HEAR TRAVELOG ON OLD VIRGINIA

Historical Society of Dauphin County Learns Much of Interest

It was a delight to members of the Historical Society of Dauphin County to travel with Mrs. Joseph A. Thomp-son, of Paxtang, through old Virginia, last evening, stopping at many points of historical and literary inpoints of historical and literary in-terest. The Mary Washington home, Jamestown, the old St. John's Church on Church Hill, Richmond, where Patrick Henry made his famous speech closing with "Give Me Liberty, or Give Me Death," and Hollywood Cemetery, where so many celebrities of the nation are resting after stren-uous lives spent in their country's service, were all graphically depicted by Mrs. Thompson, who recently made the trip.

of thanks were given both speakers by the pleased audience.

President Theodore B. Klein, who has been ill, was able to send a letter of greeting to the society which was read by the secretary, and Abram Fortenbaugh, who presided, accepted with pleasure from Mrs. Mabe Cronise dones, and old may for the compared with that of to-day seems to be another country entirely. Mrs. Jones gave current events and after the meeting members and their friends met socially for a brief time.

MRS. I. B. OAKLEY TO SPEAK HERE

dress Civic Club Monday on Women of Japan

Mrs. Imogen B. Oakley, one of the most interesting speakers of the state, is coming to Harrisburg next Monday to address the Civic Club on "Women of Japan." Miss Grace Faulkner, better known as "Deborah Franklin" of the Philadelphia Press, will tell briefly what she thinks about "Civic Work Which Women Should Perform To-day." Both women are well posted on their subjects and the program promises to be one of the best of the year for the Civic Club.

The meeting beginning promptly at 3.30 o'clock will be preceded by a gathering of the outdoor department at 2.45, when their officers for the year will be elected. The educational and municipal department will meet at 3 o'clock, as usual.
