ANOTHER CAMP AT GETTYSBURG

Captain Moore, Quartermas-

Adams County Farmer

Gettysburg, Pa., Feb. 14.—William Eckenrode, aged about 50 years, a farmer living along the Baltimore pike, about three miles from here, committed suicide Tuesday morning. He got up at 4 o'clock and went to the barn to do his work and feed the stock before bringing a son to town to his work at the furniture factory. About an hour later neighbors around the country were startled by loud screams and the violent ringing of the Eckenrode farm bell. Hastening to the place they saw Mr. Eckenrode hanging in the wagon shed. He had used a hitching rope to do the deed and had fastened it to a chain hanging from the rafters. The man had evidently stood on a bobsied and jumped off to his death. The roof of the barn on the farm fell in Sunday night from the weight of the snow, and the only reason that can be given for the act is worry over the financial loss sustained three sons and one daughter.

Liverpool, Pa., Feb. 14.—Following is the program which will be rendered by the Liverpool primary school under the direction of the teacher, Miss Puera B. Robison, at ter, Notified to Prepare For Reception of Troops

Gettysburg, Pa., Feb. 14.—It is now a certainty that Gettysburg will have another camp of soldiers during the summer, Captain Moore, the Quartermaster's detachment, having received official notice from the department at Washington to that effect. He is instructed to go ahead with all preparations, and while the order gives no intimation of when the first troops will arrive, it is expected that they will make their appearance much earlier than last year. It is believed, in fact, that some of Uncle Sam's fighting men will be sent here as soon as the snows of the winter have cleared away long enough to permit the draw of the West's the ground to be gotten in shape. Just what commands will be sent here is not indicafed.

A Sure Way To End Dandruff

There is one sure way that has never failed to remove dandruff at once, and that is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, just get about four ounces of plain, common liquid arvon from any drug store (this is all you will need), apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.
