for them. Have I told you that I am a regu-lar member of the staff of the Heavy Artillery School? As such I am now taking my meals at the officers' mess and am meeting some of the finest type of American men I ever knew. They are all impressed with the se-riousness of their task. I told some of them what my brother said in one of them what my brother said in one of the letters, that he prayed he would not receive a commission if he were not really fitted for it. They told me that that was the sentiment throughout the school. Touching Address to Soldiers told me that that was the sentiment throughout the school. Touching Address to Soldiers Dr. Anderson has been here. The boys say, "This man is a prince." He said to them, "Boys, I am going to take a message home to your dear ones. You'can make it whatever you wish as long as you don't mention names of places, but think what it would mean to your mother, wife, sister or sweetheart to have you tell them that you here and now recon-secrated yourself to God and that you would not bow down when the music plays. (This was the subject matter of his wonderful sermon.) You re-member when your mother taught you to say, 'Now I lay me down to sleep, I pray the Lord my soul to keep, etc.' Won't you tell her now that you will say that prayer if no other and that you will return to her as pure as you left her? The effect was tremendous. Over 350 messages were handed to him and everybody came up to shake hands. Dr. Ander-son says the messages were of the most touching character. Most of them promising not to bow down, and asking for prayers for the Y. M. C. A. who sent such an inspiring man to them. There will be an ac-count of the meeting in the "Associa-tion Men." along and geod-naturedly attempted to show them how it should really be done. The Frenchmen maraged to get the ball to their glove which never held itand to catch it if it came anywhere near him, but the Amer-ican began to put so much steam into it that they seemed quite re-lieved when he left them alone. And so the game went on as at first, only each time they returned the ball they approached each other a little more. I had to go about some business but a quarter of an hour later I looked out and they were still having the time of their lives. They were now almost on top of one another but their gloves seemed to have holes in them and they had no success in holding it. It is strange that baseball is so little known over here. The French however seem to like it, and may be able to do fairly well, but, as everybody knows, it requires many youth to get the knack of our great American game. In rough football the French are often more than a match for the Americans; they are clean, skillful, plucky boxers and have more than held their own in France—the excitement at a game in which everybody took sides sur-passes all imagination. The only drawback is that it would undoubt-edly lead as it has in America to an entriely new vocabulary and if the French kept pace with the Ameri-cans in this respect, the result would be hopeless. The girls had a wonderful dinner for us—all the regular Thanksgiving fixings with apple, mince and pumpkin pies. It was just as fine as it could possibly be. The major found out that Dr. Cockett had made the mince pies so he asked her for a saw to cut the crust. Dr. Cockett reached right into her pocket and brought out a great big knife, opened one of the blades which turned out to be a perfectly good saw. The major still insisted he couldn't cut through the crust so Dr. Cockett went out into the kitchen and re-appeared with a big butcher's cleaver. The major seemed satisfied with that and went around cutting everybody's pie with it.	90c Bisurated Magnesia60e25c Vick's Vapo-rub17e25c Sloan's Liniment15e50c Sloan's Liniment29e1 pound Merck's Sugar Milk58e1 pound Epsom Salt8ePhenolax Wafers (30 in bottle)23e$1.00 Parmint63e$1.00 Panopeptine75e75c Rodell Bath Saltrates59eAspirin Tablets—10089e50c Dr. Bosanko's Pile Remedy38e50c Glover's Vermifuge38e	Drugs Rose Water and Glycer 4 oz Camphorated Oil, 4 oz., Aromatic Spts.
