

TOBACCO FUND IS BEST MEANS OF SENDING SMOKES

Yankees Will March Into Berlin and Men at Home Will Help

The little flag on Main Street is floating all the day. Its stars are fairly sparkling. Its stripes are glad and gay. It stops the passing zephyrs. To tell them as they dance: "I have a battle brother. Who flies to-day in France!"

The little flag on Main Street is streaming all the night. It hails the wheeling planets. Upon their glowing flight. It tells the joyful tidings. And calls to all its kin: "I have a battle brother. Who marches to Berlin!"

Yes, the Yankees will march to Berlin, sooner or later. It may cost a great number of lives. But they will get there. Any one who knows the history of this country knows that Uncle Sam is just what he used to be. He is no quitter. And the troops are of the same brand. The French people evidently think so. And they ought to know. They have fought a good fight. Listen to a French woman's words on the subject. Her youngest son had just been wounded, losing an eye. That did not stop him. He is back at the front. The mother writes:

"He is so proud and delighted, poor boy, to be an officer at twenty-one. He seemed quite delighted that the United States were more and more realizing the situation and that President Wilson was very popular among the French soldiers."

There is another son, of whom the devoted mother writes:

"While in Paris, he had dinner with Henriette and Marshal Joffre. Henriette certainly can be proud of her general husband. When the Americans arrived in Paris, the people went wild. Henriette, William and I went to meet the staff. It was a wonderful meeting. I cried, for it was like old times. They were certainly a fine lot of men and I know they are going to do a lot for France. Joffre was so pleased with the American people, and never tired telling of his visit. He told me he had received 30,000 letters. The American boys are very generous. They have such savory tobacco and they are perfectly splendid about sharing it with our men. My boys tell me that tobacco is so comforting when one is wounded."

Does this inspire you to do your bit, or are you one of those who always say: "Let George do it." The Telegraph fund welcomes your contribution and you will be glad that you made a little sacrifice when you receive a return acknowledgment from some grateful Yank.

Isaac S. Longenecker, Banker, Dies at Mt. Joy

Mount Joy, Pa., Feb. 6.—Isaac S. Longenecker, cashier emeritus of the Union National Bank and one of the leading businessmen of Mount Joy for the last half century, died yesterday.

He was born in Dauphin county, in what is now Conewago township, on January 3, 1835, and was a son of Abraham and Anna (Shenk) Longenecker, members of the Zion Children (Brinsler) denomination. He spent his early life on his father's farm and at the age of 15 entered Fultz's store, now Deodate, where he was a clerk for five years, after which he taught school for one year. In 1861 he purchased a store building at what was then known as Kelley's Corner, now Upper Lawn, but rented the building for other purposes and moved to Mount Joy the same year. For two years he served as clerk at the store of Peter Weidman and clerked in the Joseph B. Brubaker store.

Mr. Longenecker, with a number of other businessmen, started the Mount Joy Woolen Mills. After running a year the mill was shut down and Mr. Longenecker became clerk in the Union National Mount Joy Bank, and afterwards was chosen assistant cashier of the First National Bank of Mount Joy, and a few years later, in company with a number of prominent Elizabethtown men, started the Elizabethtown First National Bank, of which he later became the cashier, where he remained for five years. In 1890 he returned to Mount Joy to accept the position of cashier of the Union National Bank, where he remained for twenty-five years.

Mr. Longenecker was a Republican, serving for some time as councilman. His religious connection was with the United Brethren Church, where he had been an active member for many years. He is survived by his wife and one daughter, Mrs. John W. Eshleman, of Mount Joy. Four grandchildren also survive. Funeral services will be held on Friday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock from the home and at 2 o'clock at the United Brethren Church. Burial in Mount Joy Cemetery.

GOES HOME TO CUT WOOD

Millerstown, Pa., Feb. 6.—After visiting some time here with Mrs. Caldwell's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Ullsh, the Rev. and Mrs. R. S. Caldwell and children, of Higgaunum, Conn., have returned to their home. The return was made at this time that the Rev. Mr. Caldwell might during the first week in February cut from Connecticut forests his cord of wood. To conserve the coal supply in the New England state, the Governor requested all men to devote time sufficient to cut one cord of wood from the forests of that state.

