BROTHERS STEAL MANY CHICKENS

Admit Using Livery Team to Visit Farms in Vicinity of York Haven

York Haven, Pa., Jan. 17.—In the local schools, and his brother, Elton Kohr, a student at the York Collegiate Institute, both residents of Manchester township, were arrested yesterday at York, charged with the theft of a number of chickens they were about to dispose of to Felix Bentzel, a poultry dealer. The young men were committed to jail and will be arraigned later.

Goldsboro Councilmen Refuse to Fill Office

Goldsboro, Pa., Jan. 17.—Borough Council has been unable to reorganize here as a result of three of the members elected last fall refusing to serve. The clerk to the Council, W. N. Mantsberger, who has acted in their stead, has also announced that he will not serve in the future. Chief Burgess H. A. Bamberger has been scouring the borough for councilmen but up to date has been unable to find enough men to complete the organization. The members who refuse to serve are: John T. Hensholder, Charles Eber and Clark Mantsberger. Mr. Hensholder intends to leave town to farm. It is claimed that dissatisfaction caused by long sessions that last late into the night is at the bottom of the trouble.

Outdoor Workers are subject to exposure to all kinds of weather, and strenuous outdoor work brings the rheumatic aches. You can't afford to be laid up, so head that first twinge of rheumatism. Use Sloan's Liniment. Clean and convenient, no need to rub, no stains, no clumsy plasters and your pain disappears.

Tour to Spread Gospel of War Needs Starts

Carlisle, Pa., Jan. 17.—Elaborate plans have been made for a speaking tour to-night to be addressed by former Senator Tustin and Lieutenant Hector McQuarrie, of the British army, who are speakers for the Pennsylvania Public Safety Committee. The meeting here will also mark the formal beginning of the tours of county speakers to spread the gospel of war needs and to put down sedition.

CUMBERLAND VALLEY FRENCH GLAD TO SEE AMERICANS

State's Special Agent Finds That Method of Accounting Was Misleading

Carlisle, Pa., Jan. 17.—The tangle in the Carlisle borough finance has been unraveled by the visit of George W. Myers, a special agent of the Department of Labor and Industry. After a new summary of the books he holds that the town not only can borrow the $10,000 sought for a new automobile fire truck, but can issue $50,000 additional in bonds, if such are authorized, and still be within the limit.

Freak Answers Brought Out by Draft Questionnaire

Waynesboro, Pa., Jan. 17.—Classification draft questionnaires have brought into the light no end of freaks over the country, but not many to exceed two in the second exemption district of this county. One was an ostensibly feeble-minded person, but his sense of humor could not be kept from him. He refused to sign papers until he had "consulted Senator Penrose."

Cumberland County Women Enroll For War Service

Carlisle, Pa., Jan. 17.—Over 1,200 Cumberland county women have enrolled for war services, according to the committee, just made public. The organization will be kept intact to aid in other forms of war activity. A majority of the women have volunteered to be trained and to aid them special classes will be started under the auspices of the Carlisle Red Cross Chapter. In addition, a "war camp" is expected to be opened here by the school board. A number of organizations and agencies have endorsed this project.

Carlisle's New Industry

Carlisle, Pa., Jan. 17.—Carlisle's new industry, a branch of the General Cigar Company, is now in active operation here. About twenty girls are now being instructed in cigar-making which will start about February. It is planned to canvass the district for additional workers.

BARR SPANGLER 95 YEARS OLD

Marietta Merchant Has Been in Business Many Years and Is Still Active

BARR SPANGLER

Marietta, Pa., June 17.—Barr Spangler, senior member of the firm of B. & C. Spangler, dry goods merchants, was 95 years old on Tuesday. Mr. Spangler has been in the mercantile business since he was fourteen years old. He is generally first at the store in Market street in the morning and remains until closing time at night, except for a lunch, which he takes at the noon hour. He is one of the heaviest workers of land and real estate in the community, and recently one of his finest farms was sold to the Pennsylvania Railroad Company for improvement in the west end. He is vice-president of the First National Bank of Marietta, and is affiliated with many other enterprises. He is the oldest man in Marietta. For many years he has served on the official board of the First Methodist Episcopal Church, and the weather has to be very bad before he will miss a service. He is a director of the Marietta Gravity Water Company, of the Donegal and Conoy Mutual Fire Insurance Company and of several other companies. Mr. Spangler's wife is a few years his junior and the couple will soon celebrate their seventy-first wedding anniversary.

