CARLISLE BUYS $12,000 TRUCK

Council Authorizes Purchase of New Motor Apparatus for Empire Company

Carlisle, Pa., Feb. 19.—At a special meeting held last evening the Carlisle council voted for the purchase of a new Seagraves aerial hook and ladder truck for the Empire Hook and Ladder Company at a cost of about $12,000, to be financed by the sale of bonds authorized last fall. This completes the motorization of the local department at a cost of approximately $50,000. The purchase of the truck, which is to be delivered next summer, was held up by a misunderstanding with the state over the amount of the town's debt.

The new truck will be a Seagraves make, costing $12,000, with a 65-foot aerial extension ladder, which is raised by springs; 4-cylinder motor, self-starter and electric lights, with a powerful searchlight, twelve other ladders ranging from eighteen to forty feet and a life-saving net.

SALVATION ARMY CAMPAIGN. Carlisle, Pa., Feb. 19.—With several days yet to go, the Salvation Army campaign here has passed the $600 quota set and it is expected that by Friday the amount will be close to 40 per cent. above what was desired. The drive took the form of a purely voluntary receipt of subscriptions and local churches aided by special contributions. Adjutant Mars, of the Carlisle branch, is in charge.

To Remove Dandruff

Get a small bottle of Danderine at any drug store for a few cents, pour a little into your hand and rub well into the scalp with the finger tips. By morning most, if not all, of this awful scurf will have disappeared. Two or three applications will destroy every bit of dandruff; stop scalp itching and falling hair.—Adv.

BIG FOOD-SAVING CAMPAIGN OPEN

Cumberland Safety Committee and Women's Defense Unit Arrange Features

Carlisle, Pa., Feb. 19.—The Public Safety Committee and Cumberland county unit of the Women's Defense Committee has arranged special features in connection with the campaign to show the need of drastic conservation of the food supply to win the war.

To-night a big meeting will be held here when the need will be brought home. The speakers will be Miss Susanne Silvercrucze, a Belgian, who will tell of the conditions in her home country; Lieutenant Sutton, of the English army, a veteran of the Gallipoli and Flanders campaigns, and Charles J. Hepburn, Philadelphia lawyer, head of the local department of the state food administration.

Special trains and cars from all parts of the valley will bring a large crowd here. The new Community Chorus will appear for the first time to-night.

The women's body has arranged for a series of demonstrations of wartime cooking which opened here to-day.

The domestic science department of the Carlisle Indian School was in charge to-day preparing and serving meals along the conservation lines. Carlisle High School girls will alternate with them. The Carlisle Indian orchestra furnished music during the afternoon.

FIRE DESTROYS DWELLING

Blain, Pa., Feb. 19.—The house of Martin Robinson in Jackson township, near Ball Run schoolhouse, was destroyed by fire on Friday afternoon. The fire was discovered by Mrs. Robinson, who was sitting in the room sewing, but had gained too much headway to put out. Mr. Robinson was away from home at the time. Most everything was burned except the canned fruit and potatoes in the cellar which was saved by neighbors in throwing snow and ice on the burning floors.

Well-Known Miller Dies From Results of Injuries

JOSEPH E. STRETCH

Mechanicsburg, Pa., Feb. 19.—Joseph E. Stretch died last evening at his home, 231 East Main street, after an illness resulting from a fall sustained the latter part of August, when he broke his hip while at work. He was an employe of the Hoffer & Garman mill at Harrisburg until incapacitated for work. Mr. Stretch was 53 years old and a member of the First United Brethren Church and Integrity Council, No. 197, American Mechanics. He was born at Hall, York county, but lived here forty-eight years in his late home. His wife and two children survive, as follows: William G. Stretch, of Harrisburg, and Mrs. J. H. Brenneman, of Shiremanstown. The funeral service will be held on Thursday afternoon at 1 o'clock at the home, conducted by the Rev. E. C. B. Castle. Burial will be made in the Mechanicsburg cemetery.

Harper Corner in Carlisle Bought For Apartments

Carlisle, Pa., Feb. 19.—Announcement was made to-day by Dr. Guy Carleton Lee, head of the Carlisle Chamber of Commerce, of arrangements for the biggest real estate change here in years. Dr. Lee has purchased the old Harper corner here, near the center of the town, and will add to it adjoining properties, the whole to be a big apartment building, to consist of twenty-seven apartments of from five to eight rooms. Work has begun on the changes. P. G. Fahnstock Jr., of Harrisburg, is the architect in charge.

MRS. ANNIE M. SHEARER DIES

Carlisle, Pa., Feb. 19.—After a short illness Mrs. Annie M. Shearer, aged 53, widow of the late S. E. Shearer, for many years head of the county schools and later city superintendent in Carlisle, died here on Sunday of heart trouble aggravated by pneumonia. Mrs. Shearer was active in affairs of the First Lutheran Church and Sunday School and was prominently identified with the campaign for a new hospital in Carlisle. One son, Dr. William R. Shearer, a local druggist, survives.

MOTORMAN DISCOVERS FIRE

Shiremanstown, Pa., Feb. 19.—About 10:30 o'clock Saturday night the chimney at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. S. R. Morgret in East Main street caught fire from the overheated stove. The blaze was discovered by a motorman on a streetcar, after which the Shiremanstown fire company responded and extinguished the blaze, which burned the chimney corner, doors and a mantle. Considerable damage was done by the water. This was the second occasion to use the new firetruck.