GOVERNOR CALLS FOR SUPPORT OF DRY AMENDMENT

Lutheran Brotherhood Hears Chief Executive at Big Rally

Governor Martin G. Brumbaugh, in an address before the Lutheran Brotherhood Central of Harrisburg, in convention at Bethlehem Lutheran Church last night, delivered a scathing indictment of booze and the rum traffic. "Any man," said the Governor, "in this great Commonwealth of ours who does not have enough pure blood teeming in his veins to stand heart and soul back of the amendment ratifying total prohibition in this country is a traitor to all causes that are good and just."

The Governor spoke on the subject, "Giving Good Will to Men." "I would call myself a traitor in case I would knowingly sack a man who stood in the least measure for booze," he said.

Charles Long, a Chambersburg attorney, introduced the Governor and precluded his address with a brief talk.

The convening brotherhood is composed of men from the Lutheran churches of this city and vicinity. A short musical program by the members of the choir of Bethlehem Lutheran Church was one of the pleasing features of the evening's program.

A special meeting for the election of officers will be held in Zion Lutheran Church Thursday, February 14. Other business of the brotherhood will be discussed at the meeting. It was also decided last night to meet each month, in place of thrice each year, as heretofore was the custom.

Officers of the association are: Muser D. White, president; M. S. Plough, vice-president; Charles R. Short, secretary; Alfred Sutcliffe, treasurer.

Three Engines Off Track Tie Up Williams Valley

Lykens, Pa., Feb. 6.—Trains on the Williams Valley branch of the Philadelphia and Reading railroad were tied up yesterday on account of three engines being off the track between Lykens and Good Springs. The high winds during the night drifted the snow and it settled into a compact mass, so that the pony wheels of the engine jumped off the track. The schuykill and Dauphin trolley cars are also unable to run. The temperature at this place was eighteen degrees below zero yesterday morning.

REWARD FOR LIVE QUAIL
Newport, Pa., Feb. 6.—Paul R. Pluris, of Newport, has been authorized to pay twenty-five cents per pair for all quail brought to him from anywhere in Perry county during the present blizzard conditions, while the birds are in need of food. The birds will be returned to the locality from which they were brought as soon as the weather permits.

Sergeant Owens Takes Charge of Reserve Squad

Sergeant H. Morris Owens, appointed yesterday by Council, took charge of the reserve squad last night and was in charge of the force this morning from 4 to 8 o'clock when the regular day force of patrolmen went on duty.

By having an additional sergeant, Mayor Keister has accomplished one of his plans to increase the efficiency of the department, he says. The office heretofore had been in charge of a patrolman from 4 to 8 o'clock with no higher officer on duty. Under the new plan Chief Wetmore will be in the early part of the night, and Sergeant Owens will be at headquarters when the reserve squad is on duty in the early morning.

The appointment of Sergeant Owens, who was one of the uniformed officers, leaves another vacancy on the force. Applicants for appointment have until next Monday to fill applications with H. K. Keiser, chairman of the Civil Service Board. There are five vacancies to be filled.

Hummelstown, Pa., Feb. 6.—To-day the price of milk in Hummelstown soars to 10 cents a quart and that of cream to 40 cents a quart. Milkmen George Fromm and A. E. Martin arranged to raise the price the same day. They claim that the high cost of production and the price asked by the farmers necessitate the raise.

MRS. LAVINA DERR DIES

Liverpool, Feb. 6.—Mrs. Lavina Derr, widow of John Derr, of Hunters Valley, died suddenly Saturday after a few days' illness, of pneumonia at the age of 81 years. Funeral services were held to-day at Hunters Union Church, conducted by the Rev. C. M. Shaeffer. Five daughters survive.

This Will Remove Hair or Fuzzy Growths

(Toilet Tips)

A safe, certain method for ridding the skin of ugly, hairy growths is as follows: Mix a paste with some powdered delatone and water, apply to hairy surface about 2 minutes, then rub off, wash the skin and the hairs are gone. This is entirely harmless and seldom requires repeating, but to avoid disappointment it is advisable to see that you get genuine delatone.

