

INTERESTING PERSONAL AND SOCIAL NEWS

FIFTH ST. CHURCH IS DOING ITS BIT Ladies of Church Have Red Cross Auxiliary; Meet Every Week

Memorial Lutheran Class Holds Regular Meeting The regular monthly meeting of the Ladies Aid class of the Memorial Lutheran Church met last night at the home of one of their members, Mrs. William Shoaff, of 242 North Fourteenth street.

YOUNG AVIATOR WINS BRIDE HERE TODAY

MRS. JOHN EVANS LAIRD

Dr. Bagnell Will Address Mothers of Men in Service A pleasant feature of the next social meeting for relatives of men in the service arranged by the Home Service Department of the Red Cross will be an address by the Rev. Dr. Robert Bagnell, of the Grace Methodist Church, on "Lights and Shadows of Camp Life."

LAIRD-RAUSCH MILITARY BRIDAL Gifted Young Musician Marries John Evans Laird, of Naval Aviation Corps One of the prettiest of military weddings, hurried by war conditions, was that of Miss C. Marguerite Rausch, daughter of Major Livingston Rausch, U. S. A., and Mrs. Rausch, 2145 North Second street, to John Evans Laird, of Freehold, N. J., a member of the Naval Aviation Corps.

Central High Notes Miss Eleanor Jones, 258 South Thirteenth street, will entertain the members of the Central High School at an evening at her home. During the business session plans for the next issue of this popular school paper will be discussed.

Stork News Mr. and Mrs. Edward Runkle, 1511 Regina street, announce the birth of a daughter, Mary Edna Runkle, December 31, 1917. Mr. and Mrs. H. Geisel, Jr., of No. 2337 North Second street, announce the birth of a son, John McAlister Geisel, Wednesday, January 2, 1918.

Y. W. C. A. Notes A series of lectures on "War and Women" by Mrs. Harold H. Baldwin is to be started Sunday with "The Greater France" as a subject.

Witmer, Bair & Witmer WALNUT NEAR SECOND January Clearance Sale A Good Well-Balanced Stock of Winter Merchandise.

Witmer, Bair & Witmer Annual Sale of GOSSARD CORSETS Discontinued Models at Greatly Reduced Prices

Witmer, Bair & Witmer 107A North Second Street

Celebrates Sixtieth Birthday Anniversary

Hummelstown, Pa., Jan. 10. — A pleasant birthday surprise was given last evening to Mrs. Fidelia Holberg in honor of her sixtieth birthday anniversary at this place. Mrs. Holberg received many useful and beautiful presents. The evening was spent in chats of bygone days and music. Refreshments were served with each course and the table graced by a large birthday cake with sixty lighted candles forming a circle around it.

Walking Club Will Knit For Red Cross At a meeting of the Harrisburg Walking Club held this week at the home of the president, Mrs. L. A. Drummheller, 107 North Second street, it was decided to devote the month of January to Red Cross knitting instead of for recreational purposes.

Quiet Wedding This Morning At 10 o'clock this morning at the Augsburg Lutheran parsonage, Miss Rebecca Ingelfinger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George McLaren, North Fifth street, was married to Earl Patterson, son of J. O. Patterson, of this city, by the Rev. A. M. Stamm.

U. S. PREPARED TO MEET THE HUNS [Continued from First Page.] by Congress for all governmental purposes for the fiscal year, 1918 were $720,000,000, or nearly one-tenth the 1918 appropriations for the War Department alone.

U. S. PREPARED TO MEET THE HUNS [Continued from First Page.] "On the first day of April, 1917, the ordnance department consisted of ninety-seven commissioned officers while now it consists of 3,043 officers, and, in addition, has 26,120 enlisted personnel.

U. S. PREPARED TO MEET THE HUNS [Continued from First Page.] "The training of this new force, the making of these great contracts and the follow-up necessary in the manufacturing, processes, a continuous study of new weapons and instrumentalities has been kept up.

U. S. PREPARED TO MEET THE HUNS [Continued from First Page.] "Many of the classes of ordnance material requiring to be designed, specifications drawn, and contracts let, were wholly unfamiliar to our normal military practices.

