

JEWISH WAR FUND HAS TWO OBJECTIVES

[Continued from First Page.] The benefit of welfare work which will prepare them morally for what they will encounter "over there;" and this is one phase of the Jewish efforts which will be touched upon Monday night at the Orpheum Theater by Dr. Nathan Krass of New York city.

through which $15,000 will be raised as Harrisburg's contribution to the national fund have been receiving many inquiries from People of Harrisburg and Dauphin county relative to the campaign itself and to Monday night's mass meeting.

Board, with Jacob Schiff, Louis Marshall, Nathan Strauss, Henry Morgenthau and Julius Rosenwald at the helm. Millions of dollars were spent by the joint distribution committee in 1917 at the unusual cost of only three-fourths of one per cent. The money is used to relieve Jewish suffering abroad and for welfare work in this country.

BREST-LITOVSK PARLEY ENDED

[Continued from First Page.] In no circumstances to be regarded as a peace offer, while it is pointed out by other papers that the Russian war theater was mentioned especially in the official army report of Tuesday, a Berlin telegram to the Koelnische Volks Zeitung of Wednesday says:

Press in Germany Is Hostile to Wilson

The Hague, Feb. 15.—Comment in the German press on President Wilson's last address is decidedly hostile in tone. Discussing the message, the semi-official Nord-Deutsche Allgemeine Zeitung, according to a telegram from Berlin, says: "We take note of President Wilson's assertion that he does not wish to interfere in a European dispute, but this assertion is not entirely reconcilable with his other statements regarding the participation of all parties in a discussion of disputed points. It is desirable that Mr. Wilson return to the old Monroe doctrine, which formerly was sacred to America."

Careless Use of Soap Spoils the Hair

Soap should be used very carefully, if you want to keep your hair looking its best. Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and ruins it. The best thing for steady use is just ordinary mild coconut oil (which is pure and greaseless), and is better than the most expensive soap or anything else you can use.

States, Germany and her allies are still disposed toward peace, but will not fight on unanimously until a peace corresponding to their requirements is achieved. President Wilson is accused by the Lokal Anzeiger and the Vossische Zeitung of Berlin, as wishing to go against Judge so that the coming peace will be an Anglo-American compact.

ICE MOVES OFF THE SUSQUEHANNA

[Continued from First Page.] reaches to the river bed. In some places the ice is twenty feet high. The gorge is worst in the channel between the east shore and McCormick's Island. The ferry to the city farm, which was pulled up the road way at the top of the ice breaking, was almost completely covered by the piled up ice.

Many gorges Small gorges are common in the river from where the ice broke. On the west shore below the city the ice is piled high in places, but there has been no property damage from high water, is the report. The ice moved out of the Juniata yesterday afternoon, causing the greatest damage reported. At the mouth of the Juniata it gorged so high that the Juniata bridge was moved several inches, it is said. The ice gorged so high that it scraped along the timbers of the bridge flooring. Rising water behind the gorge inundated a large part of the surrounding country, some girders and flooring of the Juniata bridge were broken. A clubhouse was carried away by the rising water and ice.

Mrs. Jacob Johnson, an invalid, who has been confined to her bed for a month, was removed from her home along the West Shore at the Juniata bridge in a rowboat, and carried to the home of her daughter, Mrs. Charles Johnson.

In the North Branch, the ice which gorged at Wilkes-Barre is now forcing its way down the stream toward Sunbury. The ice in the West Branch gorged at Jersey Shore, near the entrance of Pine Creek, yesterday, and the water is running behind the gorge. The ice has not yet broken at Williamsport.

The ice in the main stream and both its branches, like yet to pass Harrisburg before the danger of an inundation is past. The gorges in the river here will remain until they are pushed out by high water. The Federal Weather Bureau announced this morning that there will probably be enough snow water to-day to break up the ice in the branches and push it out of the entire river system. In case the ice does not pass out to-day the chances are that it will await another warm spell, as the temperature is expected to be far below freezing to-night. This will freeze the gorges and prevent the free running out of the river.