"GOLDEN GLOVES" FOR NEW SOCIETY

"G. M. O. of G. G." Being Organized by Dr. John H. Fager

"G. M. O. of G. G." This is the mystic title of Dr. John H. Fager's newly organized society for children who want to be so good and kind that everybody will love them and thus make themselves happy. Naturalists, explorers, philosophers, Dr. Fager has selected for the company's slogan "Do unto others as you would that they should do to you." The first three initials of the title stand for Grand Mystic Order. The last two signify Golden Gloves. You would like to know what are golden gloves, but—well, you will have to join the Sunday school class department No. 2 Messiah Lutheran Church of which Dr. Fager has charge, before that secret is confided to you.

When one joins in with Dr. Fager, no matter how rank his disposition, he changes almost instantly. Very little pressure is needed. Example does the trick. For instance, there was one boy who never thought of anybody but himself, but the very day he got into the G. M. O. of G. G. he rushed out and stopped a street car for a woman and it is no easy job to halt one of the traction jugs. He has made a precise list of kind things that the members of his order have done the last week, and here are some of them:

Helped an aged man find a lost coin; washed dishes; brought up coal; helped our teacher to make our lesson a success; stopped a horse going away from a man in a store; stopped boys from fighting; helped automobile to get out of snow; saved little dog from being run down; helped old gentleman across the street and so saved him from being knocked down; gave seat to old lady in a Carlisle car; lifted an old lady who had fallen; helped my mother; allowed brother to read book that I wanted to read; shoveled snow rather than let mother do it; worked overtime without pay; stopped a street car for a woman.

Along with this feature of the tuition, Dr. Fager conducts general information tests which are modeled a good deal after the test used by the "Friends' Select School at Media. This is a wonderful informative series and many an adult would find himself stumped to make a correct reply to such questions as these:

Give two causes for the present sugar shortage? explain the term Bolsheviki? what is a boll, a weevil? Name the title of highest rank in the U. S. Army? Name the number of bones in the human body? Give author of "Charge of the Light Brigade"? Why do we lower transfoms in the school building?

The other day one of the questions put related to the definition of camouflage and a youngster gave this reply: "Making something look like what it ain't."

Says Coal Intended For Her Went Next Door

Mrs. R. C. Clouser, 1812 Boas street, has complained to the police that a bushel of coal delivered to her home during her absence was appropriated and paid for by Charles File, who lives next door. This, she says, left her family without coal over Sunday and the spigots in her house froze. The authorities were unable to quote her any law under which she might obtain redress.

WOMEN'S PART IN WAR

More than one-tenth of the married women of the United States were engaged in gainful pursuits in 1910, and over twenty-five per cent of all women sixteen years old or over, were wage-earners, business women, etc. Since the war the percentage has greatly increased. Many of such women are better adapted for work in shop, factory or office than are men if it were not for the sufferings, the burdens, and the weaknesses of the sex or the nervousness so often complained of.

It's a medicine that's made specially to build up women's strength and to cure women's ailments—an invigorating, restorative tonic, soothing cordial and bracing nerve; purely vegetable, non-alcoholic, and perfectly harmless. It regulates and promotes the proper functions of womanhood, and is a herbal tonic that improves digestion, enriches the blood, dispels aches and pains, melancholy and nervousness, brings refreshing sleep, and restores health and strength.

Here is a remedy that has proven its merits by nearly 50 years of approval. In the derangements, irregularities, and weaknesses peculiar to women, the "Favorite Prescription" numbers its testimonials of cures by the thousands. In tablet form 60c at drug stores.

LEWISTOWN, PA.—"After seeking in vain for health at the hands of doctors, I began treatment with Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. When I first began I was miserable. I was nervous and low spirited, also had woman's trouble. I could not sleep; in fact, I was just about as weak and low as I could be. I could scarcely drag myself around. Often despondent and with no inclination to do work of any kind, but with aid of the 'Prescription' I am once more able to enjoy life. I can work without pain or that weak and tired feeling. I can certainly give Dr. Pierce's medicine all the recommendation necessary."—MRS. D. E. HARSHBARGER, 4th St. and Highland Ave., Box 51.
