

BAKERS' PROMISE "PREPOSTEROUS" SAYS HITCHCOCK

War Secretary's Statements Would Convey Wrong Impression, Says Senator

Washington, Feb. 4.—Secretary Baker's recent statement to the Senate Military Committee that the United States would have half a million soldiers in France early this year and that the government was not promising for ships to carry a million more who would be ready during the year were characterized by Senator Hitchcock in an address to the Senate today as "absolutely preposterous and * * * so exaggerated as to convey an entirely false impression to what we can do and what we are doing."

Supporting the committee's bills for a war cabinet and munitions director, Senator Hitchcock declared Secretary Baker was no doubt sincere, but was misled by lack of information regarding security of the ships in making sanguine predictions. He said President Wilson himself "does not know the real situation," and cited this situation as an illustration of the absence of government co-ordination.

Administration leaders prepared to reply to Senator Hitchcock, whose speech launched the debate which has been impending since Secretary Baker made his statement and the President made known his opposition to the military committee's plans for re-organizing the government's war machinery.

Conceding that much of a big task has been creditably done, the Nebraska senator insisted centralized and co-ordinated war operations through a war cabinet and centralized purchasing through a munitions director are imperative. He asserted the President and Secretary Baker has tried, but failed to attain the object and that the government's system was obsolete. The committee's legislation, he urged, would not embarrass or interfere with the president's freedom of the war.

Sharp criticism of many government war activities was made by the senator in illustrating his arguments. He said the committee's legislation, he urged, would not embarrass or interfere with the president's freedom of the war.

"I am afraid to go too deeply into shipping figures," he added, "for one might be charged with giving information to the enemy. All who are informed as to the present supply of our shipping were thunderstruck by the statements of Secretary Baker. His sanguine predictions as to our ability to ship men to Europe and supply them when the war is over are the wildest of the wildest."

"To supply a million men in France, supposing we could get them there, would require five million tons of shipping in constant use. We all know the total tonnage now available is nothing like that. This is looking for government expenditures of $250,000,000 a week."

"In the first place the President belongs to the school of political philosophers who adhere to the belief that all important legislation should originate with and be proposed by the executive. I cannot say that this is a sound policy, although it has some obvious advantages in that it provides leadership order and program."

"The senator summarized the enormous burdens on the President, including the military committee's policy, designing all the legislation for Congress to pass, dictating the industrial and political activities of the country and the enormous expenditures of $250,000,000 a week."

"I do not deny we also found much that was creditable and satisfactory. Two courses were open to the committee as a result of the investigation said Senator Hitchcock—to report conditions, 'making a few scapegoats and ignoring the greatest evil in our machinery' or recommending legislation to give the President 'an up-to-date war-making organization.'"

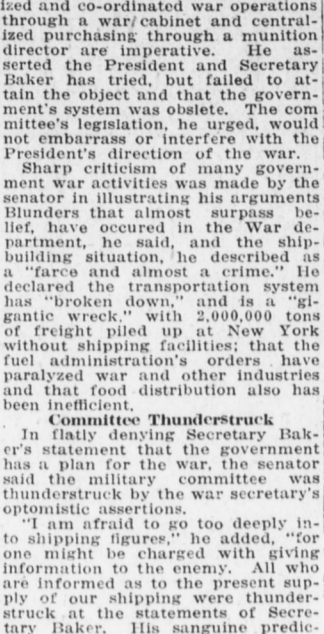

Senator John Sharp Williams, of Mississippi, and Senator James A. Reed, of Missouri, both Democrats, replied to Senator Hitchcock. The former, in a highly sarcastic and biting address, virtually accused Senator Hitchcock of aiding the enemy. He ridiculed the principle of the war cabinet bill. He declared it unconstitutional and a mere invasion of the President's constitutional powers. He challenged Senator Hitchcock to name three men whom he would recommend for seats in the war cabinet and then asserted the Senator would not dare to do so.

"The criticisms you have heard are specks," he shouted. "You have drawn a circle and filled it with specks and you call it the sun. Has not every one, the President, the Secretary of War and the Secretary of the Navy done his best? Has not every man and woman in the nation done their best? You are merely trying to strengthen a chain by adding another link to it."

