

SALOONS TO BE THING OF PAST IN 18 MONTHS

Congressmen Address Men of Market Square Presbyterian Church

Declaring that in eighteen months there will not be a saloon in the United States, M. Clyde Kelly, representative of the Thirtieth Congressional district of Pennsylvania, addressed more than 200 men at a mass meeting in the Market Square Presbyterian Church last night.

Speaking of the war, Representative Kelly said: "Without your help the mailed fist of America will be paid." Mr. Kelly pointed out that this is a war between conflicting ideals, the ideal of the Divine right of kings on one side, and the ideal of the brotherhood of man, on the other.

He told how the United States has rid itself of the stigma of carrying on the war by appropriations of the many adjustments made during the war, he used as an example the railroad bill, placed under one head the 251 railroads in the country.

Congressman W. Frank James, of the Twelfth district of Michigan, also spoke.

The men of the Market Square Presbyterian Church were the guests of the Session last night. The Session is composed of Edward Bailey, Judge S. J. M. McCarrell, John DeGray, Samuel Fleming, J. Henry Spicer, R. W. Fair and E. J. Stackpole.

The women of the church served refreshments. There were songs during the evening, John R. Henry acting as chorister, and Gwilym Watkins acting as pianist.

German Plot to Corner Wool Barked by U. S.

New York, Feb. 26.—Alleged to be agent in the United States for German interests which have been seeking to corner the world's wool market, Eugene Schwert, a wealthy wool merchant of New York and Boston, was arrested here as an enemy alien and will be interned.

Schwert's son, Eugene, Jr., employed by Charles J. Edward of Philadelphia, is said by the authorities here to have traveled through South America, apparently for the purpose of purchasing wool.

Although posing as a Belgian citizen, Schwert, Sr., was in fact born in Munster, Germany. He resided in Belgium, but came to the United States in 1914 at the time of the German bombardment of Antwerp.

Schwert's alleged activities were disclosed to the Federal authorities by Attorney General Lewis, of New York, Schwert's name having appeared in the correspondence of Hugo Schmidt, banker and alleged paymaster in the Bolo Pasha case, which the Attorney General investigated.

According to Deputy Attorney General Alfred L. Becker, Schwert was in correspondence with H. F. Albert, former financial agent here for the German government.

The plan of Schwert and his associates, according to the attorney general, was to minimize the effects of a possible British economic embargo against Germany during the war by making it possible for German interests in America to hoard their great stocks of wool, which it was intended to send to Germany when peace came.

Can't Buy Flour, So He Steals It and Pays For It

Scranton, Feb. 26.—According to report made the Government agents by S. A. R. Tucker, general manager of an imported flour concern, he has discovered an "honest thief."

The "thief" in question carried off twenty-one sacks of flour from a freight car in the railroad yards at Dunmore and, after loading his wagon, placed $126 in bills in a prominent spot of the car so that the owners of the flour could see it. Appended was this note: "When I backed up my wagon to take out door of the car was open. I did not break the seal."

The flour was in 100-pound sacks. The "thief" paid at the rate of $12 a barrel.

JITNEY DRIVER WINS HIS POINT

Machine Guns Secured For New Pennsylvania Reserve Militia

The Public Service Commission has granted Harry Farley the privilege of operating a jitney on the mail route he covers in the vicinity of Hazleton, dismissing objections filed by the Lehigh Traction Co., and John Collins, who also operates a jitney.

The Traction Co., alleged that he had been operating as a common carrier without authority and he promptly applied for a certificate, to which the company protested, alleging that it furnished adequate transportation. The Commission finds that some sections do not have adequate transportation and that Farley can fit in passenger business with his carrying of the mails.

Collins' complaint was dismissed because he had filed rules and regulations of the Commission. The Commission order covers right to haul passengers on the route of Hollywood, the shaft and various places covered by the mail route of the applicant.

The opinion governs the case of Joseph Tramma in the same district.

Both are required to operate under the 1916 rules for jitneys and to display signs attesting the fact they have a State certificate.

Machine Guns Procured—Adjutant General Beary has secured sixteen machine guns from manufacturers for the arming of the Reserve Militia. These guns will be issued to the machine gun detachments, four going to each of the regimental detachments and four to the detachment of the cavalry squadron.

The guns will be issued as soon as the detachments are organized and mustered into service. In addition to the muster in at Philadelphia this week units will be mustered at Chester, Coropopolis, Media and Reading.

Millions Increase—Certificates of notification of increase of debt or stock amounting to millions have been filed with the Public Service Commission by these utilities: West Penn Power Co., Pittsburgh, notes $1,500,000; Wilkes-Barre Connecting Railroad Co., Scranton, bonds, $2,170,000; Montgomery Water Co., Montgomery, bonds, $2,000,000; Home Electric Co., Coudersport, bonds, $22,000; State Centre Electric Co., Clearfield, bonds, $7,000; The Wilkes-Barre Co., Wilkes-Barre, bonds, $266,000; Mahoning and Shenango Railway and Light Co., Newcastle, preferred stock, $85,000; South Pittsburgh Water Co., Pittsburgh, bonds, $3,000; Lehigh and Hudson River Railway Co., Philadelphia, common stock, $380,000; The Wilkes-Barre Co., Wilkes-Barre, preferred stock, $300,000.

