

MILLS SHUT FIVE DAYS AND TEN MONDAYS

gencies. These will be subject to review by the fuel administration.
Protests began to pour into the fuel administration offices early this morning. "What we have done," said Dr. Garfield, "I know will raise a storm of objection throughout the country, but the people will see that the order was wise and was necessary."
Will Ask Full Pay
Dr. Garfield will issue, probably during the day, a public appeal to employers to continue the pay of their employees during the time they are idle because of the fuel order. The government has no power to enforce this request, but will call on employers to take the step as a patriotic duty.
To clear up the congestion of shipping at principal Atlantic ports, resulting from the famine of bunker coal, Fuel Administrator Garfield has selected a special assistant to take charge of bunkering at the ports. The coal is assured by the fuel administration's order.
Democrats Favor Delay
Senator Hitchcock, Democrat, today introduced a resolution in the Senate to suspend the fuel order for five days.
Text of Gallinger Resolution
Senator Gallinger's resolution follows:
WHEREAS, through the newspaper press it has been brought to the attention of the Congress and the country that an order has been issued by the fuel administrator providing for the closing down of a large proportion of our industrial establishments and,

"WHEREAS, on information already received it would seem to be a serious doubt whether such an order would not prove highly detrimental to both the industrial and labor interests of the United States; therefore, be it,
"RESOLVED, That it is the sense of the Senate that such order should be suspended until a thorough investigation shall be made as to the necessity for the proposed action."
Garfield to Appear
Fuel Administrator Garfield was asked today by the Senate Coal Investigation Committee to appear at 2:30 o'clock to-day for examination regarding his order.
Dr. Garfield agreed to go before the committee at once.
"It is unfair to Garfield," congressmen said, "to pass this resolution without giving him an opportunity to explain his reasons for the order."
While the Senate debate was at its height the Senate Commerce subcommittee investigating the coal shortage headed by Senator Reed, was called together informally to consider calling Dr. Garfield before it for examination this afternoon.
Senator Reed said he would ask the Senate to postpone action on the Hitchcock resolution until his committee had heard Dr. Garfield.
Senator Vandaman, another member of the committee asked Senator Reed to do this.
Washington, Jan. 17.—A joint resolution to prevent enforcement of the fuel order was introduced in the House by Representative Smith, of New York. The resolution declares that "it is the sense of Congress that the order of the fuel administrator is unnecessary and that an efficient movement of commerce and full operation of coal mines will obviate the need of shutting down of the industrial machinery of the country and meet the need of the present situation."
Munition Plants Included
Beginning at midnight Thursday and continuing from Friday morning

ing until midnight Tuesday, every industry east of the Mississippi River from Canada to the Gulf, will be closed down. Munition plants and all other war industries are included.
For ten consecutive Mondays, beginning next week, holidays will be ordered, and all saloons, stores (except for the sale of drugs and food), offices, schools, theaters and such institutions as well as all industries, will be closed as on Sundays.
The shutdown of industry is an industrial suspension, railroads will not deliver coal to industries, nor will plants with coal on hand be permitted to consume it, under the severe penalties prescribed by the fuel order act—a fine of $5,000 or not more than two years' imprisonment.
While the order does not mention shipyards, it is known that they will be permitted to continue operations as usual, although munitions plants will be closed.
Wages of Workers to Be Continued
Employers will be requested and expected to continue the wages of workers. Only those agencies of food manufacture and distribution are exempted from the general suspension of the order.
During the five-day period coal will be delivered only to the following consumers:
Domestic consumers, hospitals, charitable institutions and Army and Navy contingents.
Ships and vessels for bunkering, but lighters, furnishing light and heat to homes and transportation.
Telephone and telegraph plants.
Ships and vessels for bunkering.
The Federal Government for strictly governmental purposes, not including orders from or for factories or stores, theaters and other business establishments.
Municipal, county or state governments for necessary public uses.
Hospitals for necessary perishable food or food for necessary immediate consumption.
Administration in Accord With Plan
Dr. Garfield issued his order after conferences yesterday afternoon with President Wilson, Secretary Baker and Secretary Daniels. The drastic steps, he announced, carry the full approval of the administration.
William G. McAdoo, director general of railroads, is in full accord with the fuel administrator's plans, and a telegram sent last night by Dr. Garfield to A. H. Smith, Mr. McAdoo's assistant in charge of transportation, outlined the plan and carried Mr. McAdoo's endorsement.
Garfield Says He Will Ignore Protests
Dr. Garfield expects a storm of protests against his action.
"I want to say very frankly, however," he told newspapermen, "that I shall turn my back on every protest and I shall stand firm against every influence seeking exception from the order. It is drastic, but it had to be. It had not been done except to meet a great crisis."
Due to Coal Shortage and Rail Congestion
This revolutionary action, which is expected to bring the influence of war to national industry more strongly than anything yet anticipated, is held to be due to two things:
First, An actual shortage of 28,000,000 tons of coal, despite an increased production of 100,000,000 tons last year.
Second, Transportation conditions which precluded delivery of coal to meet all demands, even though it were available.
Dr. Garfield hardly expects to escape nation-wide criticism, but he believed that careful consideration of the facts will reveal that influences beyond the powers of any man to prevent led steadily to the existing crisis. The miners and operators are not criticised. They have broken all records in the anthracite fields, having produced a great deal more coal, despite a shortage of 25,000 workers. The railroads have not been able to move anything approaching the total amount of freight offered, and while every effort has been made to expedite the movement of coal, the weather conditions have nullified, to a considerable extent, all the plans of Doctor Garfield and Mr. McAdoo.