"Unconstitutional," asserted Reed. Senator Reed, a member of the Military Affairs Committee, an opponent of the Administration in many instances, and, as he said today, "an insistent advocate of the independence of the legislative branch of the Government," took an entirely different view of the situation from Senator Williams, but as strongly and insistently opposed the bill.

HOW THE SNOW FLEW BEFORE ATTACK

In the above picture is seen a squad of workmen in charge of Charlie H. Tunis at work at Front and Paxton streets. The picture was taken as soon as the men alighted yesterday from the truck and began to do their bit in the snow-removing day program.

whom he would recommend for seats in the war cabinet and then asserted the Senator would not dare to do so.

"The criticisms you have heard are specks," he shouted. "You have drawn a circle and filled it with specks and you call it the sun. Has not every one, the President, the Secretary of War and the Secretary of the Navy done his best? Has not every man and woman in the nation done their best? You are merely trying to strengthen a chain by adding another link to it."

"Unconstitutional," asserted Reed. Senator Reed, a member of the Military Affairs Committee, an opponent of the Administration in many instances, and, as he said today, "an insistent advocate of the independence of the legislative branch of the Government," took an entirely different view of the situation from Senator Williams, but as strongly and insistently opposed the bill.

Senator Reed declared the war-cabinet measure was unconstitutional. He agreed with Senator Williams in that. He also agreed with him in the statement—and he said this should settle the question for all time—that if the President was to handle the war, he might not in the future appoint three capable men under the war-cabinet bill, and that if the men he has in mind are capable, are doing their best, it would be impossible to create three more competent men by legislation, just as it would be impossible to make the President wiser by legislation.

Senator Reed differed widely with Senator Williams on other points. He declared the mistakes that had been committed were by no means specks; that the misfortunes which have come about through the nation's hasty preparations for war are not specks.

"I am 29, and deeply in love with a man 45. My parents object to my going out with him because they think he is too old, and say I will never love him."

Miss Fairfax, do you think this difference in ages could not end in love? It is your reply that my parents are waiting to see.

R. B. Of course you and this man are of a whole generation apart, and when at the threshold of life and youth and he is a mature man—probably as old as your father. Naturally your tastes and inclinations are different. It is perfectly possible for a happy marriage to come in spite of this, but fifteen years from now, when you are thirty-five still a young woman—he will be sixty, and when you are just his present age he will have reached old age—'man's allotted span.' I think a marriage like this has a great many attendant risks, but in spite of them love is possible, and love 'conquers all things.'

Commander of Austrian Forces on Italian Front

GENERAL BOROEVIC.

In the recent shakedown of the Austrian staff on the Italian front, General Szeozar Boroevic was appointed to succeed Archduke Eugene as commander of the entire enemy front against Italy. The new Austrian commander is noted for defensive tactics and his appointment is construed as confirming reports that Austria intends to maintain a defensive attitude along the Italian front.

SHE ADMITS SHE HAD 4 HUSBANDS

"And It's None of Your Business," She Tells Attorney—Court Sustains Her

San Francisco.—A woman is entitled to as many husbands as she can get, provided she has only one at a time, according to Mrs. Josephine Fraser, 1915 Fifteenth street, who has had four of them.

Mrs. Fraser was before Judge Morgan with a petition for temporary alimony from Thomas R. Fraser, her fourth husband, pending trial of her divorce, in which she charges neglect. She was awarded $30 a month over the objections of James P. Sweeney, attorney for her husband. Sweeney asked Mrs. Fraser how many times she had been married.

"That is none of your business," she replied. "Judge Graham once told me that it made no difference how many husbands a woman had, provided she only had one at a time. I agree with him and so him one better by declaring that she is entitled to as many as she can get. I have had four, and if my luck holds I may have a few more."

Sweeney insisted upon further information regarding the husbands. She divorced the first, and he is somewhere in San Francisco, she said. The second she also divorced, but he died subsequently. The third died while they were living together. Sweeney asked what was the "real" reason for her asking a divorce from her present husband.