Ruling on Fisheries—Commissioner Nathan R. Buller, has announced a ruling that with exception of trout and black bass, fish of varieties caught in Pennsylvania inland waters may be sold in this State if caught in other States. The prohibition extends only to sale of such fish when taken in inland waters of Pennsylvania. This action was announced following a conference at Columbus Barracks. The medical department call is still open, it was stated. Movement of drafted men camps was reported as progressing according to schedules.

Attended Muster—Adjutant General Beary was in Philadelphia last night to attend muster in of new Reserve Militia companies.

Gilliland in Charge.—D. S. H. Gilliland, former State Veterinarian, has been appointed a major in the United States service and placed in charge of the laboratory for veterinary service established by the Government at the University of Pennsylvania.

Mr. Christy Here.—Walter J. Christy, of the Pittsburgh Gazette-Times, was here yesterday for a short visit.

Attending Conference.—Karl E. Lohmann, chief engineer of the Bureau of City Planning, is attending the National Conference of City Planners at Philadelphia.

Returned From Raleigh.—Lieutenant J. J. Mackey, of the state draft headquarters, has returned from Raleigh, N. C., where he was called by the death of his sister.

Farmers Represented in Food Control Board

Philadelphia, Feb. 26.—Howard Heinz, Federal Food Administrator of Pennsylvania, has announced the appointment of Chester J. Tyson, of Floradale, Adams county, and Morris T. Phillips, of Pomeroy, Chester county, as farmers' representatives in the Food Administration and the Food Supply Department of the Committee on Public Safety.

In a message to the farmers of Pennsylvania, in which he outlines the policy of the new appointees, Mr. Tyson said: "We are called upon to grow more food this year than ever, although with less help and with increased expenses. Sometimes we feel we are called upon to do this without promise of adequate reward. If these difficulties are real, let us consider them as personal enemies, and let us meet them one at a time and overthrow them as our part in this world's struggle. Let us prove to the world what we already know to be true—that no more loyal and patriotic citizens exist than the farmers of Pennsylvania."

"The Food Administration realizes the difficulties confronting the farmers and it stands ready to help and encourage them in any way possible. We invite you to bring to us your real troubles and to forget your minor ones. The Food Administration asks you to remember that times and conditions are abnormal. To meet these conditions it will become necessary to enforce rules and regulations which in some instances may seem foolish and at first glance unjust. Do not condemn, but just help us with your counsel and advice to avoid mistakes."

Explosive License System Working

The state system for licensing of persons handling explosives which has been worked out in conjunction with the National Government, is now operative. The departments of the Fire Marshal, Labor and Industry Commissioner, the Attorney General, Commissioner of Health, Chief of Mines and Superintendent of Police have arranged for a plan of close co-operation, while the licenses will be issued by clerks of county courts only to persons known to be reputable and loyal. The penalties are very severe.

The federal law applies not only to explosives themselves, but to ingredients. The vendors or users of the explosives or chemicals contained in the following list must have a license: Ammonium nitrate, blasting powder, blasting caps, all classes of explosive caps, electric blasting machines, fireworks, fulminates, gun-cotton, nitro cellulose exceeding 10.18 per cent. nitrogen, nitro glucose, nitroglycerine (except in official U. S. pharmacopoeia solution or in form of pills or granules containing not more than 1.50 of a grain each), nitro manite, nitro sugar, ammonium picrate, smokeless powder, trinitrotoluol (triton), trinitronaphthalene, trinitroresol, chlorate powders, detonating fuses, detonators, dynamites, electric blasting caps, flashlight powders, all varieties of fuses, gunpowder and gunpowder mixtures (except small arms or shot-gun cartridges), nitro glycol, nitro starch, permissible explosives, picrates, squibs, tetranitromethylamine, tetranitroaniline.

These ingredients are included: Bichromates, chlorates, chromates, nitrates, nitric acid, perchlorates, perborates, permanganates, peroxides and phosphorous.

LONDON ON CARD RATION

London, Feb. 26.—The new plan of food distribution went into effect yesterday and every person who desired to make purchases of meat, butter or margarine was required to produce a ration card.

The food ministry announces that no complaints have been received, and that the plan is working smoothly. Persons of the poorer classes appear to be well pleased with the change, because they are no longer compelled to stand in long lines at the markets.

The restaurants and hotels offered meat dishes for luncheon as usual, but few purchased them. At one of the largest restaurants only four meat orders were served, and at others few, if any, were dispensed. As butter and margarine virtually disappeared long ago in the restaurants, the rationing plan is little noticed, except in homes where the distribution is more even.
