Shenandoah.—Oliver Miekels, 35 years old, a contract tunnel man of Big Mine Run, was killed instantly at Bast colliery by a fall of coal while working on the night turn.

Shendoah.—None of the colliers or washeries in this city or region worked to-day, owing to the failure of the majority of the mine workers to repart for duty this morning. A few that attempted to make a start shorthanded were compelled to suspend owing to the extreme cold.

Shamokin.—In the very heart of the coal region, hundreds of Shamokin families were without coal on New Year's Day and coal haulers were unable to get sufficient coal at the colliers to come anywhere near filling the demands made locally. In many instances ton loads were divided among three or four families.

Mahanoy City.—A steam line in the McTurk Mine, Girardville, bursting last night, scalded five mules and three others were so badly injured they had to be shot. Several pumpmen narrowly escaped injury. The mine was badly damaged.

Hazleton.—Mine workers of the anthracite field to-day celebrated the second anniversary of the compensation act, which has brought about quick settlement of accident and death claims and has almost entirely eliminated law suits in the courts.

Hazleton.—Railroad men here declare that the poor quality of coal given them for their engines caused considerable slowing up of their work during the prevailing cold spell.

Allentown.—Friends at Slatington isted voluntarily. The rest were drafted.

Mauch Chunk.—It is estimated that there are at least 1,800 people in Carbon county who will have to pay taxes on their incomes this year to the United States government, most of whom are married men.

Hazleton.—The high price of meat does not worry the management of the Luzerne County Industrial school for Boys at Kis-Lyn or the steward of the Laurytown Almshouse. These institutions combined look after the welfare of nearly 500 wards and raise all their own beef and produce. Twenty hogs, ranging in weight from 200 to 400 pounds will be slaughtered at Kis-Lyn to-morrow.

TO PRESENT DIFFICULT
PLAYLET AT CHURCH

Miss Catherine Kennedy, of New York City, will present two acts of Edward Locke's play "The Case of Becky," and "War Brides," Friday evening, at 8 o'clock, in the Stevens Memorial Methodist Church, Thirteenth and Vernon streets. The rendition of "The Case of Becky," is an extremely difficult matter, owing to the peculiar characters. Miss Kennedy's portrayal of Dorothy is a feature of the recital.

More than six hundred tickets, have already been sold for this attraction. The church auditorium and Sunday school room will accommodate 1,200 people.

-Not only will Harrisburg women fully appreciate our continuous effort to offer the new ideas in millinery as fast as they appear, but they will be delighted with the moderate prices attached to millinery of the highest character.

This is brought about by our millinery organization being connected with several of the highest class millinery work rooms of New York City-makers of exclusive hats for the clientele of distinctive shops.

-The prices quoted above will forcibly illustrate this service, which means advanced styles with greater economies than ever before.

The Annual January Sale of

QUALITY SILKS

Begins Tomorrow, Thursday, January 3d A great silk-selling movement-broadly planned-the details of which meant the searching of the markets for "special values" months and months ago with this particular time and sale in mind-also the clearance of all surplus silks to reduce quantities on these certain lines.

-Unquestionably - this is the time to buy silks for it is hard to tell just when such low price opportunities will present themselves again.

The weaves, patterns and colorings of these silks are of the highest standard obtainable-

It's an economic event of unusual importance for the Time it! Pape's Diapepsin will thrifty shoppers who require silks of any kind.

Note the prices—the difference between buying now and later means dollars saved for other uses.
