ROOSEVELT NOT OUT OF DANGER

COLONEL ROOSEVELT

President again until this afternoon. Mrs. Roosevelt and Mrs. Derby rejoined Mrs. Roosevelt at the hospital this forenoon. There were many callers, including George B. Cortlandt, who is private secretary at the White House. None was permitted to see the Colonel, however, serious, but not critical.

A sudden development of inflammation in the inner left ear was responsible for the hurried calling of a consultation of specialists today. This resulted in the issuing of a statement which in effect characterized the Colonel's condition as "serious, but not critical."

No formal statement was issued by the president. The following note was made public by Colonel Roosevelt's private secretary:
"Colonel Roosevelt had an abscess in both ears which were operated on in the forenoon. The Colonel passed a comfortable night, but in the morning inflammation had developed from his left ear into his internal ear. He has learned today that it is advisable to call in Dr. Gorham Bacon and Dr. Fred Whitely, eye and ear specialist, who went into consultation with Dr. Duval and the surgeon attending Colonel Roosevelt. In their opinion no further operations were indicated at present. While his condition is serious, nothing more is to be done than careful observation for the present."

First Operation Week Ago
After having undergone a minor operation for fistula at his home in Oyster Bay about a week ago, Colonel Roosevelt came to New York that he might be able to see his private physician, Tuesday night, at his hotel, he was seized with a secondary hemorrhage and Wednesday, on the advice of Dr. Walton Martin, underwent another operation for fistula. Shortly afterwards a specialist also removed an abscess from each of his ears.

After these operations last night a few minutes less than two hours and Wednesday night was passed by the former President in comparative ease.

Yesterday, however, the attending physicians discovered the development of inflammation in the inner ear but said for the present nothing would be done except the maintenance of careful observation of the patient.

During the day there were scores of callers at Roosevelt Hospital, among them George W. Perkins, former Mayor of New York, and Mitchell, former Mayor of New York. None of them was permitted to see the Colonel, Mrs. Longworth doing the talking for the family. In addition, scores of letters were delivered there for Colonel Roosevelt.

TO BE "SPIKE," IS PREDICTION

Even Democratic Forecast Spells Death of Measure in Committee
Washington, Feb. 8.—Predictions were made yesterday that the Senate committee on judiciary would not report the Overman bill, conferring upon the president the power to reorganize the government. A definite statement to this effect was made by the Democratic caucus members of the committee.

Organized Republican opposition to the bill is forecast. Senator Gallinger, Republican floor leader, arranged to-day for a caucus Saturday. A definite plan of opposition to the bill will then be outlined. It will be the first time since the Republican caucus since the United States entered the war.

Senator Overman said that the Judiciary committee would meet on Monday and appoint a subcommittee to consider the bill. He believes the measure will be reported to the Senate. The bill is expected to be introduced by the committee and of his own party assert his expectations are over-optimistic.

Senator Overman said that the Judiciary committee would meet on Monday and appoint a subcommittee to consider the bill. He believes the measure will be reported to the Senate. The bill is expected to be introduced by the committee and of his own party assert his expectations are over-optimistic.

Senator Penrose asserted he was vigorously opposed to the measure. It will have a hard time, he said, "This is a grave sentiment in the Senate that the President has been given enough power and, furthermore, it is felt that the measure would make new appointments without the advice and consent of the Senate."

Senator Smoot said it was hard to believe that the bill would pass. "No such bill ever will pass Congress," said he.

Mr. Penrose said to-day: "The bill is a very serious one. It confers practically unlimited power upon the President. I believe that great opposition will develop to this measure. It is a measure which is extremely doubtful. And I feel quite sure that a two-thirds vote cannot be obtained to invoke the cloture rule."

There is a growing opinion that the President has sufficient power already, and a good deal more power than he can properly use himself, given the emergency which is now in existence. There is no occasion for departing from the ordinary methods of procedure.

"The autocratic power already bestowed upon the President by the bill, and unwisely administered by him, are the source of a large part of our troubles to-day as is shown in the case of the fuel Administration. The President is not picking out expert men for these autocratic places; ignorance of the subject they are called upon to administer is the result of his appointments. It is their primary qualifications."

"Moreover, there is an increasing disposition in Congress not to permit any further appointments to important positions without confirmation by the Senate."

MUSICAL ACT BY GIRLS A FEATURE

Offering is Headline Attraction at Majestic and Pleases Audience
Another musical act even better than the one on the Majestic bill on Monday and Wednesday, is offered as a headline attraction for the last half of the week. The other offerings on the program are the usual comedy and song features, but the girls' musical act is the feature which has attracted the largest reception, getting applause after each number.

"Melody Garden," the Majestic's headline act, is one of the best of the best. The girls' musical offerings are of the type which will please the audience. The act was given an enthusiastic reception at all three theaters yesterday, and is presented by a sextet of girls musicians. They have arranged a program of catchy musical numbers, which they put over by arrangement. They play various brass instruments and also sing.