Consumption Increasing Faster Than Production
The whole situation confronting the nation may be summarized in these words:
The coal is not available. It is not necessary to seek other explanations of the government's decision; they all revert back to the actual shortage in coal. Men have differed over methods of coal distribution, but when consumption is increasing fifty per cent faster than output is growing, the answer is that "something has to be done."
Doctor Garfield estimates that the five-day "closed-shops" period, and then an annual holiday on Mondays, will result in an estimated saving of 30,000,000 tons of coal, which will bring the actual supply available close to the demands.
Garfield's Summary of Effects of Order
So many inquiries were addressed to Doctor Garfield tonight as to possible effects of his order that he summarized it as follows:
The coal consumers mentioned above will get coal; all others will not. Industry will continue; stores, churches, theaters, schools and the like will remain open. On Monday of stores, theaters and other business establishments will act just as they do on legal holidays.
The order does not apply to newspapers, magazines, books, and other printed matter. During the ten-week period newspapers and magazines will continue to be published. Doctor Garfield said it does provide for the printing of necessary public notices on important national legal holidays, and such notices as are necessary in connection with the order. He also said that he has permitted to issue one edition on Saturday and one on Sunday.
The order does not prevent the operation of plants which produce electricity, gas and steam, and their properties are left at the mercy of fire destruction are an exception. Dr. Garfield with the assurance that churches will be permitted to take measures designed against any such menace. Steel mills, blast furnaces and other plants which produce steel and iron will be allowed to keep fires sufficient to enable them to resume operations on Wednesday.
In order to allay the fears of prohibitionists and church leaders that breweries might be permitted to operate during the holiday suspension and on the Monday holidays, Doctor Garfield made it clear that "industry," in its broadest interpretation, stands in the closing order. He said the order made no reference to churches, due to the fact that services are not held usually on Monday, but it is expected that churches will curtail services as far as possible on next Sunday.
"The order under which these restrictions are made is designed to distribute the burden of the fuel shortage to the burden of patriotic denial. All classes of business are treated alike."
"Except on the days covered by the order, no one is to be denied the use of coal to all consumers will be maintained. The necessary consumers designated in the order are given preference in priority in the delivery and use of coal by the fuel administration, but the order does not provide for the complete curtailment of co-operation of every individual, firm and corporation affected by the order's enforcement. Every effort will be made by the fuel administration and other government officials charged with the enforcement of the order to carry out the plan proposed without unnecessary interference with the ordinary course of business.
"It is the earnest desire of the fuel administration to prevent entirely any permanent dislocation of industry or of labor."
Reading Will Observe Closing Orders in Its Many Industrial Plants
By Associated Press
Reading, Pa., Jan. 17.—Reading will strictly observe the orders of Fuel Administrator Garfield.
"Practically every plant in Reading is working on every day of the week of this kind," President William A. Heilmann, of the Chamber of Commerce announced to-day. "It appears that the new order will benefit them any because of this. They must close with the other industries which the government classifies as nonessential."
This will mean that practically every wage-earner in Reading with the exception of those men employed at the Reading railway shops who are rushing equipment for service, the men at work on public utilities such as street cars, telegraph and telephone lines, electric power and the gas company, lighting plants and the gas company.
The Carpenter Steel, Reading Iron Company, Reading Hardware, Bethlehem Steel Company and other local industries and manufacturing food supplies are among the largest industries which will be forced to close down mills and factories.