"That is none of your business," she replied, and the court sustained her.

Deaths and Funerals

ALFRED M. HAWN Word has been received here of the death of Alfred M. Hawn, 4633 Sanson street, Philadelphia. Mr. Hawn was formerly a resident of Harrisburg, and was assistant to the late Frederick C. Gore, chief clerk of the railway mail service. He later returned to Philadelphia, where he died. He was on the run to Shippenburg and was hurt in a wreck on that division. During his residence in Harrisburg he lived in North Thirteenth street.

EARL H. THOMAS Earl H. Thomas, 29, died yesterday morning at the home of Mrs. W. H. Weaver, 1913 Market street, after a short illness. The body will be taken to Morris by Charles H. Maak, undertaker, Thursday afternoon. Funeral services will be held from the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George R. Thomas, at 10 o'clock Friday morning. Burial will be made in the Salem Church cemetery.

ALONZO JOHNSON Funeral services for Alonzo Johnson, 22, who died in the Harrisburg Hospital yesterday morning, will be held from W. J. Hooper's funeral parlors to-morrow afternoon at 2 o'clock and burial will be made in Lincoln cemetery.

WILLIAM SCOTT William Scott, 19, died at the Harrisburg Hospital yesterday morning. His body will be shipped to Schollettsville, Virginia, to-morrow, by W. J. Hooper, undertaker, and burial will be made there.

NO HEADACHE OR NEURALGIA PAIN

Get a 10 cent package of Dr. James' Headache Powders and don't suffer.

When your head aches you simply must have relief or you will go wild. It is needless to suffer when you can take a remedy like Dr. James' Headache Powders and relieve the pain and neuralgia at once. Send someone to the drug store now for a dime package of Dr. James' Headache Powders. Don't suffer. In a few moments you will feel fine—headache gone—no more neuralgia pain.—Adv.

THAT STUBBORN COUGH OR COLD

which does not quickly yield to ordinary measures must be dealt with as dangerous. Try ECKMAN'S ALTERNATIVE

Taken in time, this Calcium preparation may prevent chronic conditions involving throat and lungs. Contains no Alcohol, Narcotic or Habit-Forming Drug. 82 size, now $1.50. 31 size, now $0.80. Price includes war tax. All druggists. Eckman Laboratory, Philadelphia.

OWENS WINS SERGEANCY ON POLICE FORCE

Mayor Keister Explains Promotion Should Always Come From Ranks

Council to-day unanimously appointed H. Morris Owens, 1834 Green street, a sergeant on the city police force. Patrolman Owens has been an officer for years, and in making the recommendation for his appointment Mayor Daniel L. Keister made a statement to the other commissioners explaining his reason for the action. Officer Owens was one of the four uniformed men to pass the civil service examinations and was third on the list submitted when the Mayor asked for names.

The list of successful candidates with the highest average should be the Mayor asked for names. The list of successful candidates with the highest average should be the Mayor asked for names.

Mayor Keister's statement follows: "It has been my opinion, and no doubt the same decision has been reached by others, that in a competitive examination for promotion in the police department the man selected should be the highest average should be appointed regardless of previous service. Upon careful consideration of all the facts in the case I can hardly agree with my opinion formed upon first thought. Police promotions under civil service regulations should be made from the ranks and the system of examinations now in vogue is entirely wrong, inasmuch as the man who has served the city as patrolman for fifteen or eighteen years, who has diligently performed his duty, without a black mark against him in all his service, cannot and should not be expected to pass an equal or better examination with an applicant who has served possibly one or two years. To promote on competitive figures, such as these, would be to eliminate the most efficient, so far as knowledge of duties is concerned.

"The life of a patrolman is not a pleasant one at all times. He is called upon to perform duties not conducive to good health, and I venture to say that no matter how good his physical condition may be at the time of his appointment, his exposure to all kinds of weather and the fact that he is required at all times to be on his feet, that at the end of ten or fifteen years of service he will not stand the same physical test as he would at the time of his appointment."