PENNSYLVANIA WOMEN SHOULD READ THIS

The selections of a married woman are not pleasant if she is delicate, run-down, or over-worked. She feels "played out." Her smile and her good spirits have taken flight. It worries her husband as well as herself. This is the time to build up her strength and cure those weaknesses or ailments which are the cause of her trouble. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription regulates and promotes the proper functions of womanhood, enriches the blood by purifying it, brings refreshing sleep, and restores health and strength. It cures those nervous derangements incident to womanhood. It is now put up in tablet form. Write confidentially about your case or send for a free trial pack of "Favorite Prescription Tablets" to Dr. Pierce, President Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y. Several years ago I had a general break-down. A friend advised me to take Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. I took three bottles, then I felt that I was perfectly well and had been strong in the best of health since. My stomach is in fine shape, my nerves are all right, and I am feeling better than I have for many years. I feel that I have a wonderful tonic, and I am pleased to give this." MRS. WILLIAM SWICHER, Box 227, Pittsburg, N. S., Pa. "Some few years ago I began to go down in health. I was nervous and very weak—could not sleep or eat. I became so bad that I was very much discouraged. It was all caused by overwork and I did not get along. Instead of growing stronger, I grew weaker. I began taking Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription; it gave me rest, it built me up, and I could eat and sleep. In a few days I was in better health every way than I had been for some time. It is a perfectly wonderful tonic for women who are ailing."—MRS. W. A. ESTEP, 1105 Sherman Ave.—Adv.

TRYING TO FREE LINCOLN ROAD

State Highway Department Communicates With Adams County Commissioners

Gettysburg, Pa., Jan. 17.—In a communication received from the State Highway Department the matter of Adams county paying its part of the cost to free the Lincoln highway from toll was presented to the County Commissioners at their meeting this week. The matter was held over, however, and no answer given as to what the county would do, because the presence of Harry B. Sagle, chairman of the Board of Commissioners, was needed at the sitting of the Adams county exemption board. They did notify the state authorities that they would take the matter up as soon as possible. The turnpike company asks $22,000 for that part of the road lying in Adams county, and the present offer of the state that they pay half and the county half would place $11,000 on each party.

Food Administrator Will Keep Watch on Merchants

Gettysburg, Pa., Jan. 17.—Dr. E. H. Markley, who has been appointed county food administrator for Adams county, has organized the county into a number of small units and will keep close tabs on the merchants to see that they do not overcharge the buyers for the necessities they must have.

STORED POTATOES FREEZING

Gettysburg, Pa., Jan. 17.—Scarcity of coal and wood is not the only hardship being endured by the people of this section out in the rural districts, but the cold spell has been freezing the potatoes that the farmers have had stored away for sale in the spring. Eighty bushels frozen for George McDonnell before he got them out of the barn, while others have lost their entire crop in the cellars.

GERMAN MEASLES SPREADING

Gettysburg, Pa., Jan. 17.—German measles, believed to have been carried into East Berks by visitors, caused the closing down of the schools of that borough and of the quarantining of nearly a dozen homes. In some of these homes there are several cases of the disease and a few of those afflicted are very sick, a complication with colds bringing the patients near the danger point.

Snyder County Draft Board Classifies 1,232 Registrants

Middleburg, Pa., Jan. 17.—Snyder county's draft board has finished classifying the 1,232 registrants of the county to whom questionnaires had been sent. The board has been working on the classification for several weeks, and they are being commended on the efficiency and speed of their work. The classification also meets the approval of the registrants. The draft board is composed of Sheriff Charles Matern, County Commissioner H. A. Bowersox and Dr. Harry Wagenseller.

BANK OFFICERS RE-ELECTED

Liverpool, Pa., Jan. 17.—Stockholders of the First National Bank have re-elected the following directors: W. L. Lenhart, Lafayette Grubb, J. D. Snyder and George Snyder. The board of directors re-elected the following officers: President, W. L. Lenhart; vice-president, J. D. Snyder; cashier, H. S. Shuler. The bank is in excellent condition, as reports will indicate.
