KLUGH SUCCEEDS DR. LICHLETTERS

Harrisburg Man Promoted at the State Department of Agriculture Today

Harry E. Klugh, of this city, connected with the State Department of Agriculture for the last dozen years, was today advanced to the position of chief clerk to succeed the late Dr. Marshall D. Lichletter, of Allegheny county. Mr. Klugh will enter upon his duties at once.

Mr. Klugh, who is a Dauphin county native, served as a member of Harrisburg councils and has taken an active part in Republican politics. For the last ten years he has been in charge of the fertilizer control work, an important branch of department work.

Dr. T. E. Munce, acting state veterinarian, has been given the honor of chairman of the committee to arrange for the meeting of the American Veterinary Medical Association to be held in Philadelphia in August. Dr. Munce was named by Dr. Francis Torrence, president of the association and head of the Canadian army veterinary work. He is to name his committee on arrangements. Dr. Munce, who is active in the preparations for the meeting of the State Veterinary Association here this month, has just returned from New York, where he was in consultation with New York and New Jersey state officials.

Relics Attract Attention—Much attention has been attracted to the Deane collection of Indian relics which has just been installed in the State Museum. It is one of the most complete ever assembled in this country.

Mr. Kephart in Improving—State Treasurer Kephart, who has been afflicted with rheumatism, is improving.

Extension Granted—High Commissioner O'Neil yesterday granted an extension of time for the sale of automobiles with 1917 licenses until January 10, because many had not filed applications. The receipts for 1918 registrations rose up to $1,250,000.

Board to Meet—The State Board of Education will meet about the middle of the month for further action on vocational education appropriations.

Davies Takes New Post—C. A. Davies, of the Pottsville Troop, the state police, has been appointed public safety director of the state.

Stuart to Speak—Ex-Governor Edwin S. Stuart will be the speaker at the Philadelphia Fur and Leather Agents' dinner.

No Action Taken—No action likely to be taken in regard to increase of rates by Fire Underwriters at Philadelphia and elsewhere in Pennsylvania. State laws do not permit it, according to statements at the Capitol.

Mrs. Butler Dead—Mrs. N. R. Butler, wife of the State Commissioner of Fisheries, died late last night at Philadelphia where she had been ill for some time. Mrs. Butler was a native of Chillicothe, Ohio, and the funeral will take place tomorrow. Her husband and four children mourn her loss. State officials today sent their condolences to the bereaved.

Commissioners Here—Members of the State Game Commission are here for the winter meeting of the commission this afternoon.

State Given Thanks—High Commissioner J. Denny O'Neil announced that a letter had been received from R. C. Hargreaves, chairman of the Highways Transportation Committee, complimenting the Pennsylvania State Highway Department in the manner in which it had facilitated the recent movement of government trucks over state roads and thanking him for the spirit and helpfulness shown by every employee along the entire route.

Dauphin Later On—The Dauphin county series of farmers institute will be held this month, commencing January 14, at Lancaster.

Helpmeets Are Still Needed by Sterner Sex

There is no use denying it, milder man cannot exist without a helpmeet, a New York correspondent of the Pittsburgh Dispatch writes. "The women themselves admit this much, but they deny emphatically that they are dependent upon the sterner sex. No, indeed. It was over at the veterans' women headquarters recently that the well-known and oft-accepted theory of the dependency of women upon mere man was attacked.

Someone had volunteered the fear that women will always be regarded as weak and dependent as long as it is necessary for friend wife to call upon hubby to button up her waist in the back or see if the hooks are all tight or if her hat is on straight, and if her hair is all over her head. The very fact that man is at all times able to care for his sartorial self alone was cited as an example of the varying independence of the two. "But this is not always so," replied one of the state campaigners. "My husband went away on a campaign trip this summer for two weeks and every single night he had to wire me to ask where he would be likely to find his pajamas."

SUFFERED FOR A LONG TIME

"Had Pain—Felt Stiff and Worn Out,"

Says Mrs. M. Parker, 1230 Monroe St., Harrisburg, "I had a bad stomach for a long time, after meals would bloat with gas and had intense pains in stomach and under ribs.

"Would wake up in the morning with a nasty taste in my mouth and my stomach would feel sore.

"I felt stiff and hardly had enough ambition to get up. I was troubled a lot with headaches and felt worn and miserable all the time. Medicine did me no good.

"I read about Sarnapan, gave it a trial and am well, the result was wonderful. I awake feeling fresh and strong, stomach is great, no headaches nor pains, and feel better than ever."

Sarnapan is being specially introduced at Keller's Drug Store, 604 Market street, Harrisburg.