"In my opinion the law should be changed so that promotions should only come from the ranks and so far as an additional examination is concerned, that examination should consist only as to 'knowledge of duties.' If my thoughts along this line meets with the endorsement of the Civil Service Commission, if they will prepare an amendment to the law

Mayor Keister's statement follows: "It has been my opinion, and no doubt the same decision has been reached by others, that in a competitive examination for promotion in the police department the man selected should be the highest average should be appointed regardless of previous service. Upon careful consideration of all the facts in the case I can hardly agree with my opinion formed upon first thought. Police promotions under civil service regulations should be made from the ranks and the system of examinations now in vogue is entirely wrong, inasmuch as the man who has served the city as patrolman for fifteen or eighteen years, who has diligently performed his duty, without a black mark against him in all his service, cannot and should not be expected to pass an equal or better examination with an applicant who has served possibly one or two years. To promote on competitive figures, such as these, would be to eliminate the most efficient, so far as knowledge of duties is concerned.

"The life of a patrolman is not a pleasant one at all times. He is called upon to perform duties not conducive to good health, and I venture to say that no matter how good his physical condition may be at the time of his appointment, his exposure to all kinds of weather and the fact that he is required at all times to be on his feet, that at the end of ten or fifteen years of service he will not stand the same physical test as he would at the time of his appointment."

"In my opinion the law should be changed so that promotions should only come from the ranks and so far as an additional examination is concerned, that examination should consist only as to 'knowledge of duties.' If my thoughts along this line meets with the endorsement of the Civil Service Commission, if they will prepare an amendment to the law

Sergeant Russell Brightbill Reaches France in Safety

"Landed safe; well and happy." is the brief but encouraging message that Mrs. William Brightbill, of Heckton Mills, has received from her son, Russell Brightbill, who went to France with Pershing's expedition. Young Brightbill has made swift progress in army life, being now advanced to the title of sergeant. He is attached to Company D, 4th Battalion, Second Division.

MAYOR MAY CALL FOR SNOW BRIGADE

open the streets at many of the fire-plugs and intersections. Commissioner Lynch had the regular force out to-day to continue the snow removal and scores of truck and wagon loads of snow are being emptied into the snow hole at Market street.

Mayor Keister is planning to have printed small digests of all city ordinances for distribution to the members of the city police force, he said to-day. The Mayor made the suggestion to some of the other members of Council to-day and they approved it. For some years the patrolmen have had no printed copies of city laws in brief.

City Solicitor Fox will be consulted on the question and the City Solicitor's office will prepare the digest. According to Mayor Keister, it is necessary in returning suits for court to give the date the ordinance was passed in all penal cases. The digest will be a big help for city aldermen, for this reason, the official said.

Dr. Howard always recommended Oxidaze for Coughs, Colds, Br. Asthma

Years of study and observation convinced him it would safely, quickly and surely stop a bad cough and give instant relief in Bronchial Asthma. Money back if it fails. Guaranteed harmless. At George A. Gorgas and all druggists.

Remarkable Winter Coat Values

A Sale of Several Hundred Garments From Regular Stock

Embracing Materials That Cannot Be Duplicated For Next Winter

This final clearance of our entire remaining stock of Women's and Misses' Winter Coats brings one of the most opportune occasions of the long winter seasons to women who are anxious to own a coat of fine quality at a fraction of its regular price. The woollens used in these garments are far superior, we believe, to any that will be brought into use for next year.

Bolivia Broadcloth Velour Kerseys Pom Pom

The sizes and colors cover a very satisfactory range and the styles go to make the most interesting group that you have seen at a lowered price.

Some with fur collar; others with large, warm self collars.

