

CITY FOOD SUPPLY IS AMPLE, EXCEPT SUGAR

(Continued from First Page.) week by the food administration of Dauphin county. While the supply of sugar is short to-day, Food Administrator Donald McCormick pointed out that his inventory is of the wholesalers' supplies only, and that the amount of sugar among retailers and householders is not short. The amount of sugar on hand varies daily, Mr. Mc-

Cornick said, and actual account of it cannot be taken. He said the sugar situation will improve. The amount received by the wholesalers is quickly distributed among the retailers. Mr. McCormick's survey shows 2,018,700 pounds of staple food-stuffs in the hands of wholesalers. The amount held by retailers is slightly more than the wholesalers' supply. In the case of meats the supply held by the retailers is lower than that held by wholesalers. The supply of potatoes could not be totaled, but it is said the supply is normal. More potatoes are en route to local dealers. The amounts of the various staples follows: Flour, 190,000 pounds. Corn meal, 24,000 pounds. Oat meal and rolled oats, 42,000 pounds. Beans, 132,000 pounds. Rice, 32,000 pounds. Canned goods, 551,000 pounds. Meat, more than 1,034,000 pounds (supply for a month or more). Lard, 13,700 pounds.

NO COAL TO STOCK UP WITH ON APRIL 1

(Continued from First Page.) coal on hand to supply every one as much as he cares to order, and that dealers will be ready to take orders for next winter's coal supply. While shipments of coal have improved slightly during the last two weeks and will continue to improve, the supply will not become such that the dealers will have an unlimited amount on hand to fill customers' orders.

As a means of taking care of the demand for coal after April 1, it is said that all orders taken prior to that date, which are not delivered by that time, will become void at that time. Dealers have in some cases been requested not to take orders after April 1 to stock their customers for periods exceeding thirty days.

Guard Against Hoarding That coal for next winter will be sold by the dealers on a co-operative basis, in order that no consumption of coal will be hoarded.

er hoards more than his share, is conceded by most of the dealers in this city to-day. Beginning April 1, it is likely that before an order is delivered to a customer he will have to fill out a card enumerating such facts as the size of the house to be heated, and the amount of coal used annually. This system will likely supplant the coal card system now used by the dealers. Plans now being worked out by the coal dealers and the local fuel administration, call for a central coal bureau where these cards will be delivered by the dealers for comparison and indexing. Much of the coal sold during the coming year will be through this central office. The card index system, it is said, will index every house and the amount of coal used annually for each. In this way, hoarding will be averted and various members of one household will be unable to secure more than their proper share of coal for their house by ordering from several dealers. The federal supervision of coal-selling during the coming coal-selling months is to prevent a recurrence of the coal famine that threatened national disaster to the nation last winter.

Enormous Necessity For Shipping Is Not Realized, Declares Admiral Bowles

Philadelphia, March 1.—If cargo ships contracted for by the Government are to be finished on schedule time, something must be done at once to insure the delivery of the fuel orders of materials for this purpose. This statement was made to-day by Rear Admiral Francis T. Bowles, who is in charge of the Emergency Fleet program at Hog Island.

Admiral Bowles said that a conference had been called in Washington to represent the views of the Administration, Shipping Board and the railroads to settle the matter of priority orders. "We cannot build too many ships and we cannot build them too fast," he declared. "Priority orders should immediately be made superior to any other industrial authority. My feeling is that an enormous necessity for shipping is not appreciated by the diverse authorities controlling these matters." "Men work better when they are not smoking," Admiral Bowles said in announcing that he had issued an order prohibiting smoking in the Hog Island shipyard.

MEYER'S CONDITION SERIOUS Boston, March 1.—George von L. Meyer, formerly Secretary of the Navy, who has been seriously ill at his home here for three weeks, is suffering from a tumor of the liver and his condition to-day was regarded as serious, it was announced by Dr. Henry Jackson, Mr. Meyer's physician.

The stamps are even more desirable than Liberty Bonds, Mr. Bendere said, and he said they had the advantage over Liberty Bonds as an investment in that they can be purchased any time a man, woman or child has a quarter for a stamp. They can be redeemed, too, any time the holder has the necessary stamps to get his money back and the Government will pay 3 per cent. for the temporary loan. It is Mr. Bendere's opinion that the Thrift Stamps always will be a little better than the Liberty Bonds because the Government has taken pains to see that they are not all gobbled up by people with plenty of money. His rule having been made that nobody may own more than $1,000 worth at any time.