MISS MAGGIE THOMAS DIES

Hummelstown, Pa., Feb. 19.—Miss Maggie C. Thomas, daughter of Constable and Mrs. Jacob Thomas, died at her home in West Second street on Sunday morning of dropsy and heart disease, aged 35 years. She is survived by her parents, two sisters, Mrs. Isaac Levensong, of Hummelstown, and Mrs. Lesley Book, of Highspire, and one brother, Harry Thomas. Funeral services will be held from the home to-morrow morning at 9:30, the Rev. A. S. Lehman officiating. Burial in Hummelstown Cemetery.

BOYER MEMORIAL DAY

Halifax, Pa., Feb. 19.—Monday, February 25, has been set aside by borough council for the people of Halifax to pay tribute to their benefactor and friend, the late William Harris Boyer, whose liberal gift of $20,000 made possible the erection of the beautiful public school building. The public schools are preparing a suitable program to be given in the auditorium on Friday evening, February 22.

Women Who Register Must Disclose Their Age

Albany, N. Y., Feb. 19.—Women who register this year for special elections, including local option elections, must tell their ages. This was decided by the Senate to-day after Majority Leader Brown, long a connoisseur of the biggest real estate change here in years, had made a futile attempt to relieve "as a matter of gallantry" women over 30 years of age of the necessity of recording their ages on registration lists.

Colored Society Petitions Wilson to Extend Leniency

Washington, Feb. 19.—President Wilson was urged to-day by a committee from the New York branch of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People to extend clemency to the five negro soldiers of the Twenty-fourth United States Infantry, sentenced to be hanged for the part they played in the riots at Houston, Texas, in August last.

CHANGES IN WATER PUMP PLANNED BY HASSLER

Slight changes will be made in the mechanism on the 12,000-gallon pump before it is put in operation permanently again. Commissioner Hassler said to-day. During the last days of the winter, the pump was determined whether all the parts are in good working order. By using the two old pumps and the electric machine installed recently plenty of water is being pumped out of the parts for the permanent connection for the electric pump, with the exception of the 16-inch pipe, have been received.

Couldn't Seem to Shake It But Tanlac Quickly Chased It. Harry Buxton, the well-known barber at the Royal Shop, 12 North Third street, Harrisburg, Pa., caught a cold.

"I dosed myself in the usual way but old Mr. Cold he hung right on and refused to budge. 'I did everything I could to chase him, but nothing doing, he stayed right on the job, morning, noon and night, and he got me worried. I was feeling pretty mean and just a bit worried. 'Then I happened to hear about Tanlac, and thinks I, I'll give it a trial maybe it will do the trick. Mr. Cold he did. And old Mr. Cold he ran like a scared rabbit from that rid me of this cold, for it had made me feel about 100 per cent. better than I usually feel. I'm in great shape, wonderful appetite, and I feel energetic all day long. Tanlac is sure great stuff.' Tanlac is now being introduced here at Gorgas Drug Store, 216 North Second street, in the P. R. R. Station; in Carlisle at W. G. Stephens' Pharmacy; Elizabethtown, Albert W. Caine Greencastle, Charles E. Carl; Middletown, Colin S. Hun Press Furnishes Reading Public With Stories Devoid of Truth

New York, Feb. 19.—The German reading public is being fed upon such reports about the American troops in France as the following, which is circulated as a Geneva dispatch by a leading German news agency: "In consequence of the increasing number of excesses by American soldiers in France, and particularly in Paris, the American Government has stationed in France a large number of policemen in plain clothes, who beat up with rubber clubs, loaded with lead, all disorderly American soldiers. Paris papers report that this measure has caused many incidents of the public taking the side of soldiers burdened with such brutal brutality."

HEROIC MOTHER SAVES CHILDREN

Twins Crawl Under Rug to Escape Flames in Their Home

Waynesboro, Pa., Feb. 19.—Fire on Saturday afternoon destroyed the double concrete dwelling house at Rouzeville, near Pen-Mar, belonging to Calvin E. Brown, a merchant, and occupied by Crawford Bumbaugh, entailing a loss of $1,000 to Mr. Brown, and $800 to Mr. Bumbaugh. The fire occurred while Mrs. Bumbaugh was at a neighbor's after a bucket of water. Before going she had left her three small children—twins, Crawford and May—and a baby one year old. When she returned she discovered smoke issuing from the kitchen where she had left the children, and being unable to get the kitchen door open she ran to the front of the house and smashed in a window with her hands, badly lacerating it. She succeeded in taking out the baby from a gocart, and upon her return found the twins gasping for breath and unconscious. The children had crawled into a corner and had pulled a rug over their faces in an attempt to protect themselves from the smoke. A physician was summoned who, some time, revived them. Mr. Bumbaugh lost all his furniture and clothing.

Getting into the stride

When a young fellow starts out in life he gets his "bumps." Every once in a while a severe jolt fairly takes him off his feet.

The older he gets and the bigger he grows the more his requirements and greater his obstacles.

If his path were a "bed of roses" from the start it's a question whether he'd make much of himself.

His difficulties reap for him great profit—which he turns to good account by preparing to overcome his future stumbling blocks.

In time he falls into his stride.

When a Conductor or Motorman starts out on his first run he's got plenty to learn.

His first "bumps" seem like big ones to him and sometimes are greatly magnified when he looks at himself through the eyes of a passenger.

But as time goes on and he "gets on to the ropes" of his work he becomes proficient and renders valuable service to the public, the company and himself.

The war is constantly calling more men to the colors and takes our experienced men.

New men are being constantly put on the cars and it takes time to train them.

A considerate passenger will help them immeasurably to get into their stride.