$12.50 Coats of black kersey, in desirable sizes; extra special in the January Clearance. $9.50

$25.00 Coats in zibelines and kersey cloth, made in a high-waisted model and finished with broad belt with a convertible collar or self material in navy, black and brown. Final Winter Clearance. $18.50

$30.00 Coats in brown, black and navy; made in a belted model with a large cape collar of kit cone. Final Winter Clearance. $20.00

$25.00 Coats of fine quality pom pom with a full gathered back and inverted patch pockets; pockets and belt trimmed with buttons. Final Winter Clearance. $25.00

$39.50 Coats in wool velour in brown and beige, made in a full gathered back and finished with a broad belt; lined throughout with satin shawl collar of nutria. Final Winter Clearance. $30.00

$45.00 Coats in silvertone in gray and beetroot, made in a high-waisted model with full plaited skirt; lined throughout with fancy peau de cygne; convertible collar of self material. Final Winter Clearance. $35.00

OWENS WINS SERGEANCY ON POLICE FORCE

Mayor Keister Explains Promotion Should Always Come From Ranks

Council to-day unanimously appointed H. Morris Owens, 1834 Green street, a sergeant on the city police force. Patrolman Owens has been an officer for years, and in making the recommendation for his appointment Mayor Daniel L. Keister made a statement to the other commissioners explaining his reason for the action. Officer Owens was one of the four uniformed men to pass the civil service examinations and was third on the list submitted when the Mayor asked for names.

The list of successful candidates with the highest average should be the Mayor asked for names. The list of successful candidates with the highest average should be the Mayor asked for names.

Mayor Keister's statement follows: "It has been my opinion, and no doubt the same decision has been reached by others, that in a competitive examination for promotion in the police department the man selected should be the highest average should be appointed regardless of previous service. Upon careful consideration of all the facts in the case I can hardly agree with my opinion formed upon first thought. Police promotions under civil service regulations should be made from the ranks and the system of examinations now in vogue is entirely wrong, inasmuch as the man who has served the city as patrolman for fifteen or eighteen years, who has diligently performed his duty, without a black mark against him in all his service, cannot and should not be expected to pass an equal or better examination with an applicant who has served possibly one or two years. To promote on competitive figures, such as these, would be to eliminate the most efficient, so far as knowledge of duties is concerned.

"The life of a patrolman is not a pleasant one at all times. He is called upon to perform duties not conducive to good health, and I venture to say that no matter how good his physical condition may be at the time of his appointment, his exposure to all kinds of weather and the fact that he is required at all times to be on his feet, that at the end of ten or fifteen years of service he will not stand the same physical test as he would at the time of his appointment."

"In my opinion the law should be changed so that promotions should only come from the ranks and so far as an additional examination is concerned, that examination should consist only as to 'knowledge of duties.' If my thoughts along this line meets with the endorsement of the Civil Service Commission, if they will prepare an amendment to the law

Mayor Keister's statement follows: "It has been my opinion, and no doubt the same decision has been reached by others, that in a competitive examination for promotion in the police department the man selected should be the highest average should be appointed regardless of previous service. Upon careful consideration of all the facts in the case I can hardly agree with my opinion formed upon first thought. Police promotions under civil service regulations should be made from the ranks and the system of examinations now in vogue is entirely wrong, inasmuch as the man who has served the city as patrolman for fifteen or eighteen years, who has diligently performed his duty, without a black mark against him in all his service, cannot and should not be expected to pass an equal or better examination with an applicant who has served possibly one or two years. To promote on competitive figures, such as these, would be to eliminate the most efficient, so far as knowledge of duties is concerned.

"The life of a patrolman is not a pleasant one at all times. He is called upon to perform duties not conducive to good health, and I venture to say that no matter how good his physical condition may be at the time of his appointment, his exposure to all kinds of weather and the fact that he is required at all times to be on his feet, that at the end of ten or fifteen years of service he will not stand the same physical test as he would at the time of his appointment."

"In my opinion the law should be changed so that promotions should only come from the ranks and so far as an additional examination is concerned, that examination should consist only as to 'knowledge of duties.' If my thoughts along this line meets with the endorsement of the Civil Service Commission, if they will prepare an amendment to the law

Sergeant Russell Brightbill Reaches France in Safety

"Landed safe; well and happy." is the brief but encouraging message that Mrs. William Brightbill, of Heckton Mills, has received from her son, Russell Brightbill, who went to France with Pershing's expedition. Young Brightbill has made swift progress in army life, being now advanced to the title of sergeant. He is attached to Company D, 4th Battalion, Second Division.