Wonderful Work in Pennsylvania Wonderful response is being made in Pennsylvania to the offer of these stamps by the Government, Mr. Bendere said. He expected every county to go "over the top" before the year is out. "When once a man, woman or child gets the Thrift Stamp habit there is no stopping them," he said. "They realize this is the best way of saving ever devised and they go in for it strong. The thing to do is to get the first stamp into the purchaser's hands. After that he does the rest."

Mr. Bendere said that everywhere Americans are responding to the call for war service, but what we at home are doing is as nothing compared to the sacrifices of these boys in France. He told this little story to illustrate the point: "I want to tell you," he said, "how a close personal friend of mine, a lad I had known from his childhood, met the call. At the outset of the war he went to France and joined the flying squadrons. With his French pilot he was an expert observer and just prior to one of the great drives General Pe-taine sent him across the enemy lines for observation purposes. "My friend and his French associate had just about finished their work when half a dozen German Fokkers circled in the air. They were speedy craft and it was evident they would soon overtake the French machine. Realizing this, the Frenchman and his friend let out all the speed they had. Still the Germans were gaining.

"Finally as the Fokkers crept up the French pilot, who was lighted up by its machine gun and its valuable instruments, but still the Fokkers came on. Happily the French machine was within its own line of sight still safe. Suddenly the French bird shot forward with a tremendous speed that the driver could not understand. It caught the pursuing enemy and reached its own line in safety.

"But the French driver did not know until he landed and was told by the men in stases from below that his companion, my friend, to make certain that the valuable information the French had gained should not be lost, climbed over the edge of the machine and, suspending himself by his hands 5,000 feet in the air, let go, to lighten the machine, increase its speed and send it safely to its base."

Mr. Bendere is a pleasing and forceful speaker and this recital had a marked effect on the committee. A. Boyd Hamilton, Charles E. Landis, Dean M. Hoffman and G. M. Steinmetz, publicity committee; Arthur D. Bacon, chairman, Rotary Club committee; Frank Babbler, general manager of the Bethlehem Steel Company at Steelton, chairman for that plant. Others present were Christian W. Lynch, John E. V. Everett and John F. Dapp, all of whom have been prominently identified with the Thrift Stamp campaign here and who will have a part in the formation of Thousand Dollar Clubs, the organization of women's campaign committees and the prosecution of the campaign in many ways.

Banks, stores, industries, churches, schools and even every home in the county will be asked to do their part. The committee is going to work harder than ever and is enthusiastic over the possibilities.

CENSORSHIP IS "LAMENTABLE"

(Continued from First Page.) possible about the activities of the expeditionary forces. American officers in France cannot understand the present censorship methods, General March said, adding:

Should Expect Casualties "I know of no gentle method of conducting a war of this magnitude and no army can expect not to have somebody hurt."

"The American forces are remarkable for their morale and health," he declared. "They are keen about the game. Those on the battlefield now, and the reserves, too, are so well trained in modern warfare that they can handle themselves with entire credit to the United States. I inspected the troops in line just before I left France, and they are extraordinarily cheerful and contented, notwithstanding the mud and the German shells."

Their health is splendid. There is no sickness and there is better morale than there was at the Mexican border where I was stationed before going abroad. The spirit of the Americans is splendid and every man is happy. A great many of the men take it as a lark, the majority never before having been outside the United States and some never even outside their own states.

It is a great advantage to the men that everything is new and interesting to them. This serves to keep up their spirits. General March was accompanied by Major Generals S. D. Sturgis and F. H. French.

KILLED IN ACCIDENT Baltimore, March 1.—Edward Cary Eichelberger, 27 years old, a former member of the Baltimore American's staff recently commissioned a second lieutenant in the Naval Aviation Corps has been killed in a seaplane accident in foreign service. His mother, Mrs. Eichelberger, has received this information for the government.

Enthusiasm Everywhere Greets New Head of Republican Committee

New York, March 1.—Prior to luncheon to-day at the Bankers' Club, as the guest of William H. Wilcox, his predecessor in office and attended by prominent Republican leaders, William H. Hays, chairman of the Republican National Committee, Senator Johnson, of California, who announced he enjoyed a "most delightful visit." Later he said: "We have absolute faith in what Mr. Hays will accomplish. We are all with him."

Mr. Hays said the conference indicated "a further knitting of all Republicans and complete unanimity in the great work to be done for the country. We are all needed. The enthusiasm I have encountered is simply wonderful."