U. S. PREPARED TO MEET THE HUNS [Continued from First Page.] "For the quartermaster general's department in 1918 $3,018,000,000 was appropriated, or a sum more than four times as great as the 1915 appropriations for all governmental purposes.

U. S. PREPARED TO MEET THE HUNS [Continued from First Page.] "On the first day of April there were 347 officers in the Quartermaster Corps. On the first day of January, 1918, there was a total of 6,431 officers.

U. S. PREPARED TO MEET THE HUNS [Continued from First Page.] "On the first day of January, 1918, nearly two billion dollars worth of appropriation had been obligated by contracts, or disbursements.

U. S. PREPARED TO MEET THE HUNS [Continued from First Page.] "The aviator section of the Signal Corps on the first day of April, 1917, consisted of 65 officers and 1,120 men. On the first day of January, 1918, it consisted of 3,900 officers and 32,120 men.

U. S. PREPARED TO MEET THE HUNS [Continued from First Page.] "This division of the War Department was charged by Congress with the expenditure of an appropriation aggregating for 1918, 74,000,000 or five times the 1915 appropriation for the entire War Department.

U. S. PREPARED TO MEET THE HUNS [Continued from First Page.] "The engineer department, for which in 1917 $53,000,000 was appropriated, was charged by the 1918 appropriation with expenditures of $39,000,000, or about seven hundred per cent. increase.

U. S. PREPARED TO MEET THE HUNS [Continued from First Page.] "There have been organized, trained and equipped technical troops of foresters, stevedores and railroad construction and operation men, aggregating about 120,000, many of whom have been operating in France for some months.

U. S. PREPARED TO MEET THE HUNS [Continued from First Page.] "In summing up the War Department's work the Secretary gave the following as its chief accomplishments: "—A large Army is in the field and in training; so large that further increments to it can be adequately equipped and trained as rapidly as those that are in training can be transported.

U. S. PREPARED TO MEET THE HUNS [Continued from First Page.] "The Army has been enlisted and selected without any delay and sent to the industries of the country.

U. S. PREPARED TO MEET THE HUNS [Continued from First Page.] "The training of the Army is proceeding rapidly and its spirit is high. The subsistence of the Army has been above criticism; its initial clothing supply, temporarily inadequate, is now substantially complete and reserves will rapidly accumulate.

U. S. PREPARED TO MEET THE HUNS [Continued from First Page.] "Arms of the most modern and effective kind—including artillery, machine guns, automatic rifles and small arms—have been provided by manufacture or purchase for every soldier in France and are available for every soldier in the United States.

U. S. PREPARED TO MEET THE HUNS

[Continued from First Page.] by Congress for all governmental purposes for the fiscal year, 1918 were $720,000,000, or nearly one-tenth the 1918 appropriations for the War Department alone.

Immense Sum For Ordnance "Of the total War Department appropriations for 1918 $2,200,000,000 was for the ordnance department of which contracts amounting to $1,677,000,000 already have been placed.

On the first day of April, 1917, the ordnance department consisted of ninety-seven commissioned officers while now it consists of 3,043 officers, and, in addition, has 26,120 enlisted personnel.

In addition to the selection and training of this new force, the making of these great contracts and the follow-up necessary in the manufacturing, processes, a continuous study of new weapons and instrumentalities has been kept up.

Many of the classes of ordnance material requiring to be designed, specifications drawn, and contracts let, were wholly unfamiliar to our normal military practices.

For the quartermaster general's department in 1918 $3,018,000,000 was appropriated, or a sum more than four times as great as the 1915 appropriations for all governmental purposes.

On the first day of April there were 347 officers in the Quartermaster Corps. On the first day of January, 1918, there was a total of 6,431 officers.

On the first day of January, 1918, nearly two billion dollars worth of appropriation had been obligated by contracts, or disbursements.

The aviator section of the Signal Corps on the first day of April, 1917, consisted of 65 officers and 1,120 men. On the first day of January, 1918, it consisted of 3,900 officers and 32,120 men.

This division of the War Department was charged by Congress with the expenditure of an appropriation aggregating for 1918, 74,000,000 or five times the 1915 appropriation for the entire War Department.

The engineer department, for which in 1917 $53,000,000 was appropriated, was charged by the 1918 appropriation with expenditures of $39,000,000, or about seven hundred per cent. increase.