Remarkable Winter Coat Values

A Sale of Several Hundred Garments From Regular Stock

Embracing Materials That Cannot Be Duplicated For Next Winter

This final clearance of our entire remaining stock of Women's and Misses' Winter Coats brings one of the most opportune occasions of the long winter seasons to women who are anxious to own a coat of fine quality at a fraction of its regular price. The woollens used in these garments are far superior, we believe, to any that will be brought into use for next year.

Bolivia Broadcloth Velour Kerseys Pom Pom

The sizes and colors cover a very satisfactory range and the styles go to make the most interesting group that you have seen at a lowered price.

Some with fur collar; others with large, warm self collars.

OWENS WINS SERGEANCY ON POLICE FORCE

Mayor Keister Explains Promotion Should Always Come From Ranks

Council to-day unanimously appointed H. Morris Owens, 1834 Green street, a sergeant on the city police force. Patrolman Owens has been an officer for years, and in making the recommendation for his appointment Mayor Daniel L. Keister made a statement to the other commissioners explaining his reason for the action. Officer Owens was one of the four uniformed men to pass the civil service examinations and was third on the list submitted when the Mayor asked for names.

The list of successful candidates with the highest average should be the Mayor asked for names. The list of successful candidates with the highest average should be the Mayor asked for names.

Mayor Keister's statement follows: "It has been my opinion, and no doubt the same decision has been reached by others, that in a competitive examination for promotion in the police department the man selected should be the highest average should be appointed regardless of previous service. Upon careful consideration of all the facts in the case I can hardly agree with my opinion formed upon first thought. Police promotions under civil service regulations should be made from the ranks and the system of examinations now in vogue is entirely wrong, inasmuch as the man who has served the city as patrolman for fifteen or eighteen years, who has diligently performed his duty, without a black mark against him in all his service, cannot and should not be expected to pass an equal or better examination with an applicant who has served possibly one or two years. To promote on competitive figures, such as these, would be to eliminate the most efficient, so far as knowledge of duties is concerned.

"The life of a patrolman is not a pleasant one at all times. He is called upon to perform duties not conducive to good health, and I venture to say that no matter how good his physical condition may be at the time of his appointment, his exposure to all kinds of weather and the fact that he is required at all times to be on his feet, that at the end of ten or fifteen years of service he will not stand the same physical test as he would at the time of his appointment."

"In my opinion the law should be changed so that promotions should only come from the ranks and so far as an additional examination is concerned, that examination should consist only as to 'knowledge of duties.' If my thoughts along this line meets with the endorsement of the Civil Service Commission, if they will prepare an amendment to the law

Mayor Keister's statement follows: "It has been my opinion, and no doubt the same decision has been reached by others, that in a competitive examination for promotion in the police department the man selected should be the highest average should be appointed regardless of previous service. Upon careful consideration of all the facts in the case I can hardly agree with my opinion formed upon first thought. Police promotions under civil service regulations should be made from the ranks and the system of examinations now in vogue is entirely wrong, inasmuch as the man who has served the city as patrolman for fifteen or eighteen years, who has diligently performed his duty, without a black mark against him in all his service, cannot and should not be expected to pass an equal or better examination with an applicant who has served possibly one or two years. To promote on competitive figures, such as these, would be to eliminate the most efficient, so far as knowledge of duties is concerned.

"The life of a patrolman is not a pleasant one at all times. He is called upon to perform duties not conducive to good health, and I venture to say that no matter how good his physical condition may be at the time of his appointment, his exposure to all kinds of weather and the fact that he is required at all times to be on his feet, that at the end of ten or fifteen years of service he will not stand the same physical test as he would at the time of his appointment."

"In my opinion the law should be changed so that promotions should only come from the ranks and so far as an additional examination is concerned, that examination should consist only as to 'knowledge of duties.' If my thoughts along this line meets with the endorsement of the Civil Service Commission, if they will prepare an amendment to the law

Sergeant Russell Brightbill Reaches France in Safety

"Landed safe; well and happy." is the brief but encouraging message that Mrs. William Brightbill, of Heckton Mills, has received from her son, Russell Brightbill, who went to France with Pershing's expedition. Young Brightbill has made swift progress in army life, being now advanced to the title of sergeant. He is attached to Company D, 4th Battalion, Second Division.

