"Such important essentials as sugar have been kept back from delivery to eastern points. Great sections of the country has for weeks been threatened by a coal shortage that has resulted in shutting down factories, the dimming of electric signs and in much suffering in many places. In Detroit it has not been an uncommon sight to see coal treasured in bushel bags being transported to homes in limousines.

"The freight situation has grown so acute that now even express cars are not obtainable for automobile shipments. The express companies are permitted to furnish their cars only for less than carload sizes.

"It is easy to see then just what a demand there will be for cars. Early buyers will be the wise ones."

Comparatively few people outside of New England are acquainted with the magnitude of the brass industry, the importance of it in connection with present world conditions, and the enormous profits that have been and are now being made by the brass manufactories in the State of Connecticut.

In the City of Waterbury, Conn., alone (the brass center of the United States) more than 100 brass plants are in

Flour Sacks AreShort

Many retail merchants in selling flour, cornmeal and buckwheat flour in small sacks are unintentionally giving short weight to customers, according to Harry D. Reel, city inspector of weights and measures. Mr. Heel said to-day in many instances he had weighed sacks which had been marked containing a certain amount of flour or meal and had found that the weight was short from 2 to 8 ounces. as Wheat Substitute

Rye flour is not considered in Pennsylvania as a substitute for wheat under the recent call from President Wilson for the conservation of white flour, State Food Administrator Heinz to-day telegraphed H. H. Mentzer, administrator of Cumberland county. This because of the great demand for rye abroad. Rye flour, however, may be used as a substitute pending the arrival of other substitutes into the state's markets.

Administrator Heinz now is calling upon local administrators to prevent hoarding of wheat by enforcing rules restricting the amount of flour that may be purchased.