River men predict high water to-day, which will carry more of the ice toward Sunbury. The temperature from the stream. The temperature is expected to remain high, which may melt enough snow to carry the ice out entirely.

The State Water Supply Commission has been at work all night, and it was through their efforts that river men and River Front property owners were enabled to save all their property. Coal and sand men with barges along the river were up all night, and some of them experienced some exciting moments. A negro employed by Ray Steward, it is said, leaped out over the cracking, tearing ice and fastened a flat which had torn away from its moorings with a rope, thus saving his employer's one of his barges. None of the numerous coal and sand barges were reported destroyed.

UKRAINE PEACE IS FOR DOUBLE PURPOSE

[Continued from First Page.] which could be fulfilled by the application of the principle of self-determination, which is recognized as applying to Russian territory. Cholim, it is declared, is such a mixed country ethnographically that there cannot be a question of its belonging to Poland.

Opposition to the arrangement is combated by the statement, which declares it is unintelligible, inasmuch as the principle of self-determination is appropriate for all Russian territory and therefore for Russian Poland. It adds that the arrangement did not surprise the Poles, who never received a definite promise and who often derided the principle now applied to the demarcation of the frontier.

Cornerstone of Peace Structure "Peace with the Ukraine" is the statement continues, "the cornerstone of the entire peace structure and opposition to these arrangements cannot be regarded as compatible with the interests of the monarchy. In conformity with the stipulations of the treaty, all Ukrainian surplus grain is to be exported up to July 31. The committee has been formed to determine the amount of supplies and to what extent we can give assistance in this respect. Assistance will be given both technically and militarily. Military support will be required in central departments and junctions must be protected from attacks by bandits and the Bolsheviks. It is not a question of a military alliance, but a common organization for the protection of railway service and delivery of grain."

The statement then refers to the effort produced at Brest-Litovsk by the conclusion of peace with the Ukraine, and says: "Assume Pose of Oppressed" "Trotzky and his government, recognizing the possibility of continuing the war under the present circumstances, preferred to lay down their arms with a certain éclat and to assume the pose of an oppressed people. Russian tactics, however, appear to be the worst for them because we are in no wise bound by their declaration of war. We are still in a state of war with Russia, qualified at present by the temporary armistice."

Russians Furnished Excuse "The Russian government gave us opportunity to denounce the armistice and continue the war. We made a similar peace declaration. The Austro-Hungarian government has no reason to denounce the armistice."

"In Germany a more skeptical opinion appears to prevail, but an exchange of views should soon take place. On the other hand, it would be a great mistake on our part to announce a state of peace now and thus bind our hands. That would not do if, for example, we have to intervene to protect the Ukraine."

"Our relations with the Russian government, however, are not broken; neither are the Russians wish this. On the contrary they desire to continue diplomatic relations through the wireless and the commissions now sitting in Petrograd."

Frank R. Downey Heads Harrisburg Motor Club; Plan For Many Activities

The annual meeting of the Motor Club of Harrisburg, was held last night and the following officers were elected to serve the ensuing year: President, Frank R. Downey; first vice-president, H. W. Stubbs; second vice-president, H. H. Hofkin; third vice-president, L. H. Lamb; secretary-treasurer, J. Clyde Myton.

Board of governors to serve three years: F. H. Bomgardner, C. C. Cocklin, M. L. Dick. After the officers reports had been read, showing the excellent work accomplished by the club during the past year, the members present pledged themselves to go at once and secure additional members. A substantial sum was voted to be expended in any manner seeming fit to the officers in a concerted drive to place before all motorists the desirability of becoming members of the club. There are more than 2,900 owners of automobiles in the city of Harrisburg alone, of this number less than 800 are members of the club.

HAVE LITTLE PARTY The members of the kindergarten and lower primary classes of the Soler school gave an informal party yesterday morning in keeping with Valentine's Day. The little folks had a good time posting valentines and with the regular songs, marches and games. Miss Edna Sperkel is in charge of the kindergarten work.
