ENDEAVOR CHOIR ATTENDS PARTY

Miss Myrtle Brown Given a Birthday Surprise by Her Parents

A capacity audience in the Chestnut Street Auditorium last night greeted the first showing of the wonderful pageant, "The Reformation," with over three hundred representative Lutherans of the city, in the cast.

The Harrisburg-Gettysburg Woman's League staged the production for the benefit of the National Lutheran Commission for Soldiers and Sailors' Welfare. A big drive for two and one-half million dollars for this cause will be started throughout the country next week.

The life and times of Martin Luther, the great Reformer, were shown with historical exactness, in a tableau and lantern slides, with Miss S. Ethel Brown, of Washington, D. C., as reader, assisted by local musicians. The entertainment began with the audience standing and singing, "The Star Spangled Banner," led by Miss Mary Belle Corbett as Columbia. Then came flag drills forming various and sundry shapes, and the views of the Luther home and of his early life to the time of becoming a monk. In the monastery scene at Luther at the Diet of Worms, the men received enthusiastic applause for their fine work.

Perhaps the greatest scene of all was Luther at the Diet of Worms, with the parts taken by the Rev. Dr. L. C. Manges, Luther; the Rev. M. E. Shafer, emperor; the Rev. George N. Laufer, selector; the Rev. Edgar A. Snyder, cardinal, and the Rev. A. M. Starnes as Knight George. There were various courtiers, priests and princes and the page was Henry W. A. Hanson.

Beautiful Tableau Another beautiful tableau was the "Nuns Leaving Convent." Mrs. John Dapp, standing and dignified Abbess, and Mrs. William C. Bumbaugh as Julia, the novice, singing the wonderfully beautiful "Ave Maria," thrilled the vast audience with the power and delicacy of her voice as never before. Miss Mary Belle Corbett was also soloist of this scene, giving pleasure by her rare interpretation of her parts. The story by Miss Anna Staley, Mrs. Bumbaugh and Miss Adelaide Lusk were wonderfully beautiful.

After many illustrations of the story told by Miss Brown, the grand finale and allegorical procession of "The Church Militant," with flags flying and sword-clashing, Luther's great hymn, "Ein Feste Burg," and the audience rises and joins in "America." To-morrow evening the final presentation will be given in the Chestnut Street Auditorium, which will probably be crowded to the doors, as the production is that arouses interest everywhere because of its historic setting.

No Inconclusive Peace Says Emerson Collins "The War as We View It to-day," was the subject discussed at a meeting of the Civic Club yesterday afternoon by Emerson Collins, Deputy Attorney General of Pennsylvania, who received hearty applause from his large audience.

There must be no inconclusive peace," said he, "at the end of this conflict into which the United States has entered. All our previous wars prove that as a nation we win what we set out to win, and your Uncle Sammy has not forgotten this habit. We would have the fruit of peace, blessing to the conquered as well as the conquerors. Without hate, without malice, let us save that terrible power which threatened the safety of the world, we have sent Old Glory to France and she must return by way of Berlin."

John H. McCandless, secretary of the Associated Aid Societies urged the protection of human life at home and asked for more volunteer workers in his field. Mrs. William Heers, president of the club, emphasized the importance of food saving and reminded the women their help will soon be needed in forming the Junior Aid to the Red Cross.

Mrs. Inogen Oakley and Miss Grace Falkner, who write under the name of "Deborah Franklin," both of Philadelphia, will be the speakers at the next Civic Club meeting Monday, February 13.

The Rev. B. B. Sutcliffe, of the Moody Bible Institute Extension Department who will conduct the monthly Bible conference in the First Baptist Church, January 28 and 29, will be registered at the Bolton House during his stay here.

MUST CONSERVE WATER TO AVOID SERIOUS FAMINE

City Commissioner Hassler to Prosecute Persons Who Waste Supply

Because of the serious wasting of water during the last few weeks, Commissioner Samuel F. Hassler today issued a warning to all residents of the city not to allow any faucets, spigots or other outlets remain open in order to keep pipes from freezing. The water depth in the city reservoir is slightly above nine feet, less than one day's supply, and with the two old pumps at the city pumping station in use a breakdown would mean a water famine until repairs were made.

Residents are urged in order to prevent pipes from freezing to turn off the water. It is usually provided for that purpose. It is usually located in the cellar. While some of the industrial plants have been closed for the last few days, the water in the reservoir has been receding slowly, due entirely, city officials say, to the wasting of water by letting faucets open. Commissioner Hassler's warning follows:

"It has come to the knowledge of the Department of Public Safety that an enormous quantity of water is being wasted by consumers by allowing hydrants, spigots and other water openings to run continuously, particularly during the night, to prevent freezing.

"This practice has developed to such an extent as to seriously jeopardize the safety of the community by materially decreasing the city's normal water supply, and it is imperative that this wastage be stopped forthwith.

"The city's water regulations provide: "Any consumer or other person, who shall allow any stop to be turned on unnecessarily, or the water to be wasted, shall have the supply of water shut off, and the amount paid therefor shall be forfeited. When the water shall be shut off for a violation of this regulation, it shall not be ready to turn on until all back charges shall have been paid, and a permit purchased from the city treasurer, who shall charge two dollars therefor.

"No person shall wilfully open a stop, or leave any opening in a condition so as to permit the water to waste, whether such person be a water tenant or not.

"It shall be the duty of every police officer and employee of the department to give prompt and immediate information of any waste of water to the mayor or any alderman of the city, and to appear as a witness in every such case, and any officer or employee neglecting or failing to do so, shall be subject to immediate dismissal by the proper authorities.

"In addition to the penalties above prescribed for a violation of the regulations, the regulations further provide that all persons violating the same shall be subject to a fine of five dollars and costs of prosecution.

The foregoing regulations will be enforced to the letter. All employees of this department have been instructed, and the assistance of the police department has been requested.

BOARD TO SELL BONDS Bids for the purchase of all or part of $38,000 4 1/2 per cent coupon bonds, and $402,000 of the same kind will be opened by the city school board, and $402,000 of the same kind are free of state tax will be dated from January 1, 1918, and will bear interest payable semiannually on the first of January and the first of July. The first of the bonds will mature in 1923.