There have been organized, trained and equipped technical troops of foresters, stevedores and railroad construction and operation men, aggregating about 120,000, many of whom have been operating in France for some months.

In summing up the War Department's work the Secretary gave the following as its chief accomplishments: "—A large Army is in the field and in training; so large that further increments to it can be adequately equipped and trained as rapidly as those that are in training can be transported.

The Army has been enlisted and selected without any delay and sent to the industries of the country.

The training of the Army is proceeding rapidly and its spirit is high. The subsistence of the Army has been above criticism; its initial clothing supply, temporarily inadequate, is now substantially complete and reserves will rapidly accumulate.

Arms of the most modern and effective kind—including artillery, machine guns, automatic rifles and small arms—have been provided by manufacture or purchase for every soldier in France and are available for every soldier in the United States.

The War Department's work the Secretary gave the following as its chief accomplishments: "—A large Army is in the field and in training; so large that further increments to it can be adequately equipped and trained as rapidly as those that are in training can be transported.

The Army has been enlisted and selected without any delay and sent to the industries of the country.

U. S. PREPARED TO MEET THE HUNS

[Continued from First Page.] by Congress for all governmental purposes for the fiscal year, 1918 were $720,000,000, or nearly one-tenth the 1918 appropriations for the War Department alone.

Immense Sum For Ordnance "Of the total War Department appropriations for 1918 $2,200,000,000 was for the ordnance department of which contracts amounting to $1,677,000,000 already have been placed.

On the first day of April, 1917, the ordnance department consisted of ninety-seven commissioned officers while now it consists of 3,043 officers, and, in addition, has 26,120 enlisted personnel.

In addition to the selection and training of this new force, the making of these great contracts and the follow-up necessary in the manufacturing, processes, a continuous study of new weapons and instrumentalities has been kept up.

Many of the classes of ordnance material requiring to be designed, specifications drawn, and contracts let, were wholly unfamiliar to our normal military practices.

For the quartermaster general's department in 1918 $3,018,000,000 was appropriated, or a sum more than four times as great as the 1915 appropriations for all governmental purposes.

On the first day of April there were 347 officers in the Quartermaster Corps. On the first day of January, 1918, there was a total of 6,431 officers.

On the first day of January, 1918, nearly two billion dollars worth of appropriation had been obligated by contracts, or disbursements.

The aviator section of the Signal Corps on the first day of April, 1917, consisted of 65 officers and 1,120 men. On the first day of January, 1918, it consisted of 3,900 officers and 32,120 men.

This division of the War Department was charged by Congress with the expenditure of an appropriation aggregating for 1918, 74,000,000 or five times the 1915 appropriation for the entire War Department.

The engineer department, for which in 1917 $53,000,000 was appropriated, was charged by the 1918 appropriation with expenditures of $39,000,000, or about seven hundred per cent. increase.

There have been organized, trained and equipped technical troops of foresters, stevedores and railroad construction and operation men, aggregating about 120,000, many of whom have been operating in France for some months.

In summing up the War Department's work the Secretary gave the following as its chief accomplishments: "—A large Army is in the field and in training; so large that further increments to it can be adequately equipped and trained as rapidly as those that are in training can be transported.

The Army has been enlisted and selected without any delay and sent to the industries of the country.

The training of the Army is proceeding rapidly and its spirit is high. The subsistence of the Army has been above criticism; its initial clothing supply, temporarily inadequate, is now substantially complete and reserves will rapidly accumulate.

Arms of the most modern and effective kind—including artillery, machine guns, automatic rifles and small arms—have been provided by manufacture or purchase for every soldier in France and are available for every soldier in the United States.

The War Department's work the Secretary gave the following as its chief accomplishments: "—A large Army is in the field and in training; so large that further increments to it can be adequately equipped and trained as rapidly as those that are in training can be transported.

The Army has been enlisted and selected without any delay and sent to the industries of the country.

U. S. PREPARED TO MEET THE HUNS

[Continued from First Page.] by Congress for all governmental purposes for the fiscal year, 1918 were $720,000,000, or nearly one-tenth the 1918 appropriations for the War Department alone.

