Princeton Easy Winner Over Yale Cage Team; Team Work Counts

New Haven, Conn., Jan. 28 .- The Yale quintet fell prey to Princeton's strong five here Saturday by the onesided score of 36-22. The Orange and Black displayed a remarkably powerful attack, and put the defense of the Blue to route. Trimble and Howe, the visitors' star forwards, were everywhere and their field-shooting was the best that has been seen on the home floor this season.

In the second half, however, the superior team play of the Princeton's could not be coped with oy the individual play of the men in Blue and the score quickly rose in favor of the visitors. Vanslyck and shedd teamed up well at the two forward positions for Yale, but any spurt on the part of either was of short duration, due to the rugged defense work of the Orange and linck guards, Taylor and Gray. Taylor's work was especially noticeable and time and again he brought the ball from in under his own basket into Yale territory from where finding his forwards covered he tossed the basket himself. His entire Princeton aggregation is deserving of praise and conclusively showed that it is to be counted in the final reckoning of the Intercol-

Grace Methodist Church Goes on Record Against the Booze Business

Following a sermon by Dr. Robert Eagnell in Grace Methodist Church, on "Armageddon and the Beast," yesterday, the congregation adopted resolutions pledging themselves not to vote for any candidate for the Legislature of Pennsylvania, who would not support a prohibition plank in the Federal Constitution. The trustees of the church who signed the resolutions are: E. Z. Wallower, H. B. Mitchell, W. P. Starkey, W. L. Stoey, Arthur D. Bacon, John P. Melick, J. H. Patton.

Dr. Bagnell told how the prominent industries of the nations have classed any user of liquor, as inefficient. He branded the licensing of the liquor traffic as one of the greatest mistakes of all ages. "It must not be said that the Pennsylvania of Independence Hall, Valley Forge and Gettysburg, cannot free herself from the beast," he declared.

It is believed that this resolution passed by the congregation is the first time a congregation in this vicinity has voted on a political question in a church service.

No matter what the car, or what it size, the driver can save gasoline if he will follow the simple suggestions made by a Cadillac engineer. Most of them are a matter of handling the car Here they are—eight of them:—Carburetor adjustment is of prime Importance. A mixture that is too rich or too lean will cause more) gasoline to be used in performing a given amount of labor than a correct Cotture. But don't attempt to adjuss your carburetor unless you know how. Most cars have what may be termed an economical speed. It ranges from twelve to twenty miles per hour. When your get above that speed the amount of gas used per mile increases. Anticipating slowing up and stops. Close the throttle and discange the clutch far enough ahead of the place you want to stop so that very little use of the brake will be necessary. Whenever you use the brakes you destroy momentum that has required gasoline to create. Accelerate gradually. It takes less gas to do that than to reach a fast gait quickly.

Whenever you allow the engine to run with the car standing you are using up gas thaid doesn't make any showing on your odometer.

See that the brakes are properly adjusedd. Tight brakes cause friction and friction takes power, and hence gasoline, to overcome. Good lubricating oil is also essential to gasoline economy. Finally, tires should be properly inflated. Soft tires drag and require more power to propel the car than three containing correct air pressure.