sons of the orders, their possible effects on the city's industries and the manner in which they would be enforced.
Fuel administrators frankly admitted they were not prepared for such a startling announcement from Washington and that it would be some time before they could familiarize themselves with the complex details of the plan. Opinion among business men and officials as to whether results would be beneficial or otherwise, was widely divergent.
In the opinion of industrial statisticians, approximately 3,000,000 wage-earners in New York state will be affected by the temporary shutdown of industry. This number, based on 1,900,000 live and work in this city. The wage loss for the fifteen weeks to be sacrificed to conservative, unoffical estimates, will be $102,525,150.
Many large establishments, it is said, are preparing to pay their employees in full or in part, as a patriotic effort to conserve coal, and to carry their employees on the payroll during the days of idleness, will be forced to bear the brunt of the burden here.
8,857 Industries Are Affected in Chicago by Garfield Closing Order
By Associated Press
Chicago, Jan. 17.—Nearly 9,000,000 workers in the Chicago industrial district it was estimated to-day by statisticians are affected by the order of the fuel administrator, operative for five days to-morrow. The number will be largely augmented on the ten holiday Mondays by employees of stores, theaters and other business concerns. The number of manufacturing plants in the Chicago district which will be shut down in compliance with the order is estimated at approximately 8,857. Besides the city the Chicago district includes outlying stores, theaters and other business plants in the Chicago district which the order will shut down in compliance with the order. The number of workers in the Chicago district which the order will shut down is estimated at approximately 9,000,000.
Order Will Do Infinite Harm, Here and Abroad, Says Ex-Archbishop General
Ex-President William H. Taft first learned of the fuel order last night when it was read to him last night by a reporter at the dinner of the National Boot and Shoe Manufacturers' Association in Hotel Belmont in New York. Mr. Taft declined to comment further than to say:
"It is a very drastic order, and I can only hope that it has been issued on expert evidence."
Ex-Archbishop General George W. Wickersham said that, in his opinion, Dr. Garfield's order would do "infinite harm," both home and abroad.
"This order means the breakdown of our industrial regulation," said Wickersham. "If the best government can do is to conserve coal in the factories, we had better go back to individual control of industry. The effect in Germany will, of course, be bad for us, but the effect in this country will be worse and that is of first importance. We must remember that the crude government interference which we have been having has foregone the country to a condition where Dr. Garfield's order is the only thing that can be done, but if this is so, the fact demonstrates the complete futility of such a plan. We must control as we have been suffering from and emphasize the absolute necessity for an entire reorganization of our industrial control by competent men at the head of our war work."
Loyal Americans Will Back the Government, Says Administrator Potter
By Associated Press
Philadelphia, Jan. 17.—The closing of the Baldwin Locomotive Works with its 20,000 workers is a notable example of the order's severity. "The shutting down of the Baldwin in Philadelphia is in itself a number employed runs into the hundreds."

I WAS IN MISERY, ALWAYS Could Not Sleep--Was Not Strong
Says Florence Williams, 1019 South Ninth street, Harrisburg. I have been ailing since spring with stomach trouble and nervousness. My food did not seem to do me any good. I was in misery. My nerves troubled me. I would get so nervous; by spells that I would jump and twinge at every noise and expect something to happen.
I was always in misery, had no strength and was worn out. I could not sleep at night. My head ached and I constantly had a cold. San Juan was recommended to me and after taking began to improve and my stomach and nerves are well, sleep good, feel strong, head and throat are clear as a bell.

and some in which several thousand are at work.
William Potter, fuel administrator for Pennsylvania, to-day issued the following:
"Dr. Garfield's order was issued after consultation with President Wilson, members of his cabinet, representatives of business interests and of organized labor."
"The order speaks for itself.
"It is a clear call to all citizens of the east to make patriotic sacrifices that will command the unqualified admiration of the west who may be called upon to follow in the train of the east should the need arise."
"In my capacity as federal fuel administrator for Pennsylvania, it is my duty to enforce the order. Loyal Americans will aid officers of the government in the observance of the ruling."
Many Employers Affected in Pennsylvania, Declares Manufacturers' Head
Philadelphia, Jan. 17.—Harry J. Sheemaker, secretary of the Pennsylvania Manufacturers' Association, said today that the order would affect the 3,000 employers who are members of the association. These manufacturers, who control the majority of the greatest industrial establishments in the state, employ about 500,000 persons.
Mr. Sheemaker said there are about 30,000 manufacturing plants throughout Pennsylvania. The number of employees in all the industrial plants in the state probably would be about 3,000,000.
He said the order may seriously affect the business of many employers. A large number of the members of the association are doing work for the government, either directly or indirectly.

