FIGHT FOR YOUR LIFE

Duty Demands Robust Health

Fight to get it and keep it

Fight—fight day in and day out to prevent being overtaken by ills and alls. Keep wrinkles from marring the cheek and the body from losing its youthful appearance and buoyancy. Fight when ill-health is coming with its pallor and pains, defects and declining powers. Fight to stay its course and drive it off.

But fight intelligently. Don't fight without weapons that can win the day, for without the intelligent use of effective weapons the pallor.

Two other striking features in public education work were called to the attention of the directors by Dr. Downes. One of these was the increasing sentiment in favor of physical education in the schools, probably due to the war. Dr. Downes said a bill may be introduced in the Legislature at the next session which if passed will require public school districts to include physical instruction in the curriculum. He commended the directors for approving the proposed changes in supervisory work which will include provision for this branch of instruction.

Vacancy on Board

Another feature of the meetings was the widespread interest in the junior high school movement involving a complete change in school organization. Much of the time was spent in talks and discussions on junior school work.

A committee of school directors will bring the matter of filling the vacancy on the board to the attention of the court. Since the resignation of the Rev. William N. Yates there has been only eight directors. Officials of the board said complete plans for the work of the year cannot be made until there are nine members.

The revised rules which will eliminate all committees of the board providing for a number of changes recommended in the survey report of the district will be submitted for Inal action Friday, January 18.

The board approved the finance committee recommendation to abandon any further work on the building program with the exception of completion of the new junior high school at Nineteenth and Chestnut streets, and the remodeling of the Camp Curtin building. It was decided to advertise for bids for the purchase of $800,000 of 4½ per cent. 5-30-year scrial bonds, the proceeds to be used to erect these two buildings, the open air school and purchase property adjoining Technical High school.

Administration Leaders Congress Plan For Early Enactment of Legislation

By Associated Press

Washington, Jan. 5.—Administra-tion leaders in Congress went to work o-day to bring about early enactment control of railroads and provide for their reimbursement on the basis demands and recommend a course to the director general.

Abnormal traffic and insufficient motive power on the Pennsylvania, Paltimore and Ohio and Erie Railroads are mainly responsible for the freight congestion in eastern territory, according to reports to-day to Director General McAdoo from Interstate Commerce Commissioner McChord. West of Pittsburgh practically the only congestion is caused by the inability of eastern roads to accept traffic and move it eastward. A great quantity of westbound empty cars consequently are held up by the eastbound movement.

In New England and in districts about New York, hundreds of locomotives are disabled and have not been repaired as promptly as commission inspectors believe they might have been. At Boston the New Haven is badly crowded with excess freight, but the Eoston and Albany is in much better condition. This situation has prompted the suggestion that freight should be rerouted over the less congested lines.

should be rerouted over the less congested lines.
Congestion at Cleveland, Toledo, Columbus and Indianapolis are caused almost entirely by the inability of the Baltimore and Ohio and Pennsylvania to move trains through the Pittsburgh freight jam.
The Baltimore and Ohio is reported short of locomotives at Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, Cleveland, the Cumberland region; and a number of other states.
