THE DANCING VIOLINISTS IN "FURS AND FRILLS," THE MUSICAL SENSATION AT THE ORPHEUM SATURDAY

Among the musical comedy productions playing this city this season, will be the reputed, delightful and ancing musical piece, "Furs and Frills," written by Edward Clark, the co-author of "You're In Love." and ic by Silvio Hein. "Furs and Frills," was one of the great musical hits in New York City at the Casino ater, and will appear here on Saturday, matinee and night, after its remarkable run at the Plymouth Theain Boston, with the same cast, chorus and production intact. Different from most musical shows of this sort, said to have a very interesting plot, which commands the strictest attention of the audience and is clerrly slided during the action of the piece. As has been announced, the company is very large, and all the scenic, mble and specialty effects will be very gorgeous. The large chorus, composed of comely and agile girls, aspire for greater things in the future, and, attired in gorgeous costumes, will be prominent features in the ter preparation of the many tuneful musical numbers.

walks off with it. Then the competitions begin.

There is an abundance of pretty musical numbers and catchy song hits. Among them are: "When My Wife Returns," "Furs and Frills," "You Can't Take It With You When You Die," "Does Polly Want Wally?" "It's Easy to Lie to Your Husband," "This Is My Lucky Day," "The Tale of a Coat." There is a large chorus,

What is said to be one of the most powerful dramas ever shown at the Victoria Theater is Alice Brady "The Maid of Belium" featuring the gium," featuring the of Belgium" slented and noted star, Alice Brady, was presented to large crowds vesterday, in the same house with the baby, she was not satisfied. She longed to have the baby wholly to herself. This longing was the cause of startling events, which are graphically told in "The Maid of Belgium," the new World-Picture Brady-Made, in which shiss Alice Brady is the star.

For to-morrow and Thursday the management offers Mrs. Vernon Castle in the gripping detective story, "Sylviva of the Secret Service," a different sort of play in which this noted woman scores a decided "hit."

and Ernie Stanton, clever comedy va-riety entertainers, and Amthur and Grace Terry, in a novelty comedy turn, complete the bill.

One of the most delightful musical comedies will be offered theatergoers at the Orpheum, Saturday, matine and night, when "Furs and Frills" will be Frills" presented with the original cast and production. In sending this musical success on the road, the Adeline Amusement Company promises all the original scenic appointments used during the phenomenal runs at the New York Casino Theater, and the Plymouth Theater, Boston, where "Furs and Frills" is now said to be playing to capacity houses at every performance. The moving picture attraction for New Year's Day and to-morrow at the Colonial Theater, Norma Talmadge is the new Selznick at the Colonial Secret of the Storm Country," starring versatile Norma Talmadge. This is an absorbing drama of the great outdoors, superbly acted by capable players in the support of Miss Talmadge, who, in "Poppy" and "The Moth" has already shown herself to be an emotional actress of the highest ability. Abounding in emotional possibilities and dramatic incidents, the plot of "The Secret of the Storm Country" gives the charming young star an opportunity to add one more artistic interpretation to her already long list of successes. capacity houses at every performance.

The book is by Edward Clark, coauthor of "You're In Love." The music has been composed by Silvio Hein, the writer of many song hits. The entire offering was staged by Lew Morton. The story is concerned with the complications resulting from the purchase by a wife of a sable coat at a bargain sale. Her brother pawns the coat to make a bet on the races. Another wife sees it, and the hubby of the wife No. 1 presents it to her. In order to avoid criticisms on the part of her husband, wife No. 2 again pawns it and gives hubby the ticket. He gets the coat and his stenographer walks off with it. Then the complications begin.

President Judge George Kunkel in an opinion to-day dismissed the election contest filed by residents of Gratz borough. The opinion stated that the petitioners in filing a bond had not met the provision in the law requiring corporate surety. Councils in practically all the boroughs in the county will reorganize next Monday as there are a number of councilmen to take the oath of office. In the gratz election contest residents endeavored to have Newton W. Miler's election counted out because another candidate had received votes which were not counted.

The four-day period beginning last Friday and up until noon to-day, marked the setting of a new record at police headquarters, when not a single arrest was made over the week-end or the day preceding New Years. Police heads say this will undoubtedly prove to be the quietest December in police history. The high price of booze is cited as reasons for the unusual quietness in police court.

The Pennsylvania Rairroad Company has annulled sixteen suburban trains out of Philadelphia and will make other curtailments. It is understood that one more through train between New York and Chicago will be taken off next week.

FIRE IN BASEMENT Fire which started in the basement of a frame house in a row in seventh street, above Boas, was the cause of an alarm turned in shortly after 8 o'clock this morning. The fire was at 1006 North Seventh street, in a building occupied by Tillie Dale. The fire was discovered in the rear of the cellar, and started, it is thought, from an everheated furnace which ignited newwood and rubbish stored in the cellar. Smoke which stored in the cellar. Smoke which stored in the cellar. Smoke which grated the came up through the kitchen and poured out at the rear was discovered by a neighbor, who turned in the alarm from box 35, at 8.19.
