

REFORESTING IS TO BE ADVANCED

Conklin Calls For Men to Work in the Woods During the Planting Season

The State of Pennsylvania will embark this spring on the most extensive reforestation plan it has ever attempted...

The plan is to reforest lands now owned by the state, many of which were cut out years ago and which will now be scientifically handled.

The state nurseries have about 21,000,000 trees, of which 8,000,000 must be planted unless there is to be serious loss, but owing to the number of foresters and woodsmen who have enlisted we need men to plant.

POTATOES HELD BACK ON FARMS

State and National Authorities Call Upon Farmers to Dispose of Their Holdings

According to reports about two-thirds of the entire potato crop of this country remained in the hands of the farmers and the dealers on January 1st, and the National Department of Agriculture is urging that farmers sell freely, and that the large dealers move their stocks rapidly, and that the retailer content himself with the smallest possible margin profit, realizing that he is now the most important factor in speeding up potato consumption. The Bureau of Markets of the State Department of Agriculture calls attention to the importance of looking after the seed potatoes that are to be used this year in a bulletin just issued.

The Bulletin says: "The Bureau urges that the farmers be extremely careful in making shipments during the next few weeks. Several complaints from farmers who had loaded cars and shipped to the city, only to find their potatoes frozen on arrival, have been received.

nothing is left undone that is necessary to insure safe arrival. It is evident that many bushels of potatoes must be consumed between now and seeding time if waste is to be prevented. It will be safer for the average farmer to sell his potatoes at a station instead of making shipments to be sold on arrival unless he understands the business.

THE GLOBE

THE GLOBE

This Is Get-Together Week For Father and Son

"Once Chums--Always Chums Tho' Wide Seas Part Them" Certainly---

you expect your son to develop into a fine, successful, self-reliant man. When he does, it will be because your friendliness and love aroused the right kind of ambition in him and spurred him on to success.

It's simply a case of character-building or heart-aches and tears afterwards.

One of the finest things any son can learn from his father is THRIFT and at present there is no better way by which the FATHER CAN SHOW THE SON HOW TO SAVE THAN RIGHT NOW DURING THE GLOBE'S ONE THOUSAND SUIT AND OVERCOAT CAMPAIGN.

That GLOBE CLOTHES are the best money can buy is unquestioned—a glance at these prices will tell a story of THRIFT better than volumes.