Immense Sum For Ordnance "Of the total War Department appropriations for 1918 $2,200,000,000 was for the ordnance department of which contracts amounting to $1,677,000,000 already have been placed.

On the first day of April, 1917, the ordnance department consisted of ninety-seven commissioned officers while now it consists of 3,043 officers, and, in addition, has 26,120 enlisted personnel.

In addition to the selection and training of this new force, the making of these great contracts and the follow-up necessary in the manufacturing, processes, a continuous study of new weapons and instrumentalities has been kept up.

Many of the classes of ordnance material requiring to be designed, specifications drawn, and contracts let, were wholly unfamiliar to our normal military practices.

For the quartermaster general's department in 1918 $3,018,000,000 was appropriated, or a sum more than four times as great as the 1915 appropriations for all governmental purposes.

On the first day of April there were 347 officers in the Quartermaster Corps. On the first day of January, 1918, there was a total of 6,431 officers.

On the first day of January, 1918, nearly two billion dollars worth of appropriation had been obligated by contracts, or disbursements.

The aviator section of the Signal Corps on the first day of April, 1917, consisted of 65 officers and 1,120 men. On the first day of January, 1918, it consisted of 3,900 officers and 32,120 men.

This division of the War Department was charged by Congress with the expenditure of an appropriation aggregating for 1918, 74,000,000 or five times the 1915 appropriation for the entire War Department.

The engineer department, for which in 1917 $53,000,000 was appropriated, was charged by the 1918 appropriation with expenditures of $39,000,000, or about seven hundred per cent. increase.

There have been organized, trained and equipped technical troops of foresters, stevedores and railroad construction and operation men, aggregating about 120,000, many of whom have been operating in France for some months.

In summing up the War Department's work the Secretary gave the following as its chief accomplishments: "—A large Army is in the field and in training; so large that further increments to it can be adequately equipped and trained as rapidly as those that are in training can be transported.

The Army has been enlisted and selected without any delay and sent to the industries of the country.

The training of the Army is proceeding rapidly and its spirit is high. The subsistence of the Army has been above criticism; its initial clothing supply, temporarily inadequate, is now substantially complete and reserves will rapidly accumulate.

Arms of the most modern and effective kind—including artillery, machine guns, automatic rifles and small arms—have been provided by manufacture or purchase for every soldier in France and are available for every soldier in the United States.

The War Department's work the Secretary gave the following as its chief accomplishments: "—A large Army is in the field and in training; so large that further increments to it can be adequately equipped and trained as rapidly as those that are in training can be transported.

The Army has been enlisted and selected without any delay and sent to the industries of the country.

January Shoe Sale A SPECIAL FEATURE FOR THIRTY BUYERS Ladies' Havana-Brown Military Boot $3.45

SPEND WINTER IN SOUTH Mrs. E. E. Dare, 430 Peffer street, and Mrs. Heller, of Chambersburg, will leave this city to-morrow for Augusta, Ga., to visit private Emory A. Lindsay, of Company C, One Hundred and Twelfth U. S. Infantry.

LAIRD-RAUSCH MILITARY BRIDAL Gifted Young Musician Marries John Evans Laird, of Naval Aviation Corps

Central High Notes Miss Eleanor Jones, 258 South Thirteenth street, will entertain the members of the Central High School at an evening at her home.

Old Fashioned Friday Bargain-Day Women's Extra Fine Boot Silk Stockings, worth 39c. 29c Friday, pair 15c $6.98 to $10.00 German Silver $1.98 Mesh Bags 30 Different Styles. Friday Extra Special at 69c

U. S. PREPARED TO MEET THE HUNS [Continued from First Page.] by Congress for all governmental purposes for the fiscal year, 1918 were $720,000,000, or nearly one-tenth the 1918 appropriations for the War Department alone.

U. S. PREPARED TO MEET THE HUNS [Continued from First Page.] "On the first day of April there were 347 officers in the Quartermaster Corps. On the first day of January, 1918, there was a total of 6,431 officers.

U. S. PREPARED TO MEET THE HUNS [Continued from First Page.] "The aviator section of the Signal Corps on the first day of April, 1917, consisted of 65 officers and 1,120 men. On the first day of January, 1918, it consisted of 3,900 officers and 32,120 men.

