown in the final reckoning. But it carries greater advertising value, for the general cause.

Dozens of Americans died in France early in the war, to drift out almost unmentioned.

But the death of Johnny Poe sent a shock through the nation. And the death of Wilding, although not an American, carried an equal shock. There seems to be something more than normally tragic in a great athlete being shattered and wiped out, very likely from the gun handled by a man inferior in every way to the one he killed.