Remarkable Winter Coat Values

A Sale of Several Hundred Garments From Regular Stock

Embracing Materials That Cannot Be Duplicated For Next Winter

This final clearance of our entire remaining stock of Women's and Misses' Winter Coats brings one of the most opportune occasions of the long winter seasons to women who are anxious to own a coat of fine quality at a fraction of its regular price. The woollens used in these garments are far superior, we believe, to any that will be brought into use for next year.

Bolivia Broadcloth Velour Kerseys Pom Pom

The sizes and colors cover a very satisfactory range and the styles go to make the most interesting group that you have seen at a lowered price.

Some with fur collar; others with large, warm self collars.

Awaits Call From U. S. For Active Service in Navy

With examinations finished for petty officer in the United States Navy, W. S. Miller, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Miller, 1207 North Front street, is now waiting orders here at his home. Miller graduated from Tech in the class of 1916, and was associated with his father in the contracting business until he enlisted. He expects that he will be attached to a unit in the Third Naval District of New York.

BEST LIVER AND BOWEL LAXATIVE FOR FAMILY USE

"Cascarets" regulate women, men and children without injury.

Take when bilious, headachy, for colds, bad breath, sour stomach.

Instead of nasty, harsh pills, castor oil or dangerous calomel, why don't you keep Cascarets handy in your home? Cascarets are on the liver and thirty feet of bowel, so gently you don't realize you have taken a cathartic, but they act thoroughly and can be depended upon when a good liver and bowel cleaning is necessary—they move the bile and poison from the bowels without gripping and sweeten the stomach. You eat one or two at night like candy and you wake up feeling fine, the headache, biliousness, bad health, coated tongue, sour stomach, constipation, or bad cold disappears. Mothers should give cross, sick, feverish or bilious children a whole Cascarets any time—they are harmless and safe for the little folks.

Dr. Howard always recommended Oxidaze for Coughs, Colds, Br. Asthma

Years of study and observation convinced him it would safely, quickly and surely stop a bad cough and give instant relief in Bronchial Asthma. Money back if it fails. Guaranteed harmless. At George A. Gorgas and all druggists.

School of Commerce BUSINESS COLLEGE. Troup Building, 15 S. Market St. HARRISBURG. Bookkeeping, shorthand, stenography, typewriting, civil service. OUR OFFER—Right Training by Specialists and High Grade Positions. Don't take a course until you see the results. What you want, Day and Night School Entry. A Fully Accredited College.

Safe Satisfactory Sight Service. To eyeglass wearers and those who should be wearing them, safe and satisfactory service means everything. Come to us with all confidence and depend upon it— You will have no cause for complaint. R.D. Pratt, Eyesight Specialist, 26 NORTH THIRD STREET, Schielman Building.

CHILD GETS SICK CROSS, FEVERISH IF CONSTIPATED. Look at tongue! Then give fruit laxative for stomach, liver, bowels. "California Syrup of Figs" can't harm children and they love it. Mother! Your child isn't naturally cross and peevish. See if tongue is coated; this is the sign the little stomach, liver and bowels need a cleansing at once. When listless, pale, feverish, full of cold, breath bad, throat sore, doesn't eat, sleep or act naturally, has stomach-ache, diarrhoea, remember, a gentle liver and bowel cleansing should always be the first treatment given. Nothing equals "California Syrup of Figs" to give a child a healthy, teapoonful, and in a few hours all the foul waste, sour bile and fermenting food which is clogged in the bowels passes out of the system, and you have a well and playful child again. All children love this harmless, delicious "fruit laxative," and it never fails to effect a good "inside" cleansing. Directions for babies, children of all ages and grown-ups are plainly on the bottle. Keep it handy in your home. A little given to-day saves a sick child to-morrow, but get the genuine. Ask your druggist for a bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," then see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company."