U. S. PREPARED TO MEET THE HUNS [Continued from First Page.] "This division of the War Department was charged by Congress with the expenditure of an appropriation aggregating for 1918, 74,000,000 or five times the 1915 appropriation for the entire War Department.

U. S. PREPARED TO MEET THE HUNS [Continued from First Page.] by Congress for all governmental purposes for the fiscal year, 1918 were $720,000,000, or nearly one-tenth the 1918 appropriations for the War Department alone.

U. S. PREPARED TO MEET THE HUNS [Continued from First Page.] "On the first day of April there were 347 officers in the Quartermaster Corps. On the first day of January, 1918, there was a total of 6,431 officers.

U. S. PREPARED TO MEET THE HUNS [Continued from First Page.] "The aviator section of the Signal Corps on the first day of April, 1917, consisted of 65 officers and 1,120 men. On the first day of January, 1918, it consisted of 3,900 officers and 32,120 men.

U. S. PREPARED TO MEET THE HUNS [Continued from First Page.] "This division of the War Department was charged by Congress with the expenditure of an appropriation aggregating for 1918, 74,000,000 or five times the 1915 appropriation for the entire War Department.

U. S. PREPARED TO MEET THE HUNS [Continued from First Page.] by Congress for all governmental purposes for the fiscal year, 1918 were $720,000,000, or nearly one-tenth the 1918 appropriations for the War Department alone.

U. S. PREPARED TO MEET THE HUNS [Continued from First Page.] by Congress for all governmental purposes for the fiscal year, 1918 were $720,000,000, or nearly one-tenth the 1918 appropriations for the War Department alone.

U. S. PREPARED TO MEET THE HUNS [Continued from First Page.] "On the first day of April there were 347 officers in the Quartermaster Corps. On the first day of January, 1918, there was a total of 6,431 officers.

U. S. PREPARED TO MEET THE HUNS [Continued from First Page.] "The aviator section of the Signal Corps on the first day of April, 1917, consisted of 65 officers and 1,120 men. On the first day of January, 1918, it consisted of 3,900 officers and 32,120 men.

U. S. PREPARED TO MEET THE HUNS [Continued from First Page.] "This division of the War Department was charged by Congress with the expenditure of an appropriation aggregating for 1918, 74,000,000 or five times the 1915 appropriation for the entire War Department.

U. S. PREPARED TO MEET THE HUNS [Continued from First Page.] by Congress for all governmental purposes for the fiscal year, 1918 were $720,000,000, or nearly one-tenth the 1918 appropriations for the War Department alone.

U. S. PREPARED TO MEET THE HUNS [Continued from First Page.] by Congress for all governmental purposes for the fiscal year, 1918 were $720,000,000, or nearly one-tenth the 1918 appropriations for the War Department alone.

U. S. PREPARED TO MEET THE HUNS [Continued from First Page.] "On the first day of April there were 347 officers in the Quartermaster Corps. On the first day of January, 1918, there was a total of 6,431 officers.

U. S. PREPARED TO MEET THE HUNS [Continued from First Page.] "The aviator section of the Signal Corps on the first day of April, 1917, consisted of 65 officers and 1,120 men. On the first day of January, 1918, it consisted of 3,900 officers and 32,120 men.

U. S. PREPARED TO MEET THE HUNS [Continued from First Page.] "This division of the War Department was charged by Congress with the expenditure of an appropriation aggregating for 1918, 74,000,000 or five times the 1915 appropriation for the entire War Department.

U. S. PREPARED TO MEET THE HUNS [Continued from First Page.] by Congress for all governmental purposes for the fiscal year, 1918 were $720,000,000, or nearly one-tenth the 1918 appropriations for the War Department alone.

Our Big Optical Offer FOR TEN DAYS ONLY This Nose Piece RUBIN & RUBIN EYESIGHT SPECIALISTS 320 Market St., "Over the Hub" Open Wednesday and Saturday Evenings

Witmer, Bair & Witmer WALNUT NEAR SECOND January Clearance Sale A Good Well-Balanced Stock of Winter Merchandise.

Witmer, Bair & Witmer Annual Sale of GOSSARD CORSETS Discontinued Models at Greatly Reduced Prices

Witmer, Bair & Witmer 107A North Second Street