

ALMOST 10,000 GET EMPLOYMENT

State Agencies Doing a Great Work For Employers and Employees These Times

Almost 10,000 workers were placed in positions in Pennsylvania during the month of December by the co-operative employment system maintained in eight Pennsylvania cities by the Bureau of Employment of the Department of Labor and Industry and Department of Civilian Service and Labor of the Pennsylvania Committee of Public Safety.

There were 10,018 applications for employment received during the month including more than 1000 renewals of old applications. During the same period, Pennsylvania employers requested 16,017 employees and from the total number of applicants 9562 were referred to positions for which they were considered suitable.

Approximately fifty per cent of the placements were skilled workers placed in manufacturing plants, especially those manufacturing munitions of war. About thirty per cent of the placements were unskilled laborers; fifteen per cent were office workers and two per cent were technical and highly trained applicants.

The co-operative employment system, which is to be expanded to meet the requirements of the state is under the supervision of Acting Commissioner Lew R. Palmer, of the Department of Labor and Industry.

DO NOT SWALLOW MILK FAST

Unless it is properly chewed, curds of milk, fresh from the bovine font, with its rich store of vitamins and enzymes, with the finest quality of protein for brain and muscle building, fails to stiffen the bony framework and to brighten the vital fires of the body, is a natural product. Not only is it not improved by the art of cooking, but it is actually damaged by it and rendered incapable of supplying in the highest degree those subtle elements which are essential to good nutrition.

A word should be said about how to take milk. It should be eaten, not swallowed as a beverage. Dr. J. H. Kellogg asserts in Good Health, All foods need to be masticated. The calf and the nursing infant chew milk. The movements of the jaws and the sucking movements executed by an infant in nursing induce an abundant flow of saliva, which dilutes it, and to a high degree promotes its digestion.

Milk should be sipped slowly and with a sucking movement of the throat, so as to secure the liberal mixture of saliva. By this means the irritation of hard, indigestible curds may be prevented.

Milk also must be taken in right quantities and in right combinations. It cannot be denied that milk digests better when taken by itself or in very simple combinations than when mixed with a large variety of other food-stuffs.

Caught Cold Easily Was Nervous, Stomach Was Bad

SAYS T. D. Baltimore, 554 Schaefer street, Harrisburg. For several years I have been bothered with stomach trouble and nervousness. My food always lay like a weight in my stomach. I would bloat and had severe pains. At night I just rolled and tossed all night long, and felt worn out in the morning. I caught cold very easily, my head and throat always seemed full and congested. Nothing helped me until I started to take Sanpan when I was soon restored to health. My stomach no longer troubles me, I sleep well, I don't catch cold as before. My nerves are steady and my head clear. Sanpan is being introduced at Keller's Drug Store, 405 Market street, Harrisburg.—Adv.

Sixty Registered Men Study Signal Work to Prepare For Army Service

With sixty of the eighty registered men enrolled, the class in radio and buzzer work was gotten successfully under way at Technical High School last night. The class is designed to aid men liable to be called for war service to fit themselves for quick promotion. There is no charge for instruction.

Dr. Charles B. Fager, principal of the school organized the class which was given its first instruction in practical work by Professor J. W. Smith. Harry Hippie was appointed secretary and will send the class records to the Federal War Department for reference. Dr. F. E. Doves, superintendent of schools, addressed the class.

The first step taken was the study of the international code on a wire installed by Technical High School boys who study electricity under Professor Longenecker. At the close of the evening the pupils were enthusiastic enough to believe that the class will have grown considerably before the next meeting on Wednesday night of next week.

the immediate front, the heavy snow fall may close the enemy's line of communication from Austria southward into Italy. The principal route runs through the Stelvio, an Alpine pass, and has a railway down to Trent and thence to Primolano, which is only ten miles from Monte Grappa and the fighting front. It is this route which has been open up to this time and has given the enemy direct communication to the front.

Avalanches Probable While the lower section is not blocked, indications are that Stelvio pass, which is the vital link in the route, is blocked by from ten to fifteen feet of snow. The Stelvio is the highest pass in Europe, exceeding nine thousand feet, and connects the Adige Valley of Austria with the Adda Valley in Italy. Snows in that section invariably are followed by avalanches which further block the valleys and available outlets.

The enemy's eastern communications into the Friuli region are similar to-day, but it is not as seriously affected. The railway line running southward along the upper Piave is blocked by heavy snows and avalanches. Further east the route to Gorizia which passes through the Trans-Alpine pass of Felsteritz, is snowbound, though two other routes across the Carso range are less affected.

The indications are that the enemy will be unable to carry on any large operations, particularly on the mountain front, during the period that his communications are snowbound.
