Evangelist Draws Big Crowds at Christ Lutheran

The crowds at Christ Lutheran Church are increasing with every service. The interest is growing and deepening. Dr. Russell is continuing to give the great illumination on the Holy Scriptures. Last evening's sermon on "Things That Cannot Be Told" was an eye-opener to the great possibilities of Christian attainment. This evening his subject will be "God's Greatest Gift." The evangelist will define the difference between the four great banners that are used by the advocates of all the methods that are used or proposed to redeem the world. The banner of the anarchist is revolution, that of the aesthetic is renovation, that of the reformer is reform, and that of the prophet that must ultimately float on the flagpole of a redeemed world's capital is regeneration. The banner of the prophet and preacher.

Maps of River Front Are Submitted in Trial of Hardscrabble Park Appeal

With the presentation of maps of the city showing the low water mark in North Front street, the defense of the suit brought by A. P. Dintaman, owner of a large block of the property in the Hardscrabble section, the city is about to close the case.

J. M. Peters, assistant city engineer, and County Recorder James E. Lentz were called this morning to identify maps offered in evidence. One of these, a tracing made in 1894, is a copy of a map now on file at the city clerk's office. Mr. Peters, who made the tracing, identified it. Counsel for Mr. Dintaman objected to the use of the tracing as evidence that North Front street was a highway with a width to the west to the low water mark. Judge S. J. McCannell overruled the objection. Another map on file at the county recorder's office was also offered.

The two maps will be used to support the contention of the city that the property owners are not entitled to any improvements made since the Act of 1871 was passed. Some of the propertyowners, in addition to appealing from the award of the view, have taken exception to this point, which will be decided later by the court. Other witnesses called by the city to-day included W. H. Moody, R. B. Mace and C. L. Boak, all of whom testified as to the value of the various structures on the Dintaman property.

NEW TAX RECORD

City and county tax collectors of county taxes are making returns at the county commissioners' office, giving reports of taxes collected, outstanding and exonerations required. In the Second and Tenth wards both collectors made new records, asking for a small number of exonerations, according to county officials.

Suffragists Come Out For Big Skirmish

Washington, Jan. 3.—Women suffragists and antisuffragists came out in force to-day before the House suffragist committee for the last big skirmish which will precede the fight in the House January 19, when the woman suffrage constitutional amendment comes up for a vote.

Dr. Anna Howard Shaw, honorary president of the National American Woman Suffrage Association, leading the argument in favor of the amendment, declared the fight had simmered down to a question of whether the extension of suffrage to a large number of inexperienced women voters, naturally sympathetic with human suffering, would tend to weaken prosecution of the war. She contended most emphatically it would not, and that on the basis of sympathy with human suffering alone women were opposed to an ill-advised peace.
