

SCHOOL COUNCIL WORKING WELL

Student Government in Hummelstown High School Aids Discipline

Student government in the Hummelstown High School has resulted in a big improvement in the discipline of the pupils, according to Professor A. Geesey, principal of the school, at whose suggestion the plan was worked out.

The students several months ago were asked to vote on the question of self-government, the ballot showing a big majority in favor of the plan. Details were worked out and a school council formed, of which Professor Geesey is chairman and Miss Mary Light, of the Senior class, is secretary.

The council includes three seniors, three juniors, two sophomores and two freshmen. The teachers act as ex-officio members. The students then decided on all the rules for discipline in the school, in the study halls and when classes go from one room to another. The governing body meets every Tuesday night to discuss any improvements which can be made and to make suggestions in the rules under which all the pupils are controlled.

Just how successful the plan has been can be gathered from a few remarks by Professor Geesey:

Within the last few months the students have demonstrated to me and to the other members of the faculty that they can take charge of the school themselves. We have a pupil in charge of the study hall, and others overseeing the changing of groups from one classroom to another. There has been a big improvement in the discipline from the time the system was started and all the pupils are co-operating to make it a success.

The Hummelstown school district has arranged for departmental work in the sixth, seventh and eighth grades, and part departmental work in the third, fourth and fifth grades. The change in methods has brought fine results, according to Professor Geesey, and has been approved by Professor F. E. Shambaugh, county school superintendent.

Interesting Program Given at Waynesville

Waynesville, Pa., Jan. 30.—On Friday evening the Waynesville Literary Society met in the schoolroom and many interesting topics were discussed by the pupils and people of the community. The principal themes were those on "Education," "Character," "Charity" and "Farming." A dramatization was successfully given by the second class. C. E. Wise spoke on the "Provisioning of a Modern Steamer," and H. J. Budd delivered an address on "King Alcohol." Music was furnished by the Waynesville orchestra, Messrs. Miller, Moss and Dill. After electing H. Budd, president, and Miss Gertrude Hoover, secretary, the meeting adjourned.

FOOD COMMITTEE READY FOR WORK

Representative in Upper End of County Names Men to Aid in the Campaign

Halifax, Pa., Jan. 30.—This week the Dauphin County Committee of Food Supply, of which Donald McCormick, of Harrisburg, is chairman, named Prof. S. C. Beltzel as their representative in Halifax borough and township and gave him authority to appoint committees.

For the borough he has appointed as his aids O. S. Hill, the Rev. H. B. Slider, R. A. Shumaker and H. S. Potter. In the township he has named Theodore H. Lebo, C. I. Glace, John W. Clemson, Saint L. Sheetz.

The duty of these committees is to secure seed for farmers and gardeners, school gardens and the increase of live stock, encourage and create roadside markets and other means of disposing of crops at fair prices for producer and consumer. Food saving will be urged and canning and other demonstrations arranged to assist the housewife.

Columbia Firemen Ask For Motor Apparatus

Columbia, Pa., Jan. 30.—Borough firemen at a mass meeting Monday night decided to petition Council to increase the amount of their appropriations so that they would be able to motorize the fire apparatus and H. M. North, Jr., who presided, and made the principal address, was instructed to name a committee to represent each of the five companies. Dr. G. W. Berntheisel, ex-president of the State Firemen's Association, was one of the speakers and made a strong plea for the increase. The borough has reached the limit of its borrowing capacity and Council contends that to increase appropriations would mean to increase the tax rate.

CLASPBYSAYS 26 SNOWSTORMS

Lewistown Weather Prophet Has Predicted Exact Number For Five Winters

Lewistown, Pa., Jan. 30.—Nineteen snows have fallen here to date. E. Ellsworth Claspby, who has predicted the number of snows to fall in this section each season for five years past, calls for twenty-six this winter. Good sleighing here since December 5, and the coldest winter in this section since 1875 are features.

Wild turkeys, pheasants and other wild game in the woods of Mifflin county have been suffering from the cold and lack of food. Game Warden Slaughterback is trying his best to get food to the birds and animals of the forest. Many farmers are also feeding the wild game.

OPENS ROADS FOR EMPLOYEES

Columbia, Pa., Jan. 30.—Arnold Egolf, superintendent of the Columbia silk mills, employs a number of hands who live in adjoining towns and as these were snowbound and unable to respond for work, he hired a snowplow and horses and opened the road for a distance of several miles from his mills to the suburban

Harrisburg Telegraph Carries During 1917 Greatest Volume of Advertising in Its History

Telegraph led nearest penny competitor in local advertising

409,000 lines

During 1917 the Harrisburg Telegraph carried the greatest volume of advertising in its 86 years' history.

In line with other two-cent newspapers everywhere throughout the country the volume of advertising carried by the Telegraph was greater than that carried by penny papers.

In local advertising it led its nearest competitor by more than 400,000 lines.

In foreign advertising it led its nearest competitor by more than 280,000 lines.

In classified advertising it led its nearest competitor by more than 44,000 lines.

In all classes of advertising it led its nearest competitor by practically three quarters of a million lines, more than 50,000 inches.

Advertisers are recognizing more than ever that quality is as essential in the purchase of newspaper space as in everything else.

The old argument of the penny newspaper that its higher-priced competitor is read only in the homes of the wealthy has lost its punch.

To advance it is to discount the intelligence of the great army of workers who in these days insist upon keeping themselves abreast with the times by being correctly posted on events at home and abroad.

That the Harrisburg Telegraph is read in three out of four homes in Central Pennsylvania every evening is indisputable evidence that it is read by the representative classes in every branch of human endeavor — the businessman, the professional man, the clerk, the employer, the laborer and the farmer.

That it is purchased at a higher price than other Harrisburg papers cost evidences the confidence reposed in it.

That it enjoys this confidence on the part of the masses is the best reason why it should enjoy the confidence of the advertiser.

The paper the people are willing to pay more to get must be the paper they want most — and the paper the people want most is the paper in which the advertiser gets the most — the best attention for his message.

In Harrisburg that paper is the