Railways to Operate Sunday Passenger Train Schedules on Mondays
Local railroad officials said to-day that they would carry out instructions of the coal order to the effect that there is a difference of opinion as to whether passenger business will be handled on Monday. On both the Pennsylvania Railroad and Philadelphia and Reading Hayway, Sunday schedules do not include many trains as on week days. It is the belief that instructions will be given to carry out Sunday schedules on Mondays.
Freight traffic will be rushed every day. With a cut in passenger service on Mondays officials are of the opinion that they will be able to handle increased freight business and go a great way in wiping out congestions.
With the closing down of local plants during the next five days, there will be available a number of special shifting crews. These men, it is said will be assigned to other duties and will be kept at work.
Hell Gate Bridge Route Open For Freight Today
New York, Jan. 17.—Opening of the Hell Gate bridge route for freight service beginning to-day, establishing for the first time a more direct line for traffic from New England through New York City to the south and southeast, was announced last night as a war measure to speed up freight movement.
This route has been in operation for passenger traffic only since last March.

One-Seventh of Chicago's Saloons Quit During 1917
Chicago, Jan. 17.—During 1917 a total of 910 saloons in Chicago went out of business, involving a loss of revenue to the city of $320,000. This was disclosed at a meeting of the finance committee of the council which had the annual budget under consideration.
At the beginning of 1917 there were 7,000 saloons in Chicago.

Baldwin Works Will Lose Seventeen Locomotives Every Day of Idleness
By Associated Press
Philadelphia, Jan. 17.—Industrial and labor leaders in Philadelphia, although regarding Fuel Administrator Garfield's order halting business activity as extremely drastic, expressed their willingness to-day co-operate in every way possible. Most of them said the order would mean the loss of thousands of dollars; that some working forces might be disorganized and that some unrest among workers might result, but that the main consideration was to win the war, "no matter what the cost."
Alba B. Johnson, president of the Baldwin Locomotive Works, said that "whatever is done, we will take our medicine." He added that the closing of the Baldwin plants would mean the loss of seventeen locomotives for each day of idleness.
It is estimated that 6,000 industrial establishments and 200,000 workmen in Philadelphia will be affected by the order with a wage loss of $1,000,000.

Physicians Explain Why Women Need More Iron in Their Blood Today Than 20 Years Ago
Say Anaemia—Lack of Iron is Greatest Curse to the Health, Strength, Vitality and Beauty of the Modern American Woman.
The Child's Appeal—What Is Your Answer?

DR. FERDINAND KING, New York Physician and Medical Author says more physicians should prescribe more organic iron—Nuxated Iron—Nuxated Iron—Nuxated Iron. Opinions of Dr. Ferdynd King, M.D., Visiting Surgeon, St. Elizabeth's Hospital, New York City; Dr. H. B. Any woman who tires easily, is nervous or irritable, or looks pale, haggard, and worn should at once have her blood examined for iron deficiency. Nuxated Iron will increase the strength and endurance of weak, nervous, careworn women 100 per cent in two weeks' time.

"There can be no strong, healthy, beautiful, rosy-cheeked women without iron," says Dr. Ferdinand King, Medical Author. "In my recent talks to physicians on the grave and serious danger of iron deficiency in the blood of American women I have strongly emphasized the fact that doctors should prescribe more organic iron—nuxated iron—for their nervous, weak, haggard-looking patients."

Dr. H. B. Vail, formerly Physician in the Baltimore Hospital and a Medical Examiner, says: "Throughout my experience on Hospital duty and as Medical Examiner, I have been astonished at the number of patients who have vainly doctored for various diseases, when in reality their delicate, run-down state was simply the result of lack of iron in the blood. Time and again I have prescribed organic iron—Nuxated Iron—and surprised patients at the rapidity with which the weakness and general debility were removed. It renewed their strength and vitality. I took Nuxated Iron myself to build me up after a serious case of nervous exhaustion. The effects were apparent after a few days and within three weeks it had put me in a superb physical condition."
"I have known many cases," says Dr. E. Sauer, a Boston physician, who has studied both in this country and in great European Medical Institutions, "of a great believer in Nuxated Iron. It often acts like magic. Not long ago a man came to me who had failed to get results, remembering that such products are an entirely different thing from Nuxated Iron."
NOTE—Nuxated Iron, which is prescribed above and recommended above in cases in such great variety of cases, is not a patent medicine nor secret remedy, but one which is well known to druggists and whose iron constituents are widely prescribed by eminent physicians in Europe and America. Unlike the older iron-ore products, it is easily assimilated and does not injure the stomach or the bowels. It is a most potent remedy in nearly all forms of iron deficiency, as well as for nervous, run-down conditions. The manufacturers have such great confidence in Nuxated Iron, that they offer to forfeit $100.00 on any charitable institution if they cannot take any man or woman under 60 who lacks iron, and increase their strength 100 per cent, or over in four weeks' time, provided they have no serious organic trouble. They also offer to refund your money if it does not at least double your strength and endurance in ten days' time. It is disposed in this city by all good druggists. Dr. Keller, G. A. Gorgan, J.